Kieffers Named Berks Farm Family Of The Year

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

FLEETWOOD (Berks Co.) — Ask anybody about The Cookery — the tent filled with Grange members from around the region cooking up tasty treats every year at the Reading Fair. It's a mainstay of the annual countywide festivity.

But it's not often some of those who spend weekends preparing for the fair get the recognition they deserve.

Except for one family. For the past five years, Debbie Kieffer's family has worked diligently, preparing some of the best whoopie pies, including plain, mint, and strawberry, ever tasted at the baked goods stand in the Grange tent. For all the family's dedication to the Marion Grange, they were honored on Wednesday night by the Reading Fair.

Debbie and Mark Kieffer, Bethel, together with daughters Ann Melissa, 12, and twins Vicki Sue, 9, and Andrew Scott, 9, farm about 305 acres on their dairy in Tulpehocken Township. Every day, the family contributes to milking 85 (mostly registered) Holsteins, including about the same number of replacement stock. Mark said that Ann and Andrew help with the milking and Vicki and Andrew help feed the cats and the calves.

Debbie said she helps set up the fair display on Sunday, the day before the fair opens. She said she helps "when I can. I don't know if I'll be down helping this year or not, because we're going to be filling (silos) that week."

Debbie operates the tractor which drives the wagons back and forth from field to silo.

"I'm pretty well limited with my time, with everything else I am in."

But Debbie assures the fair that "I'll be there when I can."

Mark said that his family competed against three others for the honor. The family was nominated by the Marion Grange.

The Kieffer kids will also be competing during the fair. Andrew

Nutrient Management Board Advances Rule-Making

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The 15-member Nutrient Management Advisory Board to the State Conservation Commission elected new officers during its eleventh monthly meeting held Wednesday in the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture building in Harrisburg.

The members elected Joel Rotz, a Franklin County dairyman, as chairman, replacing Donald Bollinger, of Kleinfeltersville, who served as chairman since being elected during the board's first meeting in Harrisburg.

The advisory board is a council representing those interests involved and concerned with the application of nutrients mainly derived from agricultural operations, researchers from a land grant university, and two nonfarming citizens.

Created by the state's Nutrient Management Act, the advisory board's members are appointed by the State Conservation Commission to serve 3-year terms (except for the first board which has staggered terms) to review and comment on proposed regulations for the administration of the Nutrient Management Act.

George Robinson, of Snyder County, who represents the feed

Peace And Plenty Wins Maryland Holstein Futurity

The winner of the 1994 Maryland Holstein Futurity is Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine, shown here with, from left, Dennis Patrick, judge with his children (twins); Jami Todd, Maryland farm queen; Heidi Houser, Maryland dairy princes; Shannon Harrison, Frederick County dairy princess; Cheryl Leishear, South Central dairy princess; Tanya Stambaugh, Carroll County dairy princess; Davis (with banner), Gus, Lisa, Nona, Joseph and Shane Schwartzbeck. Lexine was also grand champion at the open Holstein Show.

LOIS SZYMANSKI
Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine calmly stood her ground under the spotlight as her name was announced as the winner of the 1994 Maryland Holstein Futurity. With ears up and eyes alert she seemed to assess the crowd that cheered and screamed and shrieked at her big win. The Joseph Schwartzbeck family of Peace and Plenty Farm reacted quite differently, though. They seemed to be bursting with smiles and pride for the cow they has raised since her birth!

The lights were dim and organ music gently wafted across the ring in the Cow Palace on the Maryland State Fairgrounds in Timonoum last Sunday evening as the contestants entered the ring. Twenty of the top Holsteins in Maryland were vying for the title of Miss 1994 Maryland Futurity. In the dark, a spotlight accentuated each cow as her name and lineage were announced.

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE:

Prices were unchanged. The market tone was steady to barely steady with cautiousness reported in all areas. Demand covered the full range and was mostly moderate. Retail features improved demand. Supplies of brown eggs remained short in New England. White egg supplies were at least adequate or available.

Breaking stock supplies were adequate from regular sources, and the undertone was no better than steady. Light hen supplies were adequate to fully adequate for the light and unaggressive demand, and the undertone was generally steady.

New York Egg Market

Atlanta, Ga.

Wednesday, September 7, 1994

Prices were unchanged. Trade sentiment was generally steady with some cautiousness. Demand was mixed, and retail specials continued to provide the best movement. Supplies were adequate or available. The New York inventory was 16% below last Monday's level, and the New Jersey inventory was 9% below last week.

PRICES TO RETAILERS, SALES TO VOLUME BUYERS, USDA GRADE A AND GRADE A, WHITE EGGS IN CARTONS, DELIVERED STORE DOOR, CENTS PER DOZEN RANGE EXTRA LARGE .69-.71, LARGE .66-.69, MEDIUM .57-.60.

Delmarva Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, September 7, 1994

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was fairly good on the generally adequate supply of 3 pound and heavier sizes. Lighter sizes were short. Live supplies were moderate; weights ranged desirable to heavy. Processing schedules were very heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 49 to 60 cents. Trade sentiment was fully steady to instances firm. Bulk parts items were in good balance and clearing. Boneless skinless breast were irregular but in fairly good balance. Bone-in breast were fully steady to firm.

OVERDRYING GRAIN WASTES MONEY

Grain Flow with Calc-U-Dri Saves It

Grain Flow with Calc-U-Dri is the most accurate and simple to use continuous flow drying and removal system on the market today. Accurate to within 0.3% over the moisture desired, there is no longer a need to overdry grain. The result — money saved. To operate, simply set the moisture desired. Grain Flow with Calc-U-Dri does the drying for you - automatically. Make this harvest season more profitable with a Grain Flow with Calc-U-Dri.

National Grain Market

St. Joseph, Mo.
Wednesday, September 7, 1994

DAILY NATIONAL GRAIN SUMMARY WHEAT PRICES JUMPED MODERATELY HIGHER FROM CONTINUED VERY GOOD EXPORT DEMAND AND TIGHT WORLD WHEAT STOCKS. GOOD EXPORT SALES THIS WEEK AND A WEEK AGO, PUSHED CORN PRICES HIGHER BUT GOOD CROP CONDITION LIMITED GAINS. SOYBEAN PRICES FELL SLIGHTLY LOWER ON IMPROVED BEAN CROP CONDITION AND INCREASED FARMER SELLING. WHEAT 4 TO 11 CENTS HIGHER. CORN MIXED. SORGHUM 1 TO 2 CENTS HIGHER. SOYBEANS 1 TO 6 CENTS LOWER. VERY GOOD FOREIGN SALES BOOSTED WHEAT PRICES AND INCREASED TIGHTNESS IN WORLD WHEAT STOCKS. EGYPT'S SUBSTANTIAL BID FOR SOFT RED WINTER WHEAT GAVE PRICES A SHOT IN THE ARM. CORN PRICES WERE SLIGHTLY HIGHER, SUPPORTED BY GOOD EXPORT DEMAND AND OPTIMISM FOR ADDITIONAL ORDERS. A HIGHER THAN EXPECTED EXPORT INSPECTION FIGURE RELEASED YESTERDAY ALSO ADDED STRENGTH TO PRICES. CORN CROPS ARE REPORTED TO BE GOOD TO EXCELLENT BY USDA, LIMITING PRICES. RECENT RAINFALL IMPROVED SOYBEAN CROPS AND INCREASED CHANCES FOR A BUMPER CROP. EXPORT DEMAND HAS BEEN VERY LIGHT BUT FARMER SELLING IS ACTIVE.

PURINA
SUPERCOW™

You'll Soon See How We Named This Feed.

What would you call a milking ration that turns cows into more productive, more efficient "super" cows? We call it SUPERCOW.™

SUPERCOW is a highly palatable, high-energy blend of nuggets and pellets formulated to meet the demands of high production. In field tests, cows fed SUPERCOW produced about 6.7 pounds more milk per day per cow.

SUPERCOW also helps maintain a cow's body weight and condition after calving, which can improve her reproductive efficiency.

See for yourself with SUPERCOW. The name says it all.

FIELD TRIAL RESULTS
(Adjusted Days In Milk)

Beginning Production	53.3 lb/day
Ending Production	60.0 lb/day
Avg. Increase Per Cow	6.7 lb/day
Body Condition Score Improvement	+0.12 pts

20 % of cows in field data were colored breeds

The OLD FARMER'S THIS WEEK WITH ALMANAC

September 12-18

GRANDMA MOSES DAY, SEPTEMBER 7.

ACROSS THE OCEAN

Two ships set sail from Southampton, England, on August 15, 1620. Twice the ships were forced to return to port, first to Dartmouth and then Plymouth, because of serious leaking in one. Finally, the leaking ship, the Speedwell, was abandoned and the Mayflower embarked alone from Plymouth on September 16, loaded with furniture, chickens, goats, and provisions. Living quarters for each person were no bigger than a single bed, but each person was allowed room for personal items. The practical-minded William Mullins brought 126 pairs of shoes and 13 pairs of boots. Miles Standish, on the other hand, would not be parted from his books, including a volume of Caesar and a history of the world.

He that will not sail till all dangers are over must not put to sea.

TIP OF THE WEEK

To remove spots on paper lampshades, rub with a clean art-gum eraser.

Here are some fuel-saving tips for driving across town or cross-country. Try to drive at a steady pace. Frequent sudden accelerations can wreak havoc on fuel economy. Keep tires inflated to recommended levels for better gas mileage and longer tire life. Remember to keep your wheels aligned and air filter clean. Use the air conditioner only when necessary. Open windows often do a better job of cooling you off during short hops around town.

INDIAN PUDDING

⅛ cup cornmeal
¼ cup molasses
dash of salt
3 cups scalded milk
1 egg, beaten
¼ teaspoon each ginger, cinnamon, and nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1 cup cold milk

Mix cornmeal, molasses, and salt. Pour scalded milk over mixture; let stand 5 minutes. Add egg, spices, and raisins. Pour into greased baking dish and bake at 300ºF for 10 minutes. Remove from oven, stir in cold milk, and continue baking for about 2 hours. Serve warm with whipped cream or ice cream.
Makes 6 servings

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

NORTHEAST: Clear and warm, rainstorm west.

SOUTHEAST: Clear and mild, cool nights; some showers, cooling, thunderstorms central and northern Florida.

MIDWEST: Rain then clear and warm, cooler east; some rain, turning colder.

NORTHWEST: Rainy and cool, cold wave mountains, then clearing and turning hot, some showers mountains.

Oklahoma City Feeder Cattle

Oklahoma City, Okla.
Wednesday, September 7, 1994

OKLAHOMA NATIONAL STOCKYARDS WEEKLY CATTLE SUMMARY: Compared to last Monday: All classes lightly tested in post holiday trade. Few feeder steers firm. Feeder heifers $2.00 higher. Steer calves $2.00-$4.00 lower with middle weight and heavy calves at most decline. Few heifer calves steady. Absence of combelt buyers pressuring the large calves. Yearling buyers hampered some by lack of load-lot availability. Quality plain to average. Weigh-ups gaunt to full. Slaughter cows $1.00-$2.00 higher. Slaughter bulls steady. Packer demand good as slaughter cow numbers have been reduced by holiday weekend for immediate kill needs. Total of 430 cows and bulls sold. Receipts this week 2,250; last week 6,506; last year 2,478. Supply consisted of 51 percent yearlings; 29 percent calves; 20 percent cows and bulls. Prices follow with weighted average weight and price in parenthesis.

Feeder Steers: Medium and Large Frame 1: 300-350 lbs. (340 lbs.) $97.50-$101.50 ($99.63); 400-450 lbs. (427 lbs.) $84.75-$93.00 ($87.57); 450-500 lbs. (469 lbs.) $81.00-$88.00 ($84.98); 500-550 lbs. (519 lbs.) $79.00-$83.25 ($81.42); 550-600 lbs. (563 lbs.) $77.25-$80.00 ($77.83); 600-700 lb. calves (650 lbs.) $75.00-$79.00 ($75.33); 650-700 lb. yearlings (691 lbs.) $77.00-$77.75 ($77.38); 700-750 lbs. (734 lbs.) $75.00-$78.50 ($76.99); 750-800 lbs. (780 lbs.) $73.25-$75.00 ($74.17); 800-850 lbs. (821 lbs.) $73.00-$75.50 ($74.40).

OPINION

Slow Down On Health Care Reform

The current national health care debate has become a mad rush to do something before the November elections. We all want reform. But we want to know if the enacted plan will lower costs and not raise taxes to make it work. In addition, we want to know if the plan will preserve the right to choose health care providers.

Farmers and small businesses do not want to be forced to become part of mandatory purchasing cooperatives as some proposals have required. In mandatory purchasing cooperatives, farmers worry about their costs. If voluntary cooperatives work to control costs, farmers will join them. But they don't want to be told they must join a plan that raises their costs.

A plan to cover more people is needed, but not at the expense of the financial ruin with ill-considered mandates or hidden taxes.

Wayne Nelson, president of Communicating for Agriculture, Inc., headquartered in Fergus Falls, Minnesota, says we don't want to say "no" to health care reform. We just want to say "Whoa!"

It's time for responsible heads to prevail. Our message to Congress: There is no time limit. We have better opportunities to pass a reasoned plan after the election when facts and figures, especially a detailed analysis of how much health care reform may add to the trillion-dollar federal deficit, can be assembled.

If we can improve our health care, we're for this. But in the process, we don't want to ruin our present health care system that is already better than almost any other place in the world.

Now Is The Time

By John Schwartz
Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Observe Hessian Fly-Free Date

Robert Anderson, extension agronomy agent, reminds us it is very important to observe the Hessian fly-free date for wheat.

The fly-free date refers to the time after which the Hessian Fly, a serious pest of wheat, no longer poses a threat to the crop.

The fly has two generations each year. The second generation fly emerges in late summer and lays its eggs on small wheat plants. When the eggs hatch, the maggots feed on the plant and then pass the winter as a pupa or "flaxseed."

In the spring, an adult emerges and lays eggs on the leaves of the wheat. Upon hatching, the maggots feed near the nodes of the stalk. This weakens the plant and causes it to break over before harvest.

The fly-free date is simply a planting time after the fall egg laying period is over. For Lancaster County this date is between October 10 and 20.

To Consider Planting Cover Crops

Cover crops have many uses and advantages. Cover crops may help supplement the production of the farm by providing additional feed for livestock as fall, winter, or spring pasture or spring silage.

Other major advantages of cover crops include protecting soil from erosion, acting as a filter to improve water quality, capturing unused nitrogen in the soil profile which may be recovered the next growing season, and adding organic matter to the soil and improving soil tilth.

Many plants may be used as cover crops, with winter grains being the most popular.

Spring oats sowed in the fall is an excellent cover crop that does not have to be killed next spring with chemicals. If farmers will have land which will be bare during the winter, they should consider the many advantages cover crops offer.

To Help Children Develop Study Habits

With school now back in session, it is important we help our children do their best.

Some tips from Dr. Jim VanHorn, Penn State family sociologist:

- Provide a quite study area with plenty of light. Study time is just as important as the place.
- A child should be rested and relaxed. Allow some time for active play before concentrating on homework.
- If possible, plan study periods for the same time every evening.
- If you have preschoolers in your home, arrange some quiet play for them during your older child's study period. Coloring, reading, or listening to a story are good quiet activities.
- Help the easy distracted. High distractibility is the one trait most responsible for poor school work. If that is a challenge for your child, work out some at home strategies with the student's teacher.

Studies show the more involved the parent is in their child's education, the more successful the child is in school. Take time to know your child's teacher, attend school functions, and read to your children.

Remember, education is the key to their future.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

STANDING ON DRY GROUND
September 11, 1994

Background Scripture:
Joshua 3 through 4
Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 11:23,24

Many scholars believe that the story of the crossing of the Jordan River by the Israelites under Joshua is actually a kind of editorial "past-job" of several accounts of the same event. That would explain why the story is rather confusing and chronologically disjointed. For example: did God command that the twelve stones be set up as a memorial in the river (4:9), or at both places?

Yet, despite this lack of clarity, it is obvious that this event is one of great importance in the life of Israel. As Joshua himself puts it, "For the Lord your God dried up the waters of the Jordan for you until you passed over, so that all people of the earth may know that the hand of the Lord is mighty, that you may fear the Lord your God forever" (4:23,24).

PRESCRIPTION: AWE

So, one purpose of this story — both for the people of Israel and also us — is to inspire a kind of holy fear of God. Whatever other attributes we find in our experience of God, we need to experience also a sense of awe and reverence when we are confronted by God's magnificent power. It is not because God needs us to "ooh!" and "aah!" over him, but because we need it. We are like the woman who went to her doctor with a shopping list of physical complaints. After listening to her for quite a while, the doctor prescribed a weekend excursion to Niagara Falls. "You need to take a long and lingering view of something much bigger than yourself," he explained. And that's why sometimes we need to be in awe of God, too. Awe and reverence are good for the human spirit.

Titus is also a story of pragmatic faith. Can you imagine how the people of Israel must have felt as they arrived at the Jordan? At last, after all their wanderings and tribulations, they stood near their great goal, the promised land. Yet, blocking their way were the flooding torrents of the Jordan River. So close, yet so far from where they were going. Often it is like that for us, too. We are close to our goal but something stands in the way. So, like the people of Israel, we need to trust in God's promise to take us through the obstacle and to the other side.

PLAN AHEAD

But that doesn't mean that the Israelites were going to be handed the crossing on a silver platter. No, the whole event was going to require careful planning. God would do his part, but the people would have to do their part, too. You and I are often faced with the same pragmatic situation. There is a goal to be achieved and God has promised to help us achieve that goal — but it also requires something on our part. Just as the people of Israel had to plan and prepare to cross this last physical barrier to the promised land, so we need to trust in God and make our plans accordingly. Might it not be that one reason God seems unresponsive to our prayers for help is that we want him to do it without any obligation on our part?

This story and the story of Israel's crossing of the Red Sea in Exodus remind us that in ancient times the image of water was used to represent all that threatens human beings in life. In our lives there are countless Red Seas and River Jordans that threaten us. We find ourselves "in over our heads," "up the creek without a paddle," and at a point where we need to "sink or swim." But from the most ancient of times God is experienced as the one who parts and pushes back these threatening waters — if we respond in faith.

In the midst of the Jordan's tumultuous waters the priests and the people found themselves trusting God and standing on his providential dry ground. So can we.

The lush green foliage of our new alfalfas made us want to do this ad in color.
But when we considered their superior quality, the choice was black and white.

Excalibur II. This lush, deep-green multi-leaf alfalfa yields more tons of hay and puts more pounds of milk in your bulk tank—and looks great doing it. That's because Excalibur II gives you extremely high yields and outstanding feed value. It also stands great, has high disease resistance, and responds exceptionally well to multiple-cut, intensively managed alfalfa programs.

Dividend. This extremely winterhardy alfalfa has 85% multi-leaf expression, the highest in the industry. Dividend's high winterhardiness rating and its outstanding feed value characteristics make this high-yielding alfalfa ideal for the Northeast farmer.

Try these new quality Agway alfalfas. Excalibur II for exceptional, high-quality yields. Dividend for long-term survival and extremely high-quality forage production in cold Northeastern winters.

When it comes to producing milk, they'll make you look good.

Think of it as "an apple a day" for cows and calves

The rationale behind using PROBIOS® brand microbial products is simple – In the digestive tract of normal, healthy, low stressed animals, a critical balance of beneficial bacteria and potentially disease causing bacteria exists. This "healthy, low stress" condition cannot always be maintained and thus feed consumption is reduced.

PROBIOS products contain naturally-occurring, lactic acid producing bacteria, selected because of their vigor and beneficial activity in the gut. Trial after trial has shown PROBIOS helps get that critical balance back on track and maintain it for improved feed consumption and a reduction in associated treatment costs.

PROBIOS products are the original and most trusted direct-fed microbials. Use them with confidence.

Protect your livestock with PROBIOS! Protect yourself with new top-of-the-line rain gear!

For every two cases (48, 300g tubes) of PROBIOS® Bovine One Oral Gel purchased, you'll receive FREE rain gear – choose between a heavy-duty 3-piece rain suit or a "duster" style raincoat. Offer good thru December 31, 1994.

For complete program details see your participating animal health dealer or call 1-800-247-6803, ext: 2986.

Central District Dairy Show Held

LEWISBURG (Union Co.) — The thirty-ninth annual Central District FFA Dairy Show was held at the Union County West End Fairgrounds recently. Dale Olver of the Pennsylvania State University dairy extension served as the type judge for the event.

This year's grand champion Holstein and owner-bred animal was a junior 3-year-old Holstein owned by Douglas Boop of Millmont. The Mifflinburg FFA member's animal was sired by Mel-Delin Boutonniere. The reserve champion Holstein was owned by Geoffrey Fredd of the Penns Valley FFA Chapter. The Centre County youth's 4-year-old dry cow was sired by Hanoverhill Starbuck. The Holstein junior champion was owned by Mark Hough of the Penns Valley FFA. The Rebersburg youth's wither yearling was sired by Carnation Counselor-ET. The reserve junior champion Holstein was owned by Krista Byers of Millertown. Her Holstein winter calf was sired by Southwind Bell Of Bar-Lee.

The grand champion and reserve grand champion of the Jersey Show were both owned by Lynne Rearick of Millheim. The grand champion and best owner bred animal was a junior 2-year-old sired by Schultz Performing Legend and the reserve champion was a 7-year-old Jersey sired by Four Springs High C-ET. The junior Jersey champion was owned by Rebecca Dietrich of Mifflinburg. The reserve junior champion was owned by Doug Boop of Millmont. Both Mifflinburg FFA member animals were sired by Meadow Lawn J Imperial 50R-ET.

Mindy Reigns Supreme Again At Maryland State Fair

LOIS SZYMANSKI
Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — The ten-day 1994 Maryland State Fair attracted a crowd of approximately 650,000 people, one of the largest crowds in years. Among the many exhibitors at the fair were owners and breeders of some of the finest dairy cattle in Maryland. On separate days throughout the fair each breed held their own show. At the conclusion of the last show of the fair, Monday, the grand champions of each breed were brought out and a supreme champion was chosen for the Maryland State Fair by judges, Denny Patrick, George Edgerton, and Murt Sowerby.

This year's supreme champion was Pen Smith T.J. Mindy, a five-year-old Jersey owned by Wayne and Allen Stiles and Mike and Billy Heath of Spring Valley Farms in Silver Run in Carroll County. This was the second year in a row for Mindy to be named supreme champion. "Last year was the first time a non-Holstein won supreme champion," said Wayne Stiles, co-owner of Spring Valley Farms, a predominately Jersey farm milking 55 head of Jersey and 3 Holsteins.

"My nephew, who is part owner (Mike Heath) found her in a herd down in Tennessee that had never showed," Stiles said. "We brought her back here and she went to the Louisville, National Show that year and won the three-year-old class. We calved her out the next summer in July and we showed her last year at Maryland State Fair and she won supreme champion. She went on from there to be grand champion in Harrisburg at the Pennsylvania All American Show. Then, we took her to Louisville again and she was first in the four-year-old class down there and was the national champion. She calved again in July and this was the first time we've had her out this year."

Mindy produced a record of 18,000 pounds of milk last year. Currently she is milking over 80 pounds and Stiles expects her to make another 18,000 pounds record this year. The next step for Mindy will be the end of the month when she will show in the Pennsylvania All American.

Each of six breeds of Dairy cattle were judged at shows held in the Cow Palace. Senior champion and grand champion of the Show was Three Spring's J.J., a junior two-year-old owned by James C. Young and Horizon Farms. The reserve grand champion was Three Springs Courtney, a junior three-year-old owned by Christina Young and Horizon Farms.

In the Ayrshire show, the grand champion was Palmyra Farm's Palmyra Chad's Nona, a six-year-old cow. The reserve grand champion was Perromont Festive Treasure of Perromont Farm, Inc.

In the Jersey show the grand champion was Pen Smith T.J. Mindy, owned and exhibited by Spring Valley Farms, Wayne & Allen Stiles/Heath. The reserve champion was Brandale Duncan Brass Lucinda, a four-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Waverly Farm-Stiles. The best Maryland bred and owned Jersey was S.V. Jays Melly, a four-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Spring Valley Farms, Wayne & Allen Stiles/Heath.

In the Brown Swiss Show the grand champion was D. Bradley Garst's nine-year-old cow, Michelle Valle Jade Laurie. The reserve grand champion was Shen-Val Jades Cara, a junior three-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Jeremy McDonald. The best Maryland bred animal was Pheasant Ridge Marie, a four-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Pheasant Ridge Farms.

In the Guernsey show the grand champion was Misty Meadows F. Candace, a four-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Beth Clark and Robert Smith. The reserve champion and best Maryland bred and owned was Rocky Maple Smokey Dylene, a junior three-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Cletus and Janice Frey.

In the Holstein Show grand champion was Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine, owned and exhibited by Joseph Schwartzbeck of Peace and Plenty Farm. The reserve champion and winner of the Genuine Genetics trophy was C. Audale Counselor Cecilia, a junior three-year-old owned and exhibited by Ernest A. Kueffner. The champion Maryland bred and owned cow was a four-year-old cow owned and exhibited by Marlin K. Hoff and named Md-Oakview Mark Kix.

Peace And Plenty Wins

Announcer, David Brauning explained the procedure to the audience. "The Holstein Futurity begins with the dairy breeder nominating these calves, for at the time they are calves, with a payment of a fee. The following year the calves are re-nominated based on their growth and type potential and another cost is incurred. After they are grown out as yearlings, then they are bred to have their first calves somewhere around 24 to 26 months of age. As two year olds they must be re-nominated to be eligible and a divisional fee is paid," Brauning explained. "By the time the animals are three they have completed their first working lactation of producing wholesome milk. The animals are then bred back to calve in their second lactation, of which you see these contestants here this evening. A final fee has been paid for them to be eligible to participate in the futurity." Four hundred and eighty-five animals were nominated for this award, which is in its eleventh year.

To begin the evening, David Patrick was inducted into the Dairy Hall of Fame. Then, as the lights were dimmed, under a spotlight, vintage cars brought in the officials, Dairy Maids, Dairy Princesses and Farm Queens as well as others who were assisting in the show.

Before the judging, the top five production cows were announced. First, with a record of 34,968 pounds of milk was Savage Leigh Lyle Gwen ET owned by Wayne and Cindee Savage. The second and third highest production cows are both owned by Robert and Mary O. Smith with the second highest production cow being Lady's Manor Temtress Jen with a record of 26,237 pounds of milk. Third was Ladies Manor Star Onyz ET with a record of 25,343 pounds of milk. The fourth highest production cow was Derrwyn Inspire Michelete owned by Derrwyn Holsteins with a record of 24,622 pounds of milk.

As the judge evaluated each cow, singer Abigail Sauer from Middletown, Maryland entertained the crowd with a selection of country hits.

Mark Lexine, the newly appointed Miss 1994 Maryland Holstein Futurity, was sired by Walkaway Chief Mark and is out of Leaseway Tradition Judith, a cow who is on the locator list for the Holstein Association, the top ten thousand cows in the nation. Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine gave the Schwartzbeck family their first Grand Champion of show in twenty years in the spring when she won the twenty-fourth Maryland State Holstein Show on April 9, 1994.

Second in the competition was Ms Md-Dun-Loafin Moonshine, a cow owned by sister and brother, Shannon and Paul Harrison of Howard County. Ms Md-Dun-Loafin Moonshine was previously Supreme Champion at the Howard County Fair and Grand Champion of the Maryland State Fair 4-H and FFA Holstein competition which was held the previous Monday.

Of the top five cows in the competition Judge Patrick said, "It makes me extremely proud to be a part of judging these five excellent cows." He also noted that every entry was a quality cow, all the way down the line.

The top entries in the Maryland Holstein Futurity in placement order are as follows:

1. Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine/ Joseph Schwartzbeck.
2. Ms Md-Dun-Loafin Moonshine/ Shannon K. Harrison.
3. Peace and Plenty Starbuck Lanette/ Pam Tom Farm.
4. Penn Gate Starbuck Finesse/ Steve & Chris Wood/ R. Gitt.
5. Ladys Manor Blackstar Jen ET/ Robert and Mary O. Smith.
6. Derrwyn Inspire Michelete/ Derrwyn Holsteins.

Schwartzbeck Family Repeats Futurity Win In Open Show

LOIS SZYMANSKI
Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — On Monday, September 5, the Holstein show at the Maryland State Fair was held in Cow Palace on the fairgrounds. Judge Denny Patrick of Howard County, Maryland spent the day evaluating one-hundred-eighty-four entries from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware, North Carolina, and New Jersey. The grand champion of the show and the Best Maryland Bred and Owned cow was Peace and Plenty Mark Lexine, the three year old cow who had just won the title of 1994 Miss Maryland Futurity the night before!

Owned by the Joseph Schwartzbeck family of Peace and Plenty Farm in Union Bridge, Maryland, the home-bred cow was sired by Walkaway Chief Mark and is out of Leaseway Tradition Judith. She won grand champion at the twenty-fourth Maryland State Holstein Show in April. She has a Dixie Crat sister that is 88 points and her mother is on the locater list for the Holstein Association, as one of the top ten thousand cows in the nation.

Peace and Plenty Farms was also named the Premier Breeder of Show. The Premier Exhibitor was My Ladys Manor Farm.

The reserve grand champion of the Show and winner of the Genuine Genetics Award was C. Audale Counselor Cecilia. Exhibited by Ernest A. Kueffner, the junior three year old cow was sired by Carnation Counselor ET.

The junior champion was Tri-Day Adeen. The senior heifer calf, owned and exhibited by Norman Voss, Jr. was sired by Marcrest Encore. The reserve junior champion was How El Acres Lee Ruffle, a junior yearling calf owned and exhibited by the Iagers.

During the show the Maryland State Holstein Association presented the Outstanding Senior Holstein Breeder Award to the Iagers of Maple Lawn Farm in Fulton Maryland, a family that has been working their farm for five generations, raising Holstein

Increase your wheat yield by $26.38 an acre, with Hoffman 89

Penn State Small Grain Trials
Three-Year Performance Summary, 1991-1993

Centre County
	Grain Yield	Bushel Weight	Test Wt. Loss (per acre)	Yield Loss (per acre)	Total Loss (per acre)
Hoffman 89	83 Bu/A	61.9 lb/Bu	-	-	-
Average	74 Bu/A	60.2 lb/Bu	-	$27.00	$27.00
% Advantage	12%	3%
Lancaster County
	Grain Yield	Bushel Weight	Test Wt. Loss (per acre)	Yield Loss (per acre)	Total Loss (per acre)
Hoffman 89	103 Bu/A	59.8 lb/Bu	-	-	-
Average	97 Bu/A	56.6 lb/Bu	$7.76	$18.00	$25.76
% Advantage	6%	6%

A lot of effort and resources go into your growing investment. There's the labor to plant, monitor and harvest your crop. The tremendous investment in land and equipment. And the knowledge and experience you've accumulated over the years.

With all that's riding on your choice, you'll want a wheat variety that will produce for you in the field. And none surpass Hoffman 89.

Superior Test Weights. In three-year trials conducted by Penn State and the University of Maryland, Hoffman 89 registered the top test weight across all locations, in some cases approaching 62 lb/Bu. In Lancaster County trials, its 59.8 lb/Bu performance produced test weight savings of $7.76.

Yield. Superior test weight isn't the only advantage offered by Hoffman 89. In Centre County, it delivered 83 Bu/A—12% above the average. So you'd save $27 per acre using Hoffman 89.

Averaging the results of both trials, you'd earn $26.38 more per acre with Hoffman 89.

Make sure you get the most out of your investment by planting a proven winner — Hoffman 89. Just another way we add value to your seed investment.

will be exhibiting cupcakes, Vicki will be showing fudge, and Ann will present a batch of cookies.

The family was honored with a $600 gift certificate for Boscov's Department Store, presented by Meridian Bank.

Also, one of the best parts about the honor is the free Cookery tickets presented to the family. "I know what to do with that," said Mark. "I don't know what to do with the $600."

Also honored at the fair were youth from around the region, including an award to the 4-H boy. That honor went to Richard Folk, 16, son of Richard and Oralee Folk, Bernville. 4-H girl honors went to Stephanie Bowman, 17, daughter of Roger and Nancy Bowman, Lenhartsville.

FFA members were also honored. They are Richard W. Kerper, Jr., son of Richard and Kay Kerper, Fleetwood, and Michelle Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scaramuzzino, Honey Brook.

Each youth honored received a $100 savings bond presented by Meridian Bank.

Reading Fair honored the 4-H girl and boy and two FFA members at the annual Outstanding Farm Family Awards Banquet Wednesday evening. Supreme Swine Named At Md. State Fair

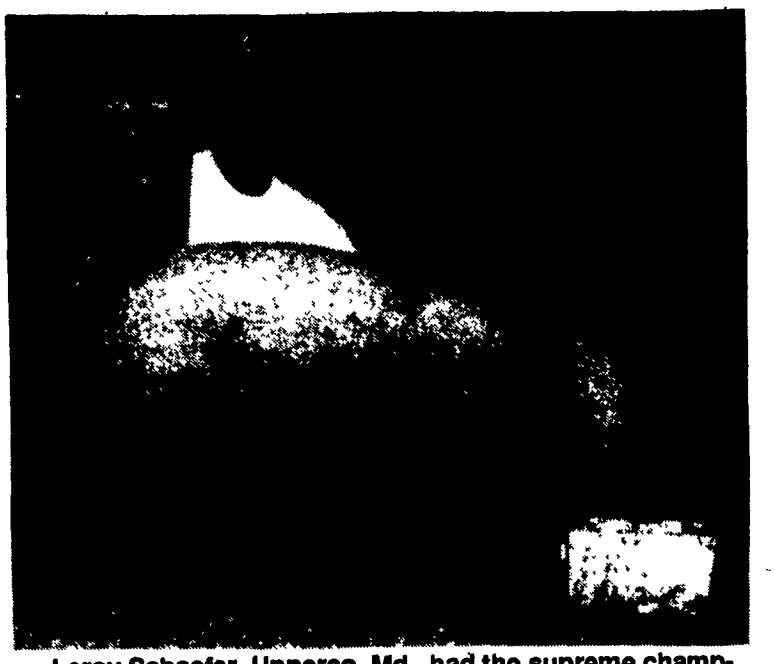
TIMONIUM, Md. — Record crowds attended the final day of the Maryland State Fair in Timonium. In the swine barn, the week's activities culminated in the selection of the supreme champion female, supreme champion market barrow, and supreme champion pair of market barrows.

Coy Farmer, a Chester White and Hampshire breeder from Prague, Okla., judged the open class show of approximately 400 swine entries.

A Duroc gilt bred and owned by David Holloway of Glen Rock, Pa., won the supreme champion female of all breeds. The gilt weighed approximately 290 pounds and had a backfat of .78. Holloway also took top honors in the supreme champion pair of market barrows group class with a pair of Durocs.

Holloway and his wife Bettie raise approximately 30 purebred sows on their York County farm, in addition to some Black Angus cattle. The emphasis of their breeding program is on health management and genetics. Holloway was sold to AI studs and to 28 states, as well as to Mexico and Japan. He strives to "keep improving genetics, using what's available to get bloodlines as good and correct as we can, and offer some new genetics that might not be available normally in the East."



Leroy Schaefer, Upperco, Md., had the supreme champion market barrow at the Maryland State Fair. The Yorkshire barrow also won the champion Yorkshire barrow in the open class.

Supreme champion market barrow went to a Yorkshire barrow owned by 16-year-old Leroy Schaefer of Baltimore County, Maryland. In addition to winning Whatever your dairy nutrition program is missing, Crystalyx® has a supplement to fill the gap.

From birth to dry off, Crystalyx® brand supplements, available from Agway, plug the nutritional gaps in your dairy production cycle. Mineral-rich Dairy-lyx® enhances feed intake and helps prevent lameness throughout the life cycle. Dry Cow for cows already in your herd aids in reducing metabolic disorders and rebreeding problems. Anionic salts and chelated trace minerals in Close-Up Dry Cow help reduce the risk of milk fever and transition stress during pre-calving. To meet the protein and energy needs of your growing heifers, while enhancing growth and performance, choose Replacement Heifer. To improve breeding and appetites during high-stress situations, use Brigade®. Crystalyx supplements are a hard crystallized blend of molasses solids, protein, vitamins and trace minerals. They dissolve slowly with licking, and are naturally self-limiting.

To learn more about how Crystalyx® supplements "plug all your herd's nutritional gaps" contact your local Agway Feed Sales Specialist, Agway store, or representative.

Plummer's Jersey Is Allentown Supreme Cow

VERNON ACHENBACH, JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — Amy Plummer, of Chalfont, on Wednesday showed the supreme cow of the 1994 Allentown Fair, after years of competition and just missing previously.

Plummer's Top-O-Hill Juno Patches, a junior 2-year-old Jersey, was also this year's grand champion Jersey of the Montgomery County Fair, and at the 4-H district show.

Amy, who was all smiles with receiving the best of breed honors for her young cow, said she will be showing her in the 4-H state show on Sept. 26, and in the Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show, Sept. 29, during the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show.

Lizzie Moser, of Gilbertsville, showed the Allentown Fair supreme dairy bull, a young Holstein calf, that won out over an injured yearling Jersey bull showed by Mildred Seeds, of Downingtown, owner of Top-O-Hill Farm.

The homebred Holstein calf was Penny's Place Celtic Magnum. Moser, who lives on a small farmette, raises young dairy animals as 4-H projects and keeps breeding animals at another farm.

Moser also showed the only Milking Shorthorn of the show, and received recognition from the judge, Dr. Gary Rogers, a Penn State University dairy cow geneticist, who said that it was definetly worthy of higher competition and a blue ribbon.

She also showed several young Holsteins.

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — A crowd of more than 100 turned out to support Maryland's youth at the 4-H/FFA sale held in conjunction with the State Fair.

Beef and dairy steers, market hogs, lambs, goats, and capons were auctioned, with much of the proceeds being invested back into the Maryland livestock program through generous donations.

Cortney Hill-Dukehart, a 10-year-old from Howard County, had the champion capon. The fowl brought $150, which was donated back by purchasers from the Maryland Food Pavilion to the Maryland 4-H Foundation. Reserve champion capon, shown by Johnathan Gibson of Carroll County, brought $120.

In market goats, 9-year-old Michael Bird from Harford County had the grand champion with an 85-pound homebred Nubian. One hundred fifty dollares was paid for the goat by JJM, Inc. and Fulton Station Shopping Center, who in keeping withi the spirit of the evening donated it back to the Maryland Dairy Goat Endowment Fund. Reserve champion markete goat, owned by Louis Bernier III from Carroll County, also brought $150.

Thirty-five market hogs went through the ring. The grand champion, owned by Frederick County's Daryl Hood, went for $5.25/pound, and was purchased by Chesapeake Foods. Daryl, a first-year member of the Johnsville 4-H Club, wrote an essay to win the Duroc as a feeder pig from 4-H and raised it to a weight of 250 pounds. Another Frederick County youth, Eric Donelly, had the reserve grand champion market hog, which was purchased for $3.35/pound.

This was the last year for Robert Dinsmore, a National FFA sheep proficiency winner from Frederick County to show at the state fair, and he went out with a bang — five of his lambs placed first, setting a new state fair record. Robert's grand champion market sheep, bought by Ceresville Ford-New Holland for $7.25/pound, weighed 125 pounds. Robert also had the reserve, but regulations state only one sheep can be sold by each youth.

Steers were the last to be sold at the auction. Montgomery Countian Tricia Stabler, a sophomore at Delaware Valley College and member of the Montgomery County Beef Club, had the grand champion with a homebred Exotic, which she said was probably a cross between Angus, Chianina, and Maine-Anjou. The 1,280-pound steer was purchased by The Maryland Food Pavilion, represented by Dr. Emmett Full, for $2.50/pound. Champion dairy steer, a Brown Swiss owned by Mark Butler, Jr. of Frederick County, brought $1.15/pound.

The excitement of the evenign was tempered by the very recent, sudden passing away of Dr. Bill Curry, state 4-H livestock specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. Curry, who had served as a mentor for many of Maryland's youth in 4-H Livestock judging, suffered a heart attack leaving the Howard County Fairgrounds after loading a trailer with steers to go to the Montgomery County Fair. His presence at Wednesday's auction was sorely missed.

In a touching tribute to Curry, funds from the sale of several animals were earmarked for a memorial fund which will be used to offset the expenses incurred by state 4-H livestock judging teams. One lamb, purchased by a group of those whose lives Curry had touched, brought $20/pound during the emotional sale.

Debby Bowman, extension agent with the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, chaired the evening's auction. Auctioneers were Andy Cashman, Dennis Warfield, and Jack Downey.

The Ayrshire breed was the third most popular breed at this year's show and all the honors went to Daniel Rishel of New Columbia. The Mifflinburg FFA member owned all four champions and the best owner bred animal. The grand champion was a 4-year-old sired by Brow-Ayr Vitality Skywalker and the reserve champion a 4-year-old dry cow sired by De Bui Vag Mozart. The junior champion was a senior yearling sired by Bonnie Brae Marion and the reserve junior champion, a winter calf, sired by Wood-Ayr Barry's Nobel-ET. A spring yearling sired by Maple-Bell Chads IRS was the best owner-bred animal.

In the Milking Shorthorn competition, a winter calf owned by Brian Sholl of the Upper Dauphin FFA Chapter was selected as the grand champion and the best owner-bred animal. The reserve and senior champion animal was a 6-year-old dry cow owned by Mary Anne Rearick of the Penns Valley FFA Chapter in Center County. Mary Anne also owned the 4-year-old that was named reserve senior champion.

Braden Heimbach of Mifflinburg owned the 5-year-old that

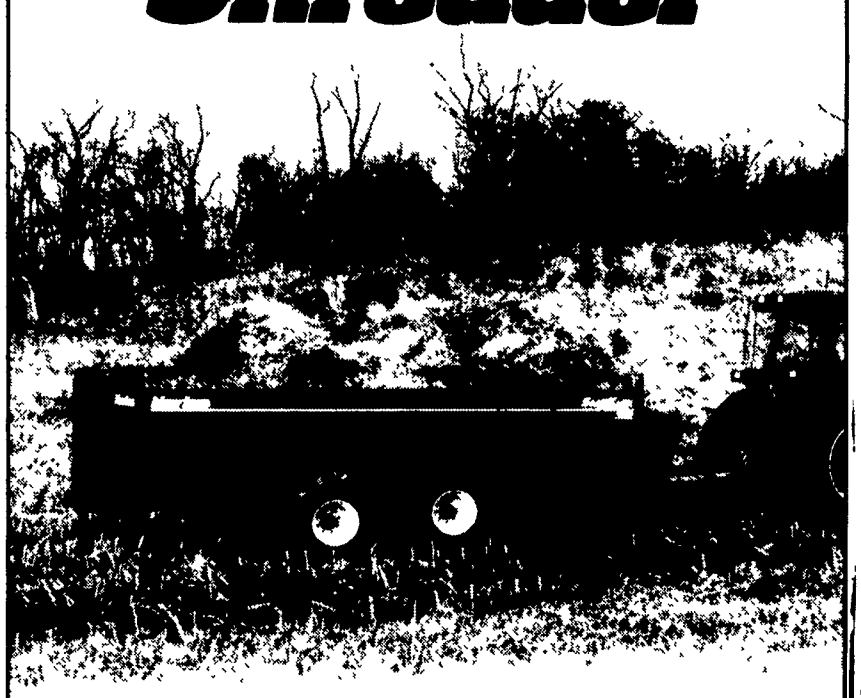
Tough Shredder



SideKick spreaders power through even the toughest manure.

With a new SideKick 3200 series side-delivery spreader, you'll power through tough manure when others shudder.

The planetary drive system and twin augers power through all types of manure from slurry to heavy pen pack to dry feedlot to gritty poultry litter.

The unique vertical expellers shred manure for a fine application. And the hydraulic expeller door makes the rate easy to control, too.

New Idea 3600 series box spreaders have earned a reputation for a long-life and an exceptional spread pattern

4-Year-Old Holstein Supreme At Sommerset

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — Mill-Val Pete Impulse, a 4-year-old Holstein, had a banner day, at the Somerset County Junior Dairy Show when she was selected supreme champion for owner-breeder, Ben Miller of Boswell.

Judge Obie Snider, of Imler, praised her "good size and outstandingness against the bigger cows," naming her senior champion and grand champion of the Holstein breed.

From Straight-Pine Elevation Pete and Quaker Farm Anthony Image, Impulse won for Miller the honor of having the best animal bred and owned. Her birth was Feb. 14, 1990.

Bob Brown, Somerset County extension agent told people watching the show that they should congratulate the 4-H and FFA owner/breeders whose efforts resulted in the fine animals seen in the show ring. "This is the whole idea of the show," he said.

Snider called it a "wonderful junior show. I expect to see really great cattle when I come to Somerset County," he said. "Somerset County is known for its fine cattle."

Kirsten Miller of Boswell, had the Holstein breeds reserve grand champion and reserve senior champion with Quaker Farm Astro Jet Sue Ellen, born Dec. 14, 1988. The breeder was Clarence and Mark Miller.

Sire was Bridon Astro Jet and dam was Quaker Farm Powerpac Miss Elly.

Matt Moyer's 4-year-old Saints Silver Candy was both senior champion and grand champion in the Jersey breed. Breeder was Eli G. and Catherine Brenneman, Salisbury. Moyer is from Friedens.

Sire was Rocky Hill Silver Saint and dam was Hidden Meadow Samson Candy.

Moyer also had the senior reserve champion and reserve grand champion in the breed with Nu-Venture Legend Robin, a junior 2-year-old. The breeder was Glenn and Evelyn Moyer. Schultz Performing Legend was the sire and dam was Gen. Lewis Kay Rosey.

Shelby Moyer, Friedens, had the best animal bred and owned in the Jersey breed with Nu-Venture Legend Charity.

The junior 2-year-old came from sire Schultz Performing Legend and dam, Nu-Venture Duncan Carla. Breeder was Shelby Moyer.

champion and grand champion belonged to Robert Bates of Meyersdale. His summer yearling, Lizamil Sensation Jacklyn, was bred by Jeffrey and Mary Millard, of Farmdale, Ohio.

Sire was V B Spices Sensation and dam was Schrock Emperor Jeana Marie.

Sarah Saylor, of Rockwood, showed the Brown Swiss junior reserve champion and reserve grand champion, with Indian Springs Spice Linda, born March 4, 1994.

The smaller than usual show had 91 Holsteins, 20 Jersey and six Brown Swiss dairy animals shown by the 4-H and FFA exhibitors. There were no Guernsey, Milking Shorthorn or Ayrshire animals this year.

Although it was rumored that folks were concerned about Bovine Viral Dysentery (BVD), extension agent Brown said. "In fact they (cows) are probably in better shape this year because people are looking for it (signs of BVD)," said Brown, adding that farmers are supposed to isolate their animals after every show and some haven't been doing it. He said that sometimes isolating their animals comes down to having, or not having enough space to do it.

This year there's a greater sense of caution among the farmers, he said, but no BVD cases have been reported in Somerset County, he said.

Snider also judged showmanship after an emergency kept invited judge, Bernida Gable, of Bedford away.

Cooperative Leaders Gain Experience At Conference

ALTOONA (Blair Co.) — Cooperative education, leadership development and young adult fellowship were the benefits for the 50 young cooperative members that participated in the Pennsylvania Council of Cooperatives (PCC) Young Leader Conference held recently at the Ramada Hotel.

Highlighting the 3-day conference was a series of presentations by nationally known speaker, Dr. Ron Hansen of the University of Nebraska. Dr. Hansen addressed a variety of farm family issues, including the importance of effective communications and listening skills.

In addition to Hansen's workshops, participants also learned about cooperative basics and spent several hours involved in a hands-on "Management for Success" workshop. Not only did the participants gain valuable farm management skills, but they set goals and developed a personal mission statement.

The young cooperative members also participated in round table discussions with cooperative leaders and learned cooperative principles demonstrated through a game and skit.

Region leaders that assisted with the 1994 conference included conference chair couple, Robert and Joy Jackson, Brownsville;

Computer Record Keeping Workshop Set

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — If you own a computer or are thinking about purchasing one, and want to use your computer for your tax and some production records, Lancaster County Cooperative Extension has a new program for you.

A workshop series is intended to familiarize the farm manager and/or his designated record keeper with a farm financial record-keeping system that uses low-cost, flexible, easty to use computer software. Participants are encouraged to bring their personal computers (PCs) to the Lancaster Farm and Home Center for use during the second and third workshop sessions.

The location for the workshop will be the Lancaster County Farm and Home Center, downstairs. The instructor will be Prof. Larry Jenkins, farm management specialist.

The dates and times for the workshops will be September 22 at 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. This general information session will be open to anyone and will not be limited to any number of attendees. The session will discuss computerization of farm records in general, systems available, need for accurate production and tax records, etc.

On October 20, workshop sessions 1 and 2 will be held. Session 1 will be 10 a.m. to noon. Session 2 will be 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Session one will include getting acquainted with the software: installation, setting up accounts and categories, the entry path, and learning about the register and practice sessions.

In session two, you will get acquainted with the accounts. You will learn about inventory entry, accounts payables and receivables, capital purchases, personal or household expenses, sales, credit, assets and liabilities.

On October 27, workshop sessions 3 and 4 will be held. Session 3 will be 10 a.m. to noon. Session 4 will be 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

In session three, you will get acquainted with the following reports: transactions, credit, cash flow, accounts payable and receivable, profit and loss reports as well as balance sheet generation and income tax management reports.

Session four will revolve around data entry practice. You will work with accrual adjustments, credit reports, farm operating income and expense reports, and first-of-year and end-of-year inventory adjustments.

Lunch will be on your own, so there will be no cost for the workshop. Preregistration is requested for sessions 1, 2, 3, and 4 because limited meeting space is available. Registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. This workshop is limited to 20 participants because of the large amount of individual assistance that will be given, so register early to assure yourself a place in the class.

To register, please call the Lancaster Extension Office, (717) 394-6851 and leave your name, address and telephone message for Alan W. Strock, extension agent/farm management. This workshop will also be held this winter at the Berks County Ag Center and Chester County Cooperative Extension office.

WARNING - If Your Family Owns Assets In Excess Of $1,200,000 Get This Report!

The definition in Washington DC of "well-to-do" might as well mean "target." This FREE Report points out financial traps that can let the IRS and attorneys legally take up to 70% of your family estate. Better yet, it shares tips and techniques you can learn more about to "bullet-proof" your financial assets from taxes and lawsuits!

Washington DC - The new administration and the IRS are on a mission to confiscate the wealth of people who have made a financial success of their lives.

Anyone with more than $1,200,000 of net worth is now slated to be nailed with incredibly high income and estate taxes. The new "politics of envy" makes you a convenient target for those who feel what is yours should now be "everyone's!"

Under current tax law, if you accumulate too much money in certain assets, you could pay taxes as high as 70%! Under proposed new tax laws, the Clinton Administration wants to decrease the amount you can legally give your family, as well as reduce the amount you can leave your children and heirs, estate tax free!

Evidently a new kind of "McCarthy like" witch hunt is cropping up that says "If you have a significant financial net worth, you should pay through the nose, to bring more money into the U.S. Treasury!"

Paying your "fair share" is one thing. But there is no reason to allow the government and the legal system to seize over half your money without a fight. (Yes, they legally can and will take over 50% of your money, if you let them.)

To help you better understand what we are talking about, we've prepared a FREE REPORT "How To Legally Keep The IRS And The Attorneys Out Of Your Pocket!" Find out how to protect yourself and your assets! To get your free copy of this report, call the toll free recorded message line listed below and a copy will be mailed to you.

Rep. Miller Asks Gov. Casey Lift Hiring Ban

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Rep. Sheila Miller (R-129th) urged Gov. Robert Casey to lift the hiring ban for the Milk Marketing Board in order to sustain the board's services. Gov. Casey imposed the hiring ban on July 26.

"Pennsylvania's dairy industry supports the operating budget of the Milk Marketing Board through fees; there are no taxpayer dollars involved in providing the industry services offered by the board," said Miller, a member of the House Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee.

The Berks County Republican noted that the General Assembly enacted legislation for a Milk Marketing Fund — which is sustained through fees paid by the dairy industry — thereby making the board an independent and self-sufficient agency.

"To insure that the dairy industry continues to receive the proper level of services — services which they have paid for — it is necessary to allow the board to hire additional employees to complete the required work," Miller said. The board has indicated it is seeking to hire one attorney, one clerk typist and two milk examiners.

"The examiners are very important to the board so that it may keep up with monthly audits in two regions of the state," Miller said. The attorney and clerk would alleviate current administrative overloads.

"It is my hope that the governor will see fit to lift the hiring ban on the board. Without the necessary staff, services provided to our dairy farmers and leading agricultural industry may suffer," Miller said.

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — Receipts from buyers of 332 animals at the Somerset County Junior Livestock Sale held recently totaled $151,659, reported Doyle Paul, statistician.

A.J. and Shirley Walker, owners of Walker Farm Service Somerset, was premier buyer at the six-hour event. Buying some 19 animals from the 4-H and FFA kids, the Walkers laid out a tidy $15,047.

Sold first was the grand champion swine of Josh Will, Berlin. It brought a record-setting $9 per pound from the Somerset Trust Company, which donated it to the local Habitat for Humanity.

The Duroc-York hog weighed 245 pounds.

A York-cross was the 230-pound reserve grand champion sold by Kristin Randall, Somerset. Philson Bank paid $5.25 a pound for the animal.

With the champion, the 165 swine sold averaged $1.19 a pound.

One hundred lambs were sold with the grand champion, owned by Lindsay Schmuck, Rockwood, bringing $10.25 a pound from Tressler Ashland, Confluence.

The company also bought the reserve grand champion lamb owned by Lucas Svonavec, Rockwood, for $11 a pound, and paid another $11.50 a pound for the home grown champion owned by Jenna Svonavec, Rockwood.

Luke's lamb, a Suffolk weighed 118 and Jenna's, also a Suffolk, weighed 121 pounds. Schmuck's champion Hampshire weighed 129 pounds.

Average per-pound price for the 100 lambs was $1.96, reflecting the fact that one lamb was sold eight times to aid a 4-H family whose house burned a day prior to the fair.

Erin Livengood's grand champion led the 65 market beef animals that were auctioned. The Chianina/Maine/Angus, weighing 1,385 pounds brought prior, double honor for its Bowell owner as the county-bred champion.

Roy Hemminger was the purchaser, paying $9.50 a pound.

From Berlin, Jeremy Stair's reserve grand champion beef was sold to Walker Farm Service for $5 a pound. The animal weighed 1,195 pounds and was also the reserve county bred champion.

With the champion, market beef averaged $1.06 per pound.

Numerous fire companies received donations from the sale. Other beneficiaries were the Somerset Children's Aid Society, Somerset County 4-H Development Fund, Rockwood Sportsman's Club, Boy Scouts, Korns family, Somerset office of the Salvation Army, and a Mexico missionary.

Six auctioneers for the day were Betty Lou Svonavec, Reed Luce, Kermit Stahl, Mike Knepper, Bill Arnold, and Scott Mostoller.

Nutrient Management Board Advances Rule-Making

industry on the board, was named to serve as vice chairman.

The board, commission, members of the state Department of Agriculture (PDA), and Penn State University Extension service representatives have accomplished several key tasks over the summer.

First the commission had approved interim criteria for nutrient management certification regulations. Since the PDA is responsible under the law for administering a certification program for nutrient planning technicians, the interim criteria were needed solely to develop proposed regulations.

Those regulations have been proposed and approved by the board and the commission and are to undergo the regular review process for regulations, which includes public hearings and review by the Independent Regulatory Review Commission.

In other action to date, the board has approved a progress report to the commission, regulations concerning the delegation of administrative authority to the state's conservation districts, and 13 subchapters under "Chapter 83. Nutrient Mangement Regulations," which is a part of "Subchapter D. Nutrient Management," under "Title 25. Environmental Resources State Conservation Commission."

Background

The Nutrient Management Act was created by the state legislature as a means of ensuring the responsible use and control of nutrients within the commonwealth.

Of all nutrient sources and users, the first priority for legislators in creating the act was to deal with agriculture, largely because of its visibility and pressure from environmental and residential development interests.

Those representing agricultural interests also worked to ensure the passage of a nutrient management act, but had additional reasons.

Agricultural interests sought to create a reasonable state law that would supercede the authority of local municipalities, especially in urbanized areas, where local lawmakers had begun to create their own manure and nutrient management ordinances.

With a number of farming operations split between two or more political boundaries, there was the potential for a wide diversity of local ordinances affecting the same farming operation.

A state law was also seen as necessary because of changes within the state's agriculture industry from traditional livestock stocking densities to high density operations.

The primary target for control by the law is a high density livestock operation which creates more manure than the immediate farmland and farming operation can control, absorb and otherwise utilize.

Another motivation behind creating the law was to help achieve Gov. Robert Casey's goal of a 40-percent reduction in the flow of nutrients into the Chesapeake Bay by 2000. Casey signed an agreement with other governors in the Chesapeake Bay compact to reduce the nutrient flow to the bay, by a specific amount, by 2000.

For agriculture, the law currently targets those agricultural operations with animal densities at, or above, 2,000 pounds of animal liveweight per acre, on an "annualized basis."

Those operations must have nutrient management plans in place within one year after the effective date of the regulations.

The act gives the State Conservation Commission two years to develop regulations to carry out the act. The effective date of those regulations does not necessarily have to coincide with the approval date.

The target dates set last year were to have interim certification for nutrient management specialists approved by November 1993; interim criteria for the development of nutrient management planning by January 1994; to have nutrient management regulations proposed by July 1994, and finalized by July 1995; and to have nutrient management certification regulations proposed by July 1994 and finalized by January 1995.

To date, the board and the commission have effectively met these deadlines in order to meet the legal deadlines set within the Nutrient Management Act.

The interim certification for nutrient management specialists was basically a move to identify possible qualifying candidates for whom educational efforts would be directed so as to create a cadre of certified people to create and possibly review nutrient management plans.

The reason for this is because those farming operations which must have these plans have one year to get it done. If there aren't enough qualified people, the program could cause some undue burdens to farmers.

The common understanding among those on the board, is that those who work for government at the conservation district level, such as those working under the Chesapeake Bay Program to develop nutrient management plans, will become the officials who work with farmers in reviewing nutrient management plans; and at the same time, those in the private sector, such as crop advisors, would be trained to draw up nutrient management plans.

In the meantime, Penn State University Extension people have been working to create an educational program to train nutrient management specialists, who would then be tested through an exam that is also yet-to-be written. Before those projects can be completed, the other regulations must be finalized.

While it is not known exactly when the regulations will be finalized, it was reported that some background educational efforts about nutrient management are underway.

The Wednesday meeting was different than most in that two committees of the Nutrient Management Advisory Board met during the morning and gathered for a full board meeting in the afternoon.

One committee worked on developing consensus on what should be included in regulations concerning the structural design for storage and handling of manure, though nothing conclusive was decided.

It was discussed however, about discrepencies between standards currently employed by the USDA Soil Conservation Service and those endorsed in Pa. Department of Environmental Resources regulation.

One area specifically for further consideration concerns a federal standard first used by the Environmental Protection Agency. That standard was to require that water could not move through a membrane any faster than .00001 centimeters per second. That standard was later adopted by DER and has been used as a general goal by the SCS.

The SCS has been using practices with a variety of materials to achieve that level of leak-proofing in the construction of manure facilities it has helped design and finance. However, whether the materials used in the construction of a device actually achieve that level of impermeability is not known. Research and testing, limited as it is, has indicated that the SCS construction methods are satisfactory.

On the other hand, DER regulations require that the standard be met.

What apparently needs to be done, according to commitee members, is for the DER and SCS to agree to either a standard that is achievable, or to a series of construction methods that satisfactorily achieve that goal.

The full board met and reviewed the committees' reports from the morning sessions, but saved indepth discussion until the next meeting when the committees can have morning revisions made and updated copies provided to all members.

In the meantime, the board approved a motion to have the executive committee meet and review the subcommittee structure of the board for possible restructuring or additions.

The board meeting dates for the rest of the year were also announced: Oct. 12, in Room 105, of the Market Street Square Office Building (MSSOB otherwise known as the "DER Building"); Nov. 16, in Room 309 of the PDA building on Cameron Street; Dec. 13, in Rm. 105, MSSOB.

Lancaster To Host Northeast Gardener Conference

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The heart of Pennsylvania Dutch Country will be the site of this year's Northeast Regional Master Gardener Conference on Sept. 22-24 here at the Eden Resort.

The conference, open only to Master Gardeners from around the country, features Dr. Manfred Kroger, professor of Food Science at Penn State, who will address the safety of the region's "garden spot" food supply. Kroger will work on helping people understand the chemicals that make up food and what they do for you.

Hosting the regional conference, comprising Pennsylvania and states ranging from Maine through Virginia in the Northeast, has been something the state has wanted to do since 1990, according to conference chair, Shirley Wagner, a Lancaster Master Gardener.

"As soon as the Master Gardeners in New Jersey heard of the location, because of its popularity, there was a great deal of interest," said Wagner.

The conference will provide advanced training for master gardeners, which provides "update credits" so that they can keep the Master Gardener title, according to Bruce Hellerick, Lancaster horticulture agent.

Other speakers, hands-on workshops, and tours will comprise the conference. Included will be a Thursday evening Pennsylvania Dutch Smorgasbord.

Thursday's first session, organic gardening, will feature soaps, oils, and biorationals; natural enemies of garden pests; and beyond the basics of composting. The second session, Ornamentals I, will feature the Pennsylvania German garden, ornamental grasses in the landscape, and information about other pests rather than diseases and insects that can kill plants. The third session, Ornamentals II, features celebrating the American Landscape in Your Garden, hobby greenhouse management, and Jazzing Up the Shade. The fourth session, edibles, features Rogues and Other Odd Germplasm In the Garden, What's New In Vegetable Varieties, Does Soil Make Your Tomatoes Taste Better And Better For You?, and Measuring the Impact of Community Gardening.

Friday's first session, organic gardening, will feature A New Approach to Pest Control and composted sludge. The second concurrent session, Ornamentals I, will feature Low Maintenance Wild Flowers — Not! and What An Arborist Does For Trees That You Can't. Session three, Ornamentals II, features Gardening With Native Plants and pest-resistance landscape plants. The last session, edibles, features persimmons, kiwis, and other unusual fruits and edible landscaping.

Speakers include those from industry, Penn State extension, and regional master gardeners.

About 380 Master Gardeners were registered as of presstime. About 70 Master Gardeners will help coordinate the event.

L2900GST (25 0 PTO HP)

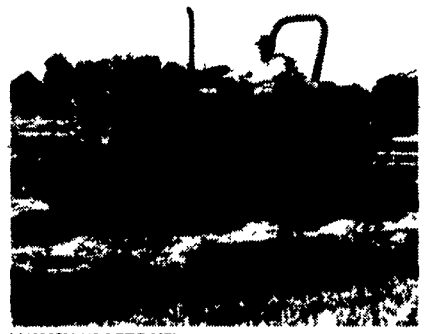
Kubota has a tractor that's just the right size for your vineyard, orchard, farm or ranch. Models range from 14 to 91 PTO horsepower. They feature Kubota liquid-cooled diesel engines, dependable hydraulics, and a standard 3-point hitch to let you attach a wide range of implements.

The B2150HSD is compact in size but has lots of power. Hydrostatic transmission, 4WD, and power steering make light work of loading, tilling or spraying.

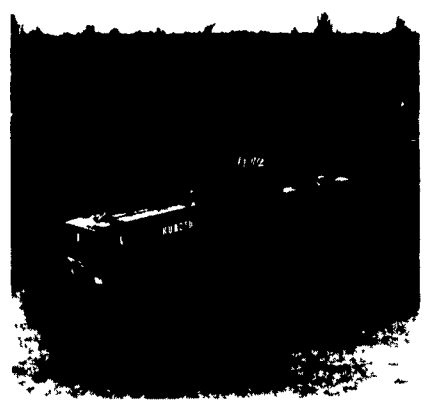
Economy and value are built into the L2350. Performance Matched Implements from Kubota include a rotary tiller, front loader, mower, snowblower, backhoe and post-hole digger.

The new L2900GST features the innovative Glideshift Transmission. This provides clutchless shift-on-the-go operation, and smooth forward and reverse shuttle shifting.

Our M4030SU utility tractor specializes in doing just about everything. With a smooth powerful five cylinder diesel engine and 42 PTO HP, it can help you with planting, cultivating, or bringing in the hay.



M4030SU (42 0 PTO HP)



M7030DTN-B (68 0 PTO HP)

The M7030DTN-B is our narrow tractor built to work between your trees or vines. Unique bevel gear 4WD gives you extra pulling power, and bi-speed turn provides the ability to make tight turns in narrow spaces. There are 16 forward speeds, ranging from creep at 0.25 mph to travel speed at 15.6 mph.

There are bigger models, and smaller ones. There are taller ones (mudders) and shorter ones (low profile). Your Kubota dealer can help fit the tractor that's just the right size for you.

Kubota Tractor Corporation markets a full line of tractors through a nationwide network of over 1,000 dealers

Cooperative Leaders

Cliff and Fay Berger, Southeast Region; Mike and Dorrie Blue, Western Region; Dennis and Joanne Weaver, Northern Region; and Rob and Jenny Gabel, South Central Region.

Conference participants and their cooperative sponsors are as follows. From the Southeast region of the state, those attending were: Earnest and Linda Gelsinger from Robesonia, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; Stephen and Darleen Burkholder of Alburtis, sponsored by Keystone Farm Credit; Bradley and Sandra Hershey of Smyrna, DE, sponsored by Keystone Farm Credit; Reed and Dianne Hoover of Lebanon, sponsored by Pennsylvania D.H.I.A.; and D.J. Duncan and Loretta Rothermel of Robesonia, sponsored by the Southeast Region Board.

From the Western region those that attended included: Bob and Jennifer Baughman from Townville, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; James and Linda Erickson of Harborcreek, sponsored by National Grape Cooperative; Bill Hoffer and Amy Lloyd of Acme, sponsored by Milk Marketing, Inc.; and sponsored by PennWest Farm Credit were, John and Wendy Cooper from Fombell, and Richard and Sandra Byham of Saegertown.

Attending from the Northern region of the state were: Steve and Sue Neff from Trout Run, sponsored by Atlantic Dairy; Tim and Denise Wetzel of Middleburg, sponsored by Sire Power, Inc.; and Art and Kelly Wolfe of Springville, sponsored by Eastern Milk Producers.

In attendance representing the South Central region of the state were: Daryl and Brenda Crider from Saint Thomas, sponsored by Atlantic Breeders Cooperative; Mark and Lois Yoder of Imler, sponsored by Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers; Dwight and Susan Dotterer of Woodsboro, MD, sponsored by Agway, Inc.; Terry Stump of York, sponsored by Dairymen, Inc.; Dale and Jennie Brown of Gettysburg, sponsored by Atlantic Dairy; Jason and Kathy Jones of Carlisle, sponsored by Cumberland-Perry Co-op Council; Robert and Debra Hartung of Mercersburg, sponsored by York Farm Credit; and Leon Sollenberger of Everett, sponsored by Dairylea, Inc.

Recognizing and developing leadership skills is one of the purposes of the conference. A special opportunity is offered to four participating couples to return as part of a leadership team that plans the conference for the following year. Those selected as region leaders for the 1995 conference were: Bradley and Sandra Hershey representing the Southeast region; Bob and Jennifer Baughman representing the Western region; representing the Northern region will be Steve and Sue Neff; and Mark and Lois Yoder representing the South Central region. Mike and Dorrie Blue were selected to serve as the 1995 conference chair couple.

Crystal Smithmyer, Executive Director of PCC says, "We are consistently encouraged by the quality and enthusiasm of our young farmer participants. These producers are committed to their families and their farm, and are eager to invest time and energy into creating a secure and productive operation."

PCC is a statewide association of cooperative businesses owned and controlled by farmers and rural Pennsylvanians. Its membership includes major marketing and farm supply cooperatives, the Farm Credit Associations of Pennsylvania as well as rural electric cooperatives. Organized in 1933, PCC is the voice for agricultural and rural cooperatives operating in Pennsylvania. For more information contact the PCC office, Cricket Field Plaza, Building 2, Suite 104, 600 Chestnut Avenue, Altoona, 16601.

Mifflin County Dairy Princess Arrested

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

LEWISTOWN (Mifflin Co.) — Area "police" report the arrest and conviction of one of Mifflin County's leading dairy industry representatives, Mifflin County Dairy Princess Erin Goss.

According to authorities, Goss had just completed a dairy promotion program at the McVeytown Senior Citizens Center and had left the building with her Dairy Princess Program Coordinator Cheryl Glick and Alternate Dairy Princess Cindy Yoder. The three entered the parking lot at the rear of the building and approached Glick's van. Because of conflicting reports, what happened next is still under investigation.

According to police reports, arresting officer for the American Cancer Society's Jail and Bail Fundraiser, Bob Gombos, just happened to be in the area when he spotted Goss with the damaging evidence, the soda, in her hand. He immediately sprang into action, apprehended the perpetrator and read her rights.

The culprit was apprehended at 11:05 a.m. on Thursday, August 25th, being caught in the act, and was immediately handcuffed and transported by Gombos to the old Mifflin County Courthouse in Lewistown where she donned the criminal's black and white striped uniform, so like the black and white bovines she vowed so faithfully to represent. She was placed behind bars, awaiting her chance to see the judge.

Just minutes later, Gombos escorted Goss to face Judge Frank Berrier (an area businessman). While climbing the steps to the courthouse, Goss was heard to have said, "This is a set-up!" I've been framed!".

Standing before Judge Berrier, the baliff read the charges brought against Goss and asked what she had to say for herself.

"I am not guilty," Goss claimed in her own defense before the court and a jury of two. "Someone put it in my hands. I didn't drink any!".

After further discussion, Judge Berrier found Goss guilty and imposed an even harsher sentence by stating, "Get her for loitering too!".

Goss spent the next hour phoning friends and relatives to raise bail for her release. Her first pledge came from County Commissioner Ora Sunderland, Erin's grandfather.

In the end, Mifflin County's Dairy Princess redeemed herself and saved a dairy day gone sour, by raising $265 for the American Cancer Society, a cause also worthy of Erin's time. Dairy Princess Coordinator Cheryl Glick returned Goss's sash and crown untarnished, proud to have Erin Goss back as one of our county's dairy representatives and now a reformed milk drinker.

According to the American Cancer Society Jail - N - Bail Fundraising event, someone can have another person "arrested" for $25. Erin Goss still believes she was framed and believes she knows who arranged the sting operation.

Fund raising Chairman for the American Cancer Society Bob Gombos handcuffs Erin Goss at the scene of the crime.

Phoning for support to get out of jail, Erin Goss calls friends and relatives for help in raising bail money for the American Cancer Society.

Jami Todd Reigns As Maryland Farm Queen

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

TIMONIUM, Md. — Jami M. Todd, of Caroline County, is the new Maryland Farm Queen. She was crowned August 28th at the contest held at Cow Palace at the fairgrounds in Timonium, held in conjunction with the State Fair. The pageant helped kick off festivities at the fair, which ran through September 6, and is one of the state's largest showcases for agriculture. Jami will replace Kristin Archer, outgoing Farm Queen.

Four runners-up were also selected, and will assist the Queen in promoting Maryland agriculture during fair week and by helping her with appearances throughout the state during her reign. They are 4th Runner-up, Mary Ellne Seraydian of Carroll County; 3rd Runner-up, April Hall of Queen Anne's County; 2nd Runner-up, Rebecca Reinhardt of Howard County; and 1st Runner-up, Kimberly Stup of Frederick County.

In all twenty-one contestants vied for the Farm Queen title, representing all corners of the state, and illustrating the diversity of Maryland Agriculture. The enterprises the girls participate in varied from dairy and beef to orchards, farm markets, and perennial and nursery stock, equine, and poultry operations.

Jami Todd lives on a truck crop and small grains fare with her parents John and Jackie, and brother Ryan in Preston, Maryland, where the seventeen-year-old high school senior's responsibilities include driving tractors, disking, going for parts and supplies, answering phones, cutting grass, and moving irrigation. The Todds raise approximately 50 acres of sweet corn for canning, and 20 acres of green beans. Jami is active in school in the art, photography and French Clubs, Future Business Leaders of America, varsity volleyball, and student government. She also teaches Sunday School and Vacation Bible School at her church, and is involved at a local hospital as a volunteer. She plans to attend college and pursue a career as a biology teacher or an environmental lawyer.

John Butler, field services director for the Maryland Farm Bureau, served as Program emcee. After introducing herself, each girl was asked to randomly choose a question from inside a miniature barn, and then present her answer to the audience. Questions ranged from, "What values has growing

Jami Todd is the new Maryland Farm Queen. Jami lives on a 100-acre vegetable and small grains farm in Caroline County, where she helps out with driving tractors, going for parts and supplies, and other chores as needed. She will represent Maryland agriculture at the State Fair this week and throughout the coming year.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Boy, it's good to be home. I've heard about these "vacations" from some of the other girls, but that was my first one.

Some vacation it started out to be. First they dragged me out of the comfortable meadow, where I was just getting ready for a nap. In fact, I'd just settled down into my favorite spot, that muddy corner behind the biggest tree trunk, when they came looking for me.

Chased me and a couple of my herdmates back into the pen. Then they slipped one of those halters on each of us and led us outside. They've been doing that for awhile, taking us for walks each evening. I like it because we always get an extra scoop of grain afterward.

Not this time. Next thing I knew we were inside a stuffy trailer, and I was stuck next to that bossy Bessie. She thinks she's such big stuff, just because she's a little older and taller than me. And she kept shoving me with her hard head.

The air blowing around my face felt good when we started moving down the road. Befor long though, they stopped and opened the door. There were a lot of loud noises and strange smells and people all over the place. My owner called it the "fair". A couple of people tried to pet me when they took me out of the trailer. It scared me and I jumped away.

Then they tied me in a stall. At least it wasn't with Bessie. She got tied in with Wanda, who always steals everyone's feed. Serves her right.

Just when I'd settle ddown in this soft pile of fresh straw, they came along and made me get up again. Next thing I knew, I was getting a haircut with that noisy clipper thing. It took forever. My feet were tired and that loose hair made me all itchy. Finally they stopped, and let me have a drink. But the water tasted funny, not like what we have in the meadow. I was really thirsty, but I only drank a little.

Bessie went next. She was still lovesick for that bull and moped around and bawled in front of the judge. She didn't get a ribbon at all.

I couldn't wait to tell the other heifers in the pasture all about my vacation when we got home a couple of days later. Bessie hasn't said a word to me ever since.

I wonder when we can go on vacation again?

New Weigh Of Life

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Lose weight for a lifetime. Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences has introduced a weight-management program designed to help people shed pounds — permanently.

"Although many people lose weight on traditional diets and weight-control plans, 95 percent gain the weight back," says Dr. Madeleine Sigman, assistant professor of food, science and a registered dietitian. To address the problem, Sigman developed "MY NEW WEIGH OF LIFE", a program that teaches participants to integrate weight loss into their lifestyles, "managing your weight is a personal issue," Sigman says. "To be permanent it must become part of your life."

The program grew out of current research into theories about obesity, weight loss and coping management. Participants are given accurate, up-to-date information about food, nutrition and exercise. They are encouraged to recognize their own needs and choices and to be more physically active. Participants alos learn how to lower the fat content of favorite recipes. The program's philosophy is that there are no forbidden foods, only those a person might choose to eat less often and in smaller amounts. By keeping a diary of their food intake and mood patterns, participants identify behaviors that have led them to overeat. Record keeping also helps them set realistic goals.

For permanent results, the program calls for a slow loss of weight, ½ to 2 pounds per week. Enrollees must eat three meals daily. "If you don't eat for a long time during the day, your body signals to itself that whatever comes in next should be stored as fat," says Sigman. "If you skip a meal to lose weight, you actually are defeating the purpose."

Toward the program's end, participants are shown how to cope with relapses and how to establish a weight-maintenance support group. Class Limit 15. Cost: $60.00.

Day - Instructor: Lynda Lueck-Stoner 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. - September 15, 22, 29, October 6, 13, 20, 27, November 3,10, 17, December 1,8.

Both day and evening classes will be held in the Extension Training Room of the Farm and Home Center, 1383 Arcadia Road, Lancaster, Pa. Penn State encourages persons with disabilities to participate in its programs and activities. If you anticipate needing any type of accommodation or have questions about the physical access provided, please contact Althea Engle (394-6851) in advance of your participation or visit. up on a farm instilled in you?" to, "What can government do to help today's farmers as they continue to pursue agriculture as a profession?"

The unenviable task of selecting a winner went to the JUdging team of Patti Crow, chairwoman of the West Virginia Farm Bureau Women's Committee; Michele Awad, Agriculture in the Classroom coordinator for the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation; and Christie Beam, communications director for the National Association of RV/Parks Campgrounds.

The Queen receives a $2,000 scholarship from the Maryland State Fari, which will be supplemented by an additional $1,000 provided by the Maryland Agricultural Fairboard. She will also receive $1,000 to reimburse her for expenses involved in appearing at various functions, and the use of a brand new GMC Jimmy for 90 days.

Guest Speakers included chairman of Maryland Farm Bureau Women, Cora Widdowson, and C. William Knill, president of Maryland Farm Bureau, Inc. Entertainment was provided by the New Legacy Jazz Band.

Do As I Say

You're familiar with the old phrase, "Do as I say, not as I do." Well I never thought that was a very fair (or wise) saying. I "always" thought that people should practice the same rules and fulfill the same expectations that they recommend to others. Well last week I experienced a burning reminder of why, no matter who you are, you should follow the rules and principles presented by the experts.

I can't tell you how many times I've read directions from the USDA canning guide to callers who need help with food processing procedures. Now canning directions have been tested, and the cautions are placed there with good reason. Consider, for instance the cautions for canning hot pepers — "Wear rubber gloves when handling hot peppers." During the past few years, I have had multiple callers phone in after the fact to say that their hands were burning, and how could they get the hot oils off their skin. Unfortunately, I had no easy solution.

I say "unfortunately," because last week I got lazy. I've worked with hot peppers before and worn gloves, but last week I thought I could "get away without following the directions." I cup up a few beautiful red and orange peppers for a homemade salsa. Well . . . not only did my forehead tingle from the volatile oils but the skin under my fingernails seared with pain. It hurt to grip a pen. (Not to mention the fact that I spoiled a whole bowl of fresh cut peaches because i used the same paring knife to cut them that cut the peppers!) Even a day later the burning sensation persisted.

Who did I think I was to be above the law of the nature of hot peppers? But, in a way, it was a lesson I needed to relearn. I oftne get frustrated when callers phone in for my advice and then proceed to tell me how they've done it differently all their lives and they're not going to change. Or,they may say, "I know the books say I should do this, but I'm not going to do that anyway." I try to remind them that the parenting, food safety, and financial publications that we distribute (and use as teaching references) have been heavily researched. The recommendations are made for a reason.

Consider these rules: Don't leave protein foods out for more than two hours toatl at room temperature; a two-year-old child should stay in time-out only two minutes, a three-year-old only three minutes; a child will have the developomental skills to take shoes OFF much sooner than she will have the skills to put them on; regular saving of small amounts will accumulate more funds over the long haul than sporadic deposits gained out of good fortune; every family needs an emergency fund of at least three months income in a liquid savings account.

We know these things. Do you find yourself cutting corners, and hoping you can get away with the "do as I say, not as I do" slogan? Remember, your kids and coworkers are absorbing everything you do and say, and actions tend to hold more weight than words. Learn from my carelessness. Before you find your skin seared from the "hot peppers" of your life, take the time to think through and follow the principles you know to be true. Don't short change yourself. The rules were placed there for a reason. Consider the comfort I would have gained if I had taken two minutes to dig out the gloves before I started chopping!

Couple's Communication

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — "You just don't listen to me!" Have you or your partner ever said that or felt like saying it?

Good communication is a skill we all need to have in order to build healthy relationships. "Communicating As A Couple" is a four-week series being co-sponsored by Penn State Cooperative Extension and Bethany Counseling Ministry. The series will be held Wednesdays, October 5, 12. 19, and 26, from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m., at Penn State Eastgate Center, Seventh and Herr Street, Harrisburg.

This series is designed for any couple desiring to strengthen their relationshipp by improving their communication skills. Pre-Registration of $40 is required by Thursday, September 29. To register call the Penn State Cooperative Extension - Dauphin County Office at (717) 921-8803.

Pancakes For Every Occasion

Pancakes are a favorite with the breakfast crowd. Although traditionally served at breakfast, pancakes appear at other times as well as around the clock. With crisp bacon or tasty sausages, pancakes are hearty enough for lunch. Served with fruit, pancakes can be used a dessert.

Whether they are called pancakes, griddlecakes, hotcakes, flapjacks, wheatcakes or flannel cakes, they are cooked in one form or another in all nations.

Pancakes made from traditional and novel recipes are no longer relegated to breakfast fare. Serve them for dessert or a light supper. Make them ahead, freeze, and warm up in a microwave.

WHOLE WHEAT PANCAKES

2 cups milk
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups whole wheat flour, more or less

In large container, mix together milk, eggs, and baking powder. Add flour, beating only until large lumps disappear. Add more flour if batter is runny.

Spray skillet with vegetable spray and lightly brown pancakes over medium heat.

Batter may be refrigerated and used within one to two days.

This batter may also be used for waffles. Top with syrup, apple butter or crushed pineapple.

PANCAKES

2 tablespoons oil
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

In large bowl, beat oil, milk, and egg together. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Add dry ingredients, blending well. Stir in 1 tablespoon milk. Fry on lightly oiled hot griddle. Makes about 8 pancakes.

3 scallions, with leaves, chopped fine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Preheat griddle or large frying pan over moderately high heat. In a medium saucepan, combine milk and pumpkin puree and stir over low heat until blended, about 1 minute. Stir in the cornmeal and heat until mixture is soft, about 1 minute longer. Remove from heat and scrape into bowl. Add baking powder, butter, cayenne, and chili powder; stir until well blended. Add the eggs, scallions, and parsley. Stir briefly to blend. Lightly butter the griddle. Spoon on 2 tablespoons of batter to form cakes 2- to 3-inches in diameter. Cook until tiny holes form in the center of the cakes, 1 to 2 minutes. Carefully turn over and cook until done through, 1 to 2 minutes longer. Makes 12 to 16 small cakes. Serves 4.

SPICED APPLE PANCAKES

2 cups baking mix
1 egg
1⅓ cups milk
¾ cup grated apples
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups apple cider
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup butter, softened

Combine baking mix, egg, milk, and grated apples in bowl; mix well. Drop by tablespoonful onto hot griddle. Bake until browned on each side. Combine sugar, cornstarch, cinnamon, and nutmeg in small saucepan. Stir in cider and lemon juice. Bring to a boil. Cook for one minute; remove from heat. Add butter, stirring until melted. Serve over hot pancakes. May add dollop of sour cream on each pancake.

GERMAN BLUEBERRY BAKED PANCAKE

4 eggs
¼ cup flour
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup milk
1-pound 6-ounce can blueberry pie filling
¼ cup slivered branched almonds
Confectioners' sugar

Beat eggs, flour, sugar, and milk until smooth. Pour batter into a heavily greased 10-inch skillet with a heatproof or removable handle. Bake in in preheated 425-degree oven for 10 minutes, reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake another 10 minutes or until pancake edge curls up and over the side of the skillet and is richly browned. Heat blueberry pie filling. Remove pancake from oven and spoon hot blueberry mixture into middle of pancake. Sprinkle with slivered almonds and confectioners' sugar. Cut into wedges to serve. Serves 6.

NEAT-O BURRITO

1 piece (1 ounce) string cheese
1 (6-inch) flour tortilla
1 tablespoon jarred chunky-style salsa

Place string cheese slightly off the center of the tortilla; top cheese with salsa. Roll up like a jelly roll. Place seam side down on a small plate; lightly cover with plastic wrap, leaving a corner open for steam to escape. Microwave on HIGH until cheese melts, about 30 seconds. Let cool slightly before eating. Remember filling may be much hotter than the outside.

RASPBERRY-APPLE MILK SHAKE

1 cup lowfat milk
2 tablespoons frozen apple juice concentrate
1 container (8 oz.) raspberry lowfat yogurt

In a medium bowl using a whisk or large fork, combine milk and apple juice concentrate until smooth. You can also shake them in a jar with a tight fitting cover. With a small spoon stir the yogurt; add it to the milk and apple juice concentrate. Stir or shake until smooth and blended. Makes 2 servings.

Freeze Instead Of Can

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — A very common question in the Wayne County Extension office this time of year is "How long should I can it?"

Unless you are using a recipe from one of the new canning books, the answer Debra Bryant, county extension director, gives folks is "freeze it instead."

She said unless the recipe has been tested by researchers, I's only be guessing at a safe time. And the health and safety of your family isn't something to guess about. If home canned products are hot processed long enough, there is a risk for botulism, a deadly disease.

U.S. Department of Agriculture researchers conduct rigorous tests to determine recommended processing times and pressures. They are based on the food itself, jar size, and type of preparation.

If you are still using an old cookbook, grandma's recipe for spaghetti sauce, or creating your own recipes, your best bet is to freeze these foods.

For example, adding peppers and onions to spice up your home-canned tomato sauce may decrease the acidity of the product enough that a higher heat treatment is needed to destroy the spores of Clostridum botulinum. Without the peppers and onions, the product is acidic enough to keep the bacteria in check.

Freezing keeps all bacteria in check, regardless of the acidity or consistency of the product. It does not kill bacteria, so once the food thaws, bacteris may grow again.

For highest quality during frozen storage, use moisture-vapor-proof packaging materials and store in a freezer that maintains the food at or less than zero degrees Fahrenheit. If your freezer or freezer compartment does not maintain this temperature, limit frozen storage of foods to less than two months.

Pack cooked sauces and chilies into freezer containers to one-half inch of the container's top, seal, label and place in the freezer. Fresh fruits and vegetables require some preparation to ensure high eating quality.

Raw vegetables, except green peppers and onions, maintain a better quality during frozen storage if steamed or water blanched before freezing. This stops the enzymes that cause spoilage and helps retain nutrients and color. After blanching (steaming briefly over or emerging in boiling water), submerge vegetables immediately in ice water until they cool to the center. Drain, place in an airtight container and freeze.

Fruits do not need to be blanched. However, light-colored fruits, such as peaches, pears and apples, retain their light color longer during frozen storage if dipped in an ascorbic acid/water mixture before freezing. Use 1 teaspoon crystalline ascorbic acid per cup of cold water or follow directions on commercial mixtures.

If you like your fruits and vegetables frozen in loose-packed bags, place the fruits and drained blanched vegetables on cookie sheets and freeze solid. Transfer to plastic freezer bags.

To prevent your freezer from becoming a dumping ground of strange mystery packages, label products with the name of the food, the type of pack (sugar pack or sugar-free), and date of freezing. Rotate packages and use the oldest ones first. Most fruits, vegetables and sauces maintain high quality for eight to 12 months.

If you would like complete freezing instructions, you may pick up "How to Freeze Foods the Right Way" for $1.50 at the Wayne County Extension Office, 925 Court St., Honesdale, PA 18431.

LEESPORT (Berks Co.) — For many people, losing weight is an on-going situation which can only be accomplished by making real changes in diet and behavior. Weight is very often put on the body a little at a time over a long period of time. It really makes sense then to take the weight off in a similar manner.

A positive approach is to think about foods and to eat foods that are low in calories, high in nutritional value and foods you can eat in unlimited quantity. Think about vegetables and fruits in general, but in particular: broccoli, cucumbers, green peppers, greens, mushrooms, zucchini, plain popcorn, vegetable juice, and water.

Some low fat foods, high protein and minerals need to be eaten in controlled amounts; low fat milk, plain yogurt, fish, chicken, turkey and tuna are all good choices. Apples, bananas, grapes, potatoes and pasta, whole wheat bread are also good choices eaten plain. It is often the topping, butter or sugar, added to this group of food which really increase the calories. A little less sauce, butter, or sugar can keep meals delightful and help you take control of your health.

A category of foods that are good nutritionally (i.e. contain protein, carbohydrates, vitamins, and minerals) but also contain considerable amounts of fat need to be eaten with caution. Control the amount of whole milk, flavored yogurt, cheese, beef, pork, lamb or ham, luncheon meat, foods like pizza, tacos, chili, and peanut butter.

If you really want to lose weight and cut out unnecessary fat in the diet, stop eating high fat foods like margarine, butter, whipped cream, mayonnaise, salad dressing, Coke, pie, milk shakes, ice cream, and jam. Save these foods for small servings on special occasions.

Some real tips for taking weight off and keeping it off include:

- Drink plenty of water every day, about six to eight (8 oz.) glasses. This will fill you up, cleanse your system, plus keep your skin and hair healthy.
- Diet with a friend, and give each other positive reinforcement.
- Make up a personal eating schedule to follow every day including healthy snacks.
- Try to keep yourself busy, away from the kitchen so that you won't be tempted to eat.
- Make a commitment to losing weight for an extended period of time, only you can do it.
- If you give up a small bag of potato chips each day, in one year you will lose 19 lbs. or one tablespoon of butter daily equals 10 pounds in a year.

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — Tim Newcomer, Carlisle, would like a recipe for butter fudge or a similar one that is sold in candy shops on the boardwalk at the shore. It has a smooth, creamy texture and is flavored with vanilla, peanut butter, or chocolate. The mixture is boiled and stirred.

QUESTION — M. Lehman would like a recipe for canning carrots. Can she use honey to sweeten the carrots?

QUESTION — Mary Haug, Stewartstown, would like a recipe for candy apples. The recipe she has results in the candy cover falling off after a few hours. Is there a remedy for this problem?

QUESTION — Lois Harbold would like a recipe for Shoo-Fly Bread.

QUESTION — D. Newsom, Cooperstown, N.Y. lost one of her favorite cookbooks when she moved. She would like the following recipes to replace the ones lost: Queen Anne's Lace Jelly, lobster or crabmeat dip that is very delicate and has few ingredients, Black Walnut Chiffon Cake that tastes similar to Mrs. Smith's, Strawberry Shortcake with a cooked frosting, and Spiedie Marinade for meat.

QUESTION — A Lancaster County reader would like a recipe for pepper jelly made with Karo or white corn syrup.

QUESTION — G. Wismer, Plumstead, wants a recipe for canning Hungarian wax hot peppers to be canned in oil and vinegar.

QUESTION — Mrs. John Snyder Jr., Sunbury, wants a recipe for cheese-filled Jalapeno peppers.

QUESTION — D.J. Long would like recipes for canned soups such as cream of mushroom, cream of celery, cream of chicken, and tomato. She would like to can them in her pressure canner.

QUESTION — Glenna Shaner, Hughesville, would like a recipe for mint jelly made with apple juice.

QUESTION — Dixie Fix, Harrisonville, would like a recipe for bananas in red syrup like that served by Ponderosa and Shoney's breakfast and salad bars.

QUESTION — Cathy Christ, Parkesburg, would like a recipe for homemade dog biscuits.

QUESTION — J. Sensenig, Mohnton, would like to know if the striped cushaw pumpkin can be used for both canning and baking. Also, is the inside texture fine or coarse?

QUESTION — Dorothy Everitt, Benton, would like to know how to make peppers stuffed with cabbage. Her grandmother used to make them and put them in a crock in some type of brine.

QUESTION — Do any readers have a recipe for homemade ice cream made from potatoes?

QUESTION — G. Minckler would like a recipe for appy bread. She said that she isn't sure of the spelling for appy and I have no idea what she is referring to. Can any of our readers help?

QUESTION — Claire Johnson, Damascus, Md., would like a recipe for Philly Chippers, chocolate chip cookies make with 8-ounces of cream cheese. She wrote that the recipe appeared in this paper previously but she lost the recipe, which she said makes the best chocolate chip cookies ever. We do not file the recipes. Did any of our readers clip it?

QUESTION — Mary Stoltzfus would like to know where to purchase wheat germ meal.

ANSWER — Mary Jane Rummel, Linglestown, wanted a recipe for potato cakes, made with mashed potatoes, flour, and eggs. Thanks to Linda Boyer, Narvon, for sending a recipe that has been her family's favorite for years. She said that it came from a hand written book from her Grandma Sweitzer who probably got it from her mother Anna Mint.

Potato Cakes

1 cup mashed potatoes
½ cup flour
2 eggs
¼ cup diced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon minced celery
Salt and pepper to taste
½ cup milk

Add eggs to potatoes and mix well. Add flour and blend in remaining ingredients. Batter will be a little thick and lumpy. Drop by spoonfuls on hot greased griddle. When brown, flip and press to flatten. Brown and flip again. Place on hot plate and keep warm until serving.

Additional onion, parsley, and celery can be added in the amounts to suit your taste. Also add more milk if batter is too stiff.

ANSWER — Mary Jane Rummel, Linglestown, wanted a recipe for hot bacon dressing. Thanks to Linda Boyer, Narvon, who sent her grandma Sweitzer's recipe; Ruth Seager, Blain, and others for sending recipes.

Hot Bacon Dressing

Fry 8 strips bacon in pan until crisp. Remove bacon from skillet and drain on paper towels. Remove fat from pan except for 2 tablespoons. Add:

4 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg
4 tablespoons vinegar
2 cups water

Mix sugar, flour, and salt. Add egg, vinegar, and water. Add all to pan and cook until thickened. Add crumbled bacon. For a clear dressing use cornstarch instead of flour.

Hot Bacon Dressing

1 pound bacon, cut in pieces
2½ cups sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup water
1 cup vinegar

Fry bacon until crisp. Remove from heat. Mix sugar, cornstarch, vinegar, and water. Stir mixture into cooled bacon and fat. Stir and simmer until thickened.

Ruth writes that this recipe is for more than one meal and will keep in refrigerator for a long time.

ANSWER — D. Newsom, Cooperstown, N.Y., Macaroni-Fruit Salad with a cooked dressing. Thanks to Glenna Shaner, Hughesville, for sending the following recipe.

Gelatin Macaroni Fruit Salad

1 cup soupettes
20-ounce cans pineapple chunks
11-ounce can mandarin oranges
1 jar maraschino cherries
8-ounces whipped cream topping
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt

Cook soupettes as directed on box. Rinse and drain well. Drain and keep juice from pineapple chunks and oranges. Drain cherries, discard juice. Cook fruit juices with sugar, eggs, flour, and salt. Cook until thick, then cool.

Add to soupettes and fruit. Chill overnight. Fold in whipped topping the following morning and decorate the top with maraschino cherries.

ANSWER — Peg Koser, Lancaster, wanted a recipe for making fresh lemonade with the liquid simmered on top of the stove? Thanks to Minckler for sending a recipe that she said makes a good cheap lemonade that is very refreshing.

Economical Lemonade

1 lemon
½ pound granulated sugar
½ -ounce cream of tartar
2 quarts boiling water
Sprigs of mint

Wash the lemon and slice it thinly, put it into a jug with ½ pound granulated sugar and ½ -ounce cream of tartar. Pour over the two quarts of boiling water and stir well with a wooden spoon. Cover the jug and leave it to cool — best if left overnight.

Pour the lemonade into glass jars and leave the slices of lemon floating. Wash a few sprigs of mint and add these. Make sure the lemonade is really cold before drinking.

GRATED POTATO PANCAKES

6 medium raw potatoes
1 small onion
2 slightly beaten eggs
3 tablespoons flour
Dash pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder, optional

Pare and grate raw potatoes and onion. Let stand 10 minutes so the liquid will rise to the top.

Remove liquid. Stir in eggs. Add remaining ingredients and blend together.

Drop by spoonfuls into a hot well-greased skillet. Brown on both sides over moderate heat. Drain on absorbant paper. Serve hot with applesauce, sugar, or sour cream. Serves 6.

This is an old-time Jewish dish.

COTTAGE CHEESE PANCAKES

2 eggs
½ cup sieved cottage cheese
¾ cup thin sour cream
¾ cup sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Beat eggs, and blend with cottage cheese; stir in sour cream. Sift flour with baking soda and salt. Add to egg mixture and beat thoroughly.

Let batter stand a few minutes before baking. Cook on hot, lightly greased griddle until browned, turning once.

Serve hot with butter and applesauce. Makes 10 to 12 pancakes.

GERMAN PANCAKES

3 egg yolks
½ cup milk
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
3 egg whites

Beat egg yolks with fork in bowl until thick and lemon-colored. Add ½ cup milk, stirring well. Add flour, baking powder and salt, mixing thoroughly. Stir in remaining ½ cup milk. Beat egg whites in mixer bowl until stiff peaks form. Fold into batter gently. Drop by ½ cupful onto hot greased griddle. Bake several minutes on each side until browned. Yield: eight 5-inch pancakes.

SCIENCE MAGIC

This experiment with electricity will show you how to make cereal fly.

Hold a plastic hair comb and rub one end vigorously with a piece of plastic food wrap. Then dip that end into a bowl of puffed cereal. The grains of cereal should cling to the comb. Keep holding the comb. You will notice that the grains will start flying or popping off.

Why does this happen? Most things are uncharged, but occasionally objects pick up a positive or negative electrical charge. When they do, they attract items that are uncharged or oppositely charged. They repel ones that have a similar charge. At first, the comb had a charge and the cereal did not, so the cereal stuck to the comb. But slowly, the electric charge transferred to the cereal. Once the two items have similar charges, the forces push them apart and the cereal flies!

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

This summer we have been inundated with grandchildren. You see, nine of our eleven visited at different times. The last three from Virginia just left with their parents. While the parents attended a meeting in Tennessee, we tried to entertain them.

Most of the time they were contented to visit the dairy farm. Here they rode bicycles and tricycles down a barn hill and on a lane. The speed scared me but not them. The many barn cats were a big attraction too.

One day we took them fishing at a lake in the county. The oldest caught a nice catfish and all of them enjoyed guiding the boat with an electric motor. I was left on shore as four in a boat was the limit. In an hour I caught seven small fish and threw all of them back. At least only three earthworms were used. Then I simply sat on an over-turned canoe and waited for them to come back. When an ice cream truck drove through the parking lot, I bought an orange popsicle as I was thirsty — they had the thermos.

Last night I attended a meeting to learn to be a good liturgist. In other words to be a lay reader — speak slowly, loudly and articulate. I've done it before and enjoyed the experience.

There are so many things to catch up on now that our little visitors have gone. Some pears to peel, limas to shell, and corn to freeze. This week I'll have to pick the strawberries by myself and the green beans too.

The grandchildren thought we had a lot of "old things" sitting around and I guess we do, but we enjoy looking at them.

Recognize Teen-age Stress

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — Adults have no monopoly on stress. Adolescents are particularly prone to stressful pressure from peers, parents, teachers and outside events.

All that stress, however, is not necessarily bad.

Stress is simply our body's reaction to any situation or event that frustrates, endangers, excites or confuses us. Parents need to help their teens distinguish between negative stress and the stress that is good for them — the kind that makes them geared up and excited about living.

What types of negative stress are teenagers feeling? Teens often mention pressure to make good grades in school. Other stressful situations include family hassles over the use of the car, unfinished jobs, curfews, and choice of friends, clothes and social activities. The divorce or separation of parents can be stressful, as can be the illness or death of a family member, friend or pet.

Outward signs of stress in a teenager can be observed by family members. They include grouchiness, crying, sleeplessness, not eating or overeating, using drugs or alcohol, smoking, withdrawal, headaches, depression or poor concentration.

Lucy Jackson Bayles from West Virginia University Extension provides the following pointers for adults who are dealing with teenagers under stress:

• Remember that adolescence is not an easy time of life. Teens often go through dramatic physical and mental changes in a short period. Fortunately, most teenagers enjoy life and are happy with themselves most of the time. Nearly everyone, however, has a few bumpy times as they progress through their teen years.

• Growing up means becoming independent. Young adults who do as they are told all the time may not be well-prepared for a world where they are constantly required to make decisions for themselves. Teenagers need opportunities to be in charge of their lives and practice problem solving and decision making.

• Many parents find it helpful to give teens greater responsibility for decisions in non-dangerous areas, such as selecting clothes or bedtimes, while retaining control over important or potentially harmful situations. Parents may have to change their style of parenting to allow their teens to become more independent and responsiblle for their own lives.

If you would like information on effective parenting - whether preschoolers or adolescents, call Wayne County Cooperative Extension, (717) 253-5970 ext. 239, or stop in the office in the basement of the original courthouse, 925 Court St., Honesdale, PA.

4-H'ers Hold Native American Festival

BETH MILLER
Cumberland Co.
Correspondent

CARLISLE (Cumberland Co.) — Time was turned back for a day during the Native American Festival 4-H day camp held in Carlisle's Shaffer Park.

The camp was open to all 4-H members and those who participated had fun learning about Native American dances, songs, games, food, crafts, and folklore.

The guest of honor for the festival was Paul "Three Crows" Grothe of the Delaware Nation.

Trish Pino showing her collection of Navaho treasures.

Grothe lives in Hummelstown and, as a representative of his nation, he attends pow wows and tribal meetings. He also makes presentations to different groups to educate them about the Native American way of life.

He taught the campers a lot during the Shaffer Park festival such as how to make decorative mendallas and what the different signs on the mendallas mean. He also stressed to them that they should think positively about life.

During several hikes in the woods, Grothe explained how Native Americans feel about nature, about how they believe they are one with it. He told the campers the different meanings his people draw from natural events.

Finally, he demonstrated the different songs and dances his tribe has done for centuries and the symbolism behind each of them.

Another participant in the festival was Trish Pino, who is a nurse at the Messiah Village retirement community in Mechanicsburg.

She gained her experience of Native American life when she spent three years in the health services department on a Navaho reservation. It was on that reservation that she met her husband.

Pino brought all types of Navaho artifacts along for the campers to see and touch. For example, she brought a Navaho doll and showed the youngsters how the Navaho wrap their babies in blankets and carry them on their backs.

She also explained the lifestyle of the Navaho and their customs.

A total of 40 campers and 10 teen counselors participated in the festival.

They spent part of their time in a project that will help Native Americans on a reservation. Every camper worked on quilted lap covers that are to be sent to a reservation. Six of the lap covers were completed during the day of the camp.

Campers and leaders make lap quilts to send to a Native American Reservation.

Sylvia Negley, a 4-H assistant and an organizer of the camp, said organizers tried to make everything about the festival, even the food, pertain to the Native American theme. With that in mind the meals consisted of foods such as fried pies, tacos, corn muffins, popcorn and maple syrup.

All of the campers seemed to have a good time as they got a look at a way of life that is far different than their own.

Camper Matthew Creek said he had a great time.

"My favorite parts were making mendallas and eating the food," he said.

Rub It In

What Is A Rub?

A rub is a blend of seasonings that is "rubbed" onto the surface of meat before it is cooked. Using a rub is an easy way to dress up beef steaks and burgers with all kinds of seasoning combinations. Seasonings can be fresh or fried or a mixture. Sometimes a small amount of oil is added to the seasonings to make a paste-type rub.

What It's not. . .

A rub adds flavor only; it does not help tenderize less tender beef cuts.

How To Rub. . .

Simply cover the outside surface of the steak or ground beef patty with the seasoning blend prior to grilling. Rubs can be applied just before grilling or, for convenience, a few hours in advance — just keep the beef refrigerated until grilling time. Flavors usually become more pronounced the longer the seasoning mixture is on the beef.

Making The Rub. . .

Your pantry and refrigerator contain the makings for all sorts of great rubs. You really don't need a recipe — just think in terms of flavors that taste good together. There are also commercial seasoning blends that can be used as a rub. For example: Italian seasoning, Mexican seasoning, Greek, Cajun, etc.

Rub Combos To Try On Your Own. . .

Experiment and make up your favorite blend of herbs and seasonings. If all of the ingredients are dried, you can keep them on hand, stored in a tightly covered container in a cool dry place. Shake to blend before using. Try these ideas for starters.

Citrus — Combine grated lemon, orange or lime peel (or a combination) with minced garlic and cracked black pepper.

Pepper-Garlic — Yombine garlic powder, cracked black pepper and cayenne pepper.

Italian — Combine fresh or dried oregano, basil and rosemary with minced Italian parsley and garlic.

Rub Recipes To Try. . .

Lemon-Rosemary Rub: Combine 1½ teaspoons grated lemon peel, 1 teaspoon rosemary leaves (crushed), ¼ teaspoon sale, ¼ teaspoon dried thyme leaves, ¼ teaspoon coarse grind black pepper and 2 large cloves garlic, crushed. Makes enough to season 2 pounds of beef.

Southwestern Rub: Combine 1½ teaspoons chili powder, 1 teaspoon garlic powder, ½ teaspoon dried oregano leaves and ¼ teaspoon ground cumin. Store, covered, in airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Makes enough to season 2 pounds of beef.

Pepper-Herb Mix: Combine 2 tablespoons dried basil leaves, 1 tablespoon lemon pepper, 1 tablespoon onion powder, 1 tablespoon dried savory leaves and 1½ teaspoons nibbed sage. Store, covered, in airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Makes about ½ cup.

Spicy Seasoning Mix: Combine 3 tablespoons chili powder, 2 teaspoons ground coriander, 2 teaspoons ground cumin, 1½ teaspoons garlic powder, ¾ teaspoon dried oregano leaves and ½ teaspoon ground red pepper. Store, covered, in airtight container. Shake before using to blend. Makes about ½ cup.

Cuts To Tub It On. . .

Steaks — Sirloin, Top Loin, Tenderloin, T-Bone, Porterhouse, Rib Eye, Chuck Eye, Top Blade.

Roasts — Tri-Tip, Tenderloin, Rib Eye, Round Tip

Ground Beef Patties.

Lancaster Society 18

Farm Women of Society #18 entertained Society #23 at a luncheon at the Farm & Home Center Sat., Aug. 20.

Devotions by Ruth Rohrer included a memorized portion of Scripture and a poem.

Members and guests were entertained by beautifully performed violin music played duet by Joanna and Jessica Maley. A bus trip is being planned by Lettie Nissley for Oct. 11.

LINPORT (Berks Co.) — Sometimes it's difficult to tell where work ends and hobbies begin for Kermit Kistler and his son Ronald. They sell new tractors and lawn equipment for their livelihood and collect antique ones for pleasure.

Both require body and engine work.

As 81-year-old Kermit runs his hand over the smooth green finish and lettering of a restored tractor, he said. "This finish is better than the original. My son is so precise, it drives me crazy. Sometimes I feel like firing him."

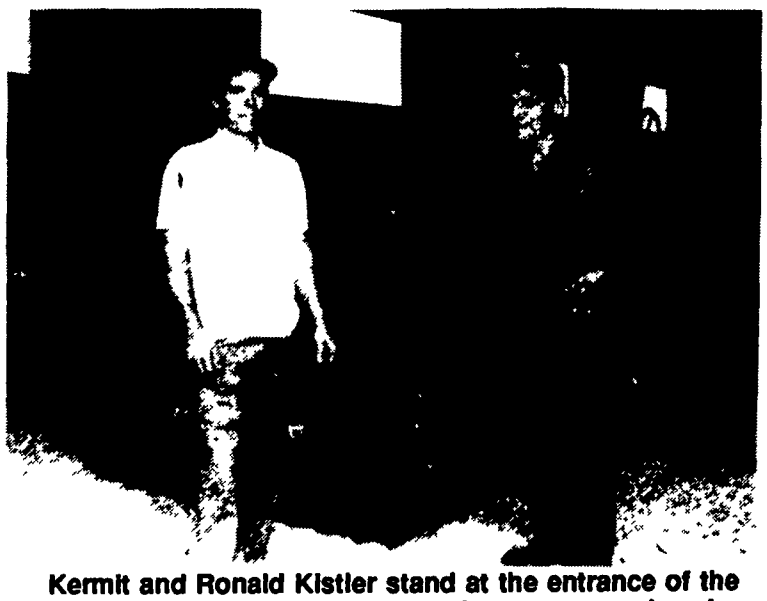
Despite the threatening words, pride shines through his eyes eyes as he speaks of his son's ability to make a rusty piece of machinery look like new.

His son explains the reason for his thoroughness. "I trained to be an aviation mechanic. I learned to do things right the first time, for there are no second chances when it comes to repairing aircraft."

Father and son are a compatible team. Ronald said of his father, "My dad has good, basic common sense on how to built things from scratch. He's a good blacksmith."

Common sense and hard work is what enabled the elder Kistler to learn a machinist's trade in the early 1940s. He worked 10 to 12 hour days and continually changed jobs "looking for more money."

He had met his wife during the



Kermit and Ronald Kistler stand at the entrance of the shed they erected to house their antique tractor and equipment collection.

This 1919 Waterloo Boy is Kermit Kistler's favorite piece of the more than 100 antique tractors in his and his son's collection.

ANSWER — For the reader who wanted recipes for green beans and for broccoli, here are several from Anita Moyer, Bernville; M. Lehman, Pine Grove; C.Lehman, Pine Grove; Alta Hoshour, Bowmansville, and others.

Chicken Broccoli Casserole

1 can cream of chicken soup
¼ cup milk
1 cup medium cheddar cheese, grated
2 cups chicken, cubed
3 cups broccoli
⅔ package cooked noodles

Mix together and put in a greased 9x13-inch baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or longer. Can be frozen.

Baked String Beans

12 slices bacon, diced
1 large onion
2 cans tomato soup
6-8 tablespoons brown sugar
4 cans green beans

Mix together all ingredients and pour into casserole or roaster. Bake at 350 degress for 1½ -2 hours. A delicious variation of the usual baked beans.

Dilled Green Beans

3 pounds green or yellow beans, cut
1 onion, sliced
4 carrots, sliced
4-8 cloves garlic, optional
4-8 heads dill or seeds
Bring to a boil:
2½ cups white vinegar
2½ cups water
2 tablespoons pickling salt

Place one to two heads dill, 1-2 cloves garlic, 1 onion slice, 1 carrot slice in each jar.

Firmly pack beans upright in jar, leaving ½ -inch headspace. Pour hot vinegar mixture over beans. Leave ½ -inch headspace. Process 10 minutes in boiling water canner.

M. Lehman writes that this recipe is from the Heinz Successful Pickling Guide. She thinks the beans should be precooked although the booklet doesn't state it. Precooking helps them to pack better.

Marinated Bean Salad

2 15-ounce cans kidney beans, drained
2 15-ounce cans butter beans, drained
3 cups green and yellow beans, cooked
1 can chick peas
2 cups celery
1 or 2 cans Garbanzo beans, drained
1 pepper, chopped in 1-inch pieces
1 large purple onion, sliced
Heat and pour over vegetables.
¾ cup white vinegar
¾ cup vegetable oil
¾ cup granulated sugar
2 cloves garlic, minced, optional
¼ cup fresh basil
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon coarse pepper

Double liquid mixture if necessary. Keeps for weeks in the refrigerator.

LEADERSHIP AT WORK

Antique Tractor Collection

war years. He described the event as "I saw her and she saw me." Of their long marriage, he said, "She's still in good shape."

When the war ended, Kistler was ready for bigger and better things. He told his wife they either needed to move or get into business. They stayed in the little community of Linport where he set up Kermit K. Kistler Inc. by selling farm equipment, which he has been doing ever since.

At first he sold Massey Harris tractors, but in 1955, he switched to John Deere models only. Later, he added lawn and garden equipment — now their primary business with nine employees.

The couple had five children and seven grandchildren.

Kistler is of the generation that used horses and remembers steam engines and oil burning engines. Perhaps it is the excitement of the memory of those first tractors that causes him to love old tractors and brings a reportorie of stories about them.

According to Kermit, "Deere didn't start producing tractors until 1918, prior to that they had a short product run called Dain. For two years, John Deere also produced tractors in four different colors as an appeal to housewives, Kistler said.

Kistler learned the disassemble and put together engines and trained many mechanics to do the same.

"I outlived three or four of the mechanics I trained," the octogenarian said.

His expertise at blacksmithing comes in handy for parts that are no longer available.

It wasn't until 1986, that Kistler purchased his first antique tractor. Now between his son and him, he estimates they have about 100.

People from as far away as New Zealand come to admire their collection that includes not only John Deere but also Waterloo Boy, Massey Harris, American Tractor Company, Ford, Terratrac and others.

They don't buy tractors to resell but for their own pleasure.

A 1919 Waterloo Boy is Kermit's favorite. He has the first John Deere crawler made. The high crop tractors are more valuable than the standard, he said. They have the John Deere series from 430 to 830.

"We need a 330 John Deere to complete the group," Kermit said. "If you hear of anyone who has one, let us know."

They also have many original signs advertising tractor companies, and equipment such as gas engines, potato cutters, equipment for sawing wood, grinding feed, shelling corn, pumping water, churning butter, washing clothes, running lathes, cutting ice, and generating electricity.

The Kistlers built a large shed to accomodate most of their collection. They transport them to various antique tractor shows and will show them to visitors if they aren't too busy with regular business.

"People realize the value of antique farm equipment. It's rare to be able to buy and sell for a profit," Kermit said.

Even if they were offered a formidable price, he said, "Certain pieces we would not sell."

If they wanted, the father and son team said they could keep busy full-time showing their collections.

"But we got to make a living," the elder Kistler said.

Sometimes the Kistlers need to rebuilt, sandblast, paint, and re-letter the tractors. That's where Ronald's precise working skills result in "a better than new tractor."

Green Bean Supreme

18-ounces French-style green beans
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons dried minced onion
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter, melted

Cook beans and drain. Melt ¼ cup butter in small saucepan. Stir in onions, flour, and salt. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over medium high heat, stirring constantly, until mixture starts to boil. Remove from heat and add cheese. Stir until cheese is melted.

Combine cooked beans and cheese sauce in 2-quart casserole. Combine bread crumbs and 2 tablespoons melted butter. Sprinkle over top of bean mixture. Bake, covered, in 350 degree oven, 20-30 minutes, removing lid for the final 5 minutes. Serve hot. Serves 6.

Bidders Open Hearts And Wallets To Help Family Who Lost Everything

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — "Come back, Renee," said the auctioneer at the Somerset County Fair's junior Livestock Sale. "We've just been told that the buyer donates the lamb back to Renee," the auctioneer told the buyers and spectators in the show arena. Fifteen-year-old Renee Korns attempted to exit the platform with her 118-pound Suffolk lamb eight times, until the sale committee, realizing that 95-market lambs were waiting to be auctioned, called for an end.

Renee's lamb was sold immediately after the various champions. When the eight bids were tallied, the lamb brought $31.55 per pound, or $3,723.

But there was a reason for the madness, which didn't end there. Renee's family had lost their home the night before the county fair opened. In fact, they had just arrived home from delivering lambs and Belgian horses to the fairgrounds, and were settling in for the evening when Darla Korns, Renee's mother saw flames in the laundry room.

What didn't burn was ruined by water and smoke, so with dad, Warren and sister, Megan, the family basically lost everything. They felt numb.

Then some sneaky friends, including Mary Ann Sorber, a fair director and sale committee member who believes that people ought to help each other in times of need, started a scheme to benefit the family. Some buyers were found who would donate the lambs back.

Sorber found a big container for cash donations and left it in the livestock barns. The idea was that the Somerset Co. exhibitors could be one buyer. They raised the money to bid $8 a pound for the lamb, the highest bid.

Of course, Sorber, looking as guileless as the lamb, itself, was kept busy all week whisking the money jar out of sight when any of the Korns family appeared.

"I was taken by surprise," said Renee, a sophomore at the Meyersdale Area High School. "I thought it was going to be a normal sale. But I'd walk out and they would call me back and say 'you aren't done.' I thought it was a never-ending thing," she laughed.

Later, the second lamb was sold and donated back to the White Oak 4-Her four times. One of those buyers was Gambill Amusements, Stubenville, Ohio, which provided midway rides and games during fair week.

Renee began to fear her lambs would never be sold for real. Under the circumstances she certainly didn't want to keep them.

To top that, proceeds from the sale of several other lambs were also donated to the Korns family because Warren is a 4-H leader and member of the sale committee. That group included Fair Queen Jennifer Randall who sold two market lambs.

"It was the least I could do," remarked Randall, later.

Waiting while the other lambs and steers were sold made a long day for Renee.

When the last steer was sold, the auctioneer asked the group to clap their hands if they wanted Renee to bring back the two animals for more bidding. A few seconds passed. A six-hour sale had everybody waried, anxious to leave.

Then a few claps were heard. They steadily increased. A last try. James Yoder bought one for $1 a pound. The other sold for $.75 a pound to Lou Shredy of LaRue Meats. What a relief!

Bidders on the first lamb were Leroy Bittner, Meyersdale; Exhibitors and Friends of the Somerset Co. Fair; John Dom, Meyersdale; Walker Farm Service, Somerset; Singo Feed and Sons, Somerset; Keystone Vacuum, Somerset; Snyder of Berlin and Silver Valley Farm owned by Cecil Petenbrink.

Lamb number two brought bids from Gambill Amusements, Ritco, Inc., Richard Sines, Meyersdale and Mark's Auto Sales, Friedens. The total was $748.

Darla Korns, who after her house was gone, had little interest in the fair, came only on those days their animals were being shown. Her arrival at the sale was in the nick of time to see Renee and her first lamb. She was unprepared for what happened.

"It was overwhelming," she said, standing in the sheep barn next to the lambs' pen and wiping away tears.

The fire had started in the motor of the electric clothes dryer, Darla said. She and Renee were in the house.

Warren, a feed salesman for the Bedford Farm Bureau, a locally owned co-op, was tending the animals at their small farm located several miles away.

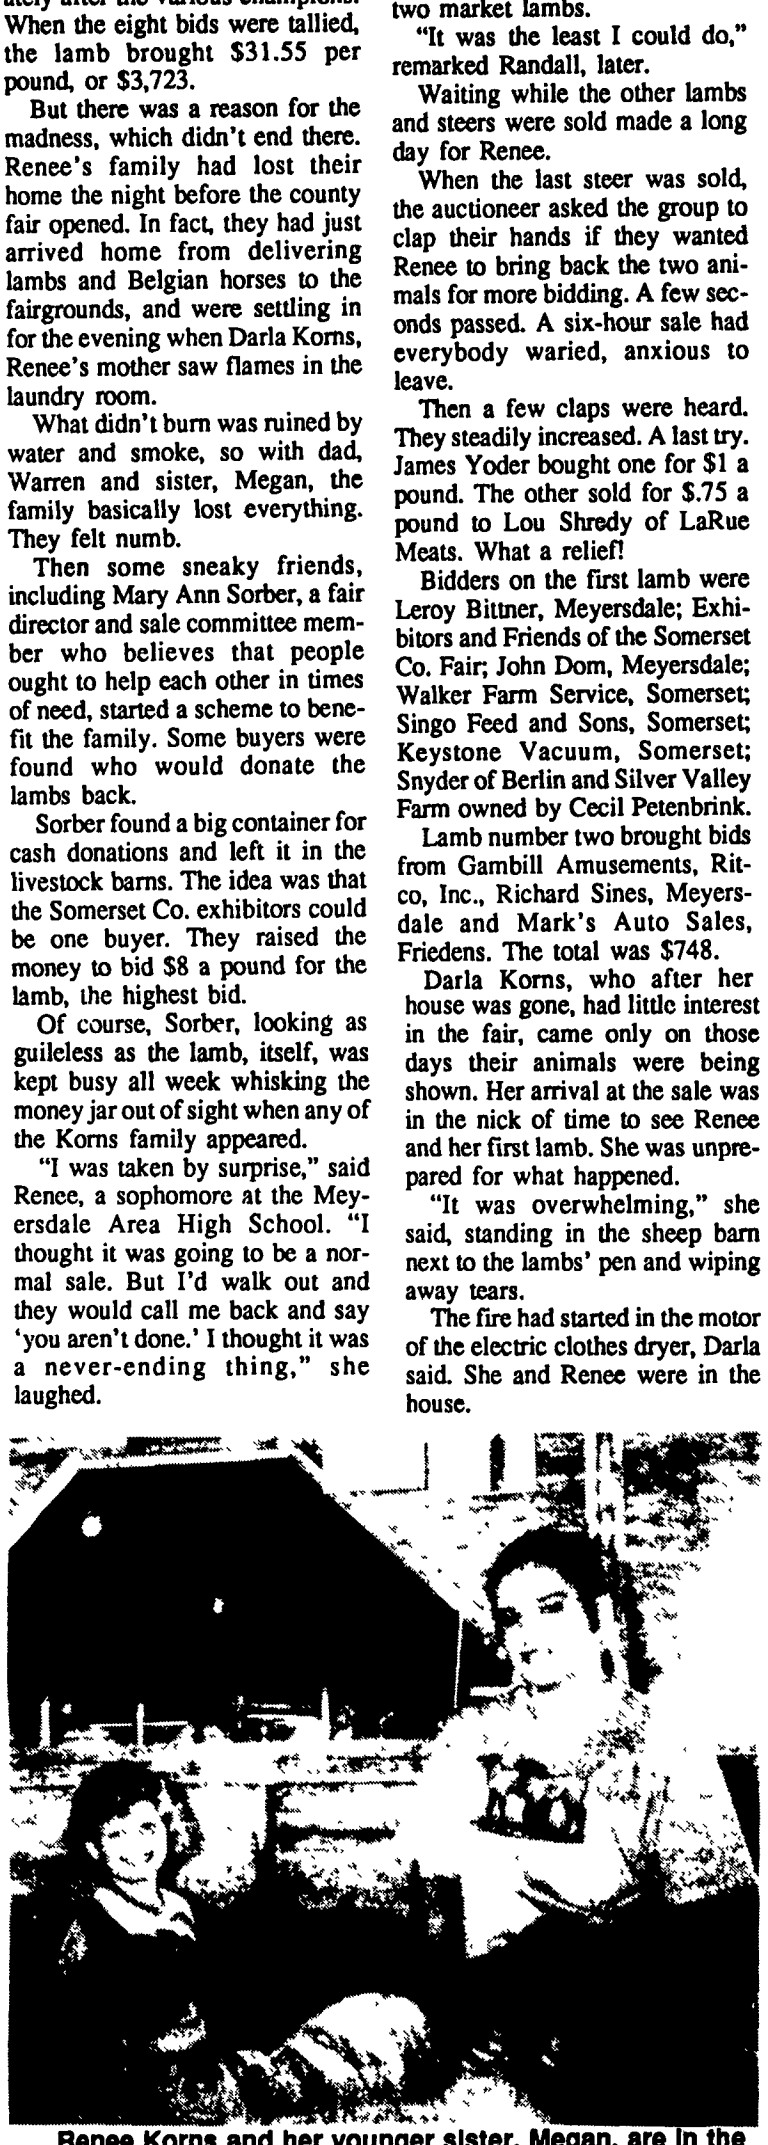
After watching the local television newscast that carried some pre-fair clips, Darla began to read the newspaper. It was then that she noticed flames shooting through the laundry room, next to the kitchen.

Four fire companies responded to the scene.

Until the house can be fully gutted and rebuilt, the family is staying with Darla's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ackerman. They live next door at Meyersdale, RD 3.

"People have just been wonderful," said Darla. "Renee is excited about how much money her lambs brought."

Darla says although the unexpected aid will help to rebuild and purchase necessary items, some of it must go toward Renee's future.



Renee Korns and her younger sister, Megan, are in the sheep pen at the Somerset Co. Fair. Two of the lambs were sold to 14 buyers and other exhibitors donated money from their lambs to the Korns family to rebuild their house.

Somerset County FFA President Says FFA Reversed His Life

GAY BROWNLEE
Somerset Co. Correspondent

MEYERSDALE (Somerset Co.) — Spend a few hours in the company of 18-year-old Jason Tipton, president of the Somerset County FFA, and you'll hear nothing but praises.

"I wouldn't trade it for anything," he said while strolling at the Somerset County Fair on 4-H and FFA Day.

Jason wears the white shirt, dark tie, and requisite royal blue, corduroy FFA jacket. Gold embroidery at the right shoulder area identifies him by name.

The words are confession of sorts from a young man whose lifestyle underwent radical change after joining the Meyersdale FFA Chapter in ninth grade.

At the time, Jason was looking for an easy way — an effortless passage on to somewhere else. FFA was just the ticket for such transportation, he thought.

"I basically got into it as a gag, to be with my friends, but I learned respect," said Jason. Trips to Penn State and the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown with the FFA exposed him to new people and new situations. At home, patient teachers combined with those experiences to change Jason's wayward character.

"FFA isn't just for farmers, it's for anybody," said the president," "anybody who wants to better themself.

"It's given so much to me. I want to give back to it," he said. "If you want to better yourself, you've got to do it yourself."

Standing erect in official dress, Jason knows there is something special about the FFA jacket. It causes people to notice you.

"If we're dressed up in our FFA jacket," he said, "we get respect. We can go anywhere and we get respect. If I'm in official dress, I can talk freely," said the Meyersdale Area High School senior, former chapter parliamentarian and current chapter secretaty. John Hartman is the adviser.

"There's nothing like State Days at Penn State because of the kids you meet," said Jason, whose maternal grandparents, Bill and Jerry Bauer, raised Jason and twin brother, Joey, after their mother died. They moved here from Warren County when Jason was young.

"In one word," said Jason, "the FFA is 'Friendship'." That belief became clear when, after losing his tie at Penn State, an unknown FFA adviser discovered Jason's plight. He came to the rescue, surrendering his own neckpiece to the distressed youth, who returned it later.

"FFA is the people. These are people I'm going to know the rest of my life," Jason said. He was a delegate to the FFA state convention last June.

The wrestling enthusiast continues to discover new opportunities to serve others, blending the FFA experience with the sports ability.

As a youngster, Jason learned how to wrestle and canoe, then learned soccer and football, becoming a rather fearless participant.

Wrestling and football spawned more than competition against opponents. Within the team framework, the twin brothers became strong rivals. Realizing that either they reached a compromise or quit, Jason said he chose wrestling and Joey stayed in football.

"I'm an elementary wrestling coach," said Jason. "I love kids." Additionally, he works with other special children in the school system who have struggles.

Jason praises a host of guides along his pathway, mainly his Passing out balloons to both kids and adults on 4-H and FFA Day at the Somerset County Fair, Jason Tipton, president of the Somerset County FFA, stoops to chat with 2-year-old Meghan Anderson in the stroller. The girl is from Bethel Park.

Somerset County FFA Council members are in official dress for the Somerset County Fair's 4-H and FFA Day. Absent were Valerie St. Clair, reporter and Allen Durst, parliamentarian.

Harry Moore, Ron Frederick, (chapter adviser), Larry Medaglia, Crystal Peterson. Bottom row, Theresa Inhof (Pennsylvania FFA eastern region vice president), Jenny Zerby (Pennsylvania FFA state president), Tara Plewa, and Ben Dodd (Pennsylvania FFA state chaplain).

Four members of the Twin Valley FFA spent three days at Delaware Valley College sharpening their leadership skills. Crystal Peterson, Harry Moore, Larry Medaglia, and Tara Plewa attended the Eastern Pennsylvania Regional Leadership Conference.

Throughout the three days they, along with other FFA members from Eastern Pennsylvania, worked on goal setting, achievement, and ways of promoting these skills within their chapters.

During the conference some of the newly elected state FFA officer team — Jenny Zerby, Marci Harnish, Theresa Inhof, Kelli Zeigler, Heidi Dahlhammer, Jim McConnaughey, and Ben Dodd — met with the chapter representatives. State officers conducted workshops in greeting and introducing speakers, presenting awards, and duties of the various offices.

The conference also focused on developing chapter public relations and a successful officer team. This conference gave local chapter members an excellent opportunity to meet the state officers in an informal setting and to get to know them personally. The Twin Valley members plan to bring back the knowledge they gained at this conference and put it to use at Twin Valley.

His high school principal, his FFA advisers, and his wrestling coaches all shared in helping Jason to redirect his sense of values. He can't thank them enough. Repeatedly, he says, "I don't know where I'd be without them."

Next for Jason is getting his Keystone Degree and running for a state FFA office.

A job at the Somerset Burger King enables him to support his own needs, a responsibility which raises strong feelings of self-esteem. And it's another expression of his deep regard for the faithful love and support of his grandparents. Tipton knew his home with them was solid.

"I've seen Jason come into his own," said Hartman. He has had a hard time and it's really rewarding to see."

Tipton said, "Mr. Hartman deserves a lot of credit for his contribution to the Meyersdale ag program."

QUESTION — D. Newsom, Cooperstown, N.Y., would like to buy an Aladdin Lamp that is either electric or oil or kerosene, but not the Aladdin mantel type. He wants the shape, the kind rubbed for a wish in the story of the Magic Lamp.

QUESTION — Nancy Cummings, Bolivar, would like to know why celery plants go to seed. She has grown celery all her life and the last two years, some of the plants go to seed instead of developing a nice stalk.

QUESTION — M. Carver writes: What a surprise in our garden when we discovered the local nursery supplied us with cabbage plants instead of brussels sprouts. We would like to know how they are handled while fresh.

QUESTION — Shirley Baer, New Freedom, would like handmade aluminum made during the late 1930s and 1940s, especially those with designs of animals, flowers, and fowl.

ANSWER — Peg Koser, Lancaster, asked how to remove odors such as cantaloupe, onions, and cucumbers from plastic containers. Thanks to Kathryn B. Robson, Lebanon, for suggesting the following: Crumple newspaper and stuff in container. Let container stand for a day or more and odor will disappear. You can repeat the procedure if odor does not disappear the first time.

ANSWER — Betsy Dehn, Spencerville, Md., writes that when she was young, there was a story that went something like this: It was nearing the Christmas holidays and the apple tree was feeling sad and forlorn. His branches were bare and plain whereas the pine tree was decorated with tinsel and glitter. The apple tree complained to God and God said to the apple tree that he would give the tree a special gift. Betsy doesn't remember the remainder of the story, but God ended up putting a Christmas star in the heart of each apple. If you cut an apple crosswise, you will find a perfectly shaped five-point star in the heart of the apple. Betsy would like to have the complete story of how the star came to appear in the center of the apple.

Thanks to Carolyn Zacharias, Lehighton, who sent the following version. She also remembers her minister telling a different version of the story several years ago.

Once upon a time, there was a little star in the sky. This little star was not happy. It wanted to have a home with no windows and no doors and a little brown chimney.

The star came down to earth and went into the woods. It met a bear.

"Do you know where I can find a home with no windows, no doors, and a little brown chimney?" it asked.

Mr. Bear said, "No, but why don't you ask Mr. Fox?"

So the star asked Mr. Fox. "Do you know where I can find a home with no windows, no doors, and a a little brown chimney?"

Mr. Fox said no, but told the star to ask Mr. Owl.

So the star asked Mr. Owl. "Do you know where I can find a house with no windows, no doors, and a little brown chimney?"

Mr. Owl said, "Don't you know, little star, of the perfect place you are looking for?"

Now, separate the two halves of the apple. What do you see? Surprise! The chimney is the stem.

Rug Hooking Classes

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — The art of traditional rug hooking will be taught by nationally known rug maker, Pat Hornafius at the Heritage House Museum, 43 East High Street, Elizabethtown. The four-session class will be held on the following Saturday mornings from 10:00 A.M. to 12:00 Noon: October 1 and 15, November 5 and 19.

A member of the Directory of Traditional Craftsmen, sponsored by "Early American Life", Pat has designed hooked rugs featured in that publication for eight years. Her hooked rugs have appeared in many national magazines: "County Living", "Country Home", "Rug Hooking", "Piecework", and Time-Life Country Crafts.

Anyone interested in rug-hooking may attend the class from the newest beginner to those with a great deal of experience. However, the equipment needed is an investment.

All materials supplies can be ordered during the October 1 class session from Pat Hornafius. For those who are beginners, a small rug kit will be available with pattern on burlap and hand-dyed wool for the cost of from $50 to $100.

To register for the four-session rug hooking class, send your name, address, telephone number, and a check for $60 to: Elizabethtown Preservation Associate, Inc., 220 Anchor Road, Elizabethtown, PA 17022. Deadline for reservations is September 17.

Registration and payment for the class may also be made at the Hertiage House Museum during its regularly scheduled hours: Thursdays, 12:00-5:00; Fridays, 9:00-5:00; Saturdays, 9:00-11:30.

At a workshop, Jill Bond tells the audience how to stretch their food dollars by purchasing in bulk and preparing frozen entrees. "You can spend $5.79 for the tuna in a large can (enough for 10 meals) or you can spend $15.96 for the same amount of tuna by buying small cans."

More Time, Money, Fun, And Less Work

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — Jill Bond teaches women how to be professional mommies.

She teaches women how to have more time to enjoy their families and less time being a harried housewife.

Under her expertise, women learn how to take a break from cooking meals for one whole month and still serve the family nutritious foods at a much lower cost than the average housewife normally spends.

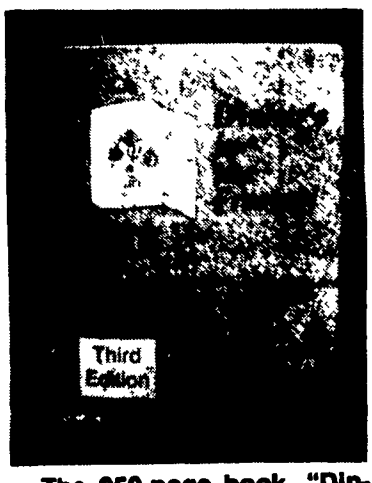
With her husband Alan and four children, Jill has perfected her system and written a 250-page book, "Dinner's In the Freezer," to assist professional mommies.

Jill joined the professional mommy track when motherhood interrupted her studies toward a master's degree in industrial engineering. As a former Disney World trainer and a computer systems designer, Jill was well-versed in the business concepts needed to run a successful company. She applied these management ideas to the kitchen, where women spend a major portion of their time.

She wants to help women do manual labor the best, quickest, and most efficient way possible so that they can have time to rock their baby and read to their children.

If you think Jill's ideas may be professional "gobbledy gook" without fun or alternatives for plans gone awry — you are wrong.

Jill is a warm, friendly woman who intersperses her teaching and writing style with family antidotes that show "if I can do it, anybody can."



The 250-page book, "Dinner's In the Freezer," includes tips, detailed instructions, recipes, family antedotes, and illustrations to help women become professional mommies.

Jill said, "Motherhood is the most important role ever ordained by God."

When she fills out a form asking for "occupation" she writes Professional Mommy. That disturbs many people. They question her, one even crossed it off. Jill could write author, speaker, or businesswoman, but she believes professional mommy is her only full-time job — and one that requires every professional skill she has learned in college, graduate school, and the working world.

Motherhood, she believes, deserves to be valued. It challenges your intellect to answer your children's inquisitive questions, it challenges your creativity, personality, organizational ability, interpersonal skills, and every quality valued on a resume.

Meeting the demands of raising a family can result in stress. A home management system is needed to lessen stress.

Under her method, women are taught to "mega-cook." That means shopping, cooking, and storing enough meals to last one or more months in a few days. The entrees are not repetitive and, using her methods for freezing, the dinners taste fresh, not freezer burnt.

Jill said that she wrote a book on the subject because so many people questioned how she accomplished so much and how the family managed on one salary.

"I have one and one-half more hours in my day and only spend about half as much on groceries as the average housewife," Jill answers.

She finds more time by following her mega-cooking methods. "When you buy only fresh, healthy food from farmers' markets and co-ops, you can save money," she said.

Buying convenient food results in spending more money, which usually means money wasted on packaging and preservatives.

"Control what is put into food," Jill told the audience attending an all-day seminar she recently held in the area.

Control begins by preparing your own convenient foods.

"Home ec is a lost art," said Jill, who believes that much of the demise of homemaking skills lies in society's negative viewpoint of women "being just a housewife."

She said, "We don't need to be liberated out of the kitchen. We need to be liberated in the kitchen."

Jill wants to give women the best tools to help them do the best job — a professional mommy.

"A professional is one who has an assured competence in a a particular field or occupation. Professionals are committed. They strive for excellence in their work," Jill said.

Business terms such as economies of sale is actually buying a big jar of peanut butter in place of a small one. Inventory control is the pantry, quality assurance is mold control, optimal production quotients are let the dishwasher do the work, and labor negotiating skills mean getting the kids to help.

The concept on mega-cooking is the theory that it doesn't take more time to measure a tablespoon of an ingredient than a teaspoon, and that it doesn't take double the time to mix up two meat loaves and freeze one than in does to make one for dinner.

Advantages of "dinner's in the freezer" results in less waste, less water, less electricity, and less work.

Mega-cooking is not easy, especially the first time, Jill warns. The secret is using teamwork and being flexible. Depending on the ages of children, they can help form meatballs and tuna patties.

Despite the hazzles of mega-cooking days, the stress and time saved from daily cooking convinces even the most skeptical that life is much more enjoyable when dinner is in the freezer.

Even those people who never quite get around to cooking a whole month of dinners apply much of her advice to their daily routines and will make a double batch of brownies or lasagna to freeze and use later.

In addition to mega cooking, some of Jill's money-saving advice includes the following:

- Buy turkeys when they are on sale after thanksgiving. Substitute turkey for chicken in casseroles and use ground turkey in place of ground beef or sausage.
- Onions and peppers can be chopped in advance and frozen.
- Meat can be cubed faster by

• Use a potato masher to chop eggs.

• Wash and flash freeze grapes. Then blend for frozen sherbet. Peel banana and freeze. Add to fruit juice or milk in blender to make a milk shake or frozen dessert.

• To keep fresh fruit from turning brown, mix one cup water with one tablespoon lemon juice and rinse fruit in it.

Jill believes it is important to serve food attractively because meals that are ehjoyed aid in digestion. She buys a few solid colored tablecloth, places a scarf or fabric print square in a diamond shape on the center of a table to signify special events and change of seasons. For example, when she serves Chuck Wagon Casserole, a red bandana is placed in the center and children may wear cowboy hats.

She freezes meatloaf in a salad mold ring. After it is baked, the meatloaf is turned upside down on a platter and mashed potatoes are inserted in the center.

Use heavy duty plastic film available at restaurant supply stores and zip-lock plastic bags.

Not all food can be frozen effectively. Mayonnaise separates when frozen. Substitute Miracle Whip salad dressing or plain yogurt.

Add celery raw before freezing, otherwise it gets soupy.

Also, always make sure your family enjoys a recipe before mega-cooking it. Make sure the recipe freezes well before trying a large amount. To test freeze, make a recipe to serve your family but remove a small portion and freeze. Try it later to see if it maintains taste.

Although Jill includes about 50 recipes in her manual, participants can use their own recipes and adapt them to the methods described in her workshops and in the manual.

It's necessary to read the manual Jill's written to make sure the food is frozen properly to prevent food poisoning or freezer burn.

These recipes are used by permission but readers should have the manual to assure proper freezing instructions and to understand basic mega-cooking concepts.

TURKEY MANDARIN

1 can Mandarin orange sections
1 can cream of chicken soup
½ cup turkey stock or chicken broth
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups cooked regular white rice
6 to 8 slices cooked turkey
½ cup slivered toasted almonds

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly grease shallow 1½ -quart casserole.

To make sauce: Drain orange sections, reserving liquid; set orange sections aside. In small saucepan, combine reserved liquid with soup, turkey stock, and salt, mixing welll. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Place rice in prepared baking dish. Arrange turkey over the rice in a single layer. Arrange orange sections over the turkey. Pour sauce over all the layers of ingredients; sprinkle with almonds. Bake, uncovered for 25 minutes or until mixture is hot and bubbly. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Directions for larger quantities and two alternate methods of freezing are included in the manual.

4-H HAPPENINGS

Rough Riders 4-H

The Rough Riders 4-H Horse and Pony Club held its Grooming and Showmanship Show at Valley Lea Riding Club recently, with the following results: age 12 and under: Melissa Anspach, Julia Anspach, Jessica Shenk, Angie Moore, Dallassa Bowman, and Evan Void; age 13-15: Laura Metzler, Tami Jones, Jessica Althouse, Brandon Aukamp, and Jennifer Hess; senior: Brianne Grumbling, Tina Henry, John Kroener, and Gabriel Bowman.

A number of Rough Riders members participated in the county roundup held on Saturday, July 16, at Lower Hopewell Horse Center. Qualifying for the district show to be held at Lebanon Fairgrounds were Julis Anspach, Melissa Anspach, Gabriel Bowman, Brianne Grumbling, Tina Henry, John Kroener, Laura Metzler, and Evan Vold.

Two club members, Jessica Althouse and Tami Jones, participated in county presentation day and advanced to the state level competition.

Upcoming club activites include a sub sale fundraiser, a judged trail ride, and a fun show.

The Rough Riders 4-H Horse and Pony Club meets the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. at Kroener's Farm. For more information, contact John Henry at (717) 284-2046.

SWEET 'N SOUR MEATBALLS

2 pounds ground beef
Salt, pepper, onion slat and garlic powder to taste
1 egg (if desired)

Mix and form into 1-inch balls

Brown in large skillet until done. Remove from pan and drain off fat. Saute one green pepper, cut in 1-inch strips, until crispy-tender. Remove from pan.

Sauce:

2 16-ounce cans pineapple chunk, drained and juice reserved
2 tablespoon cornstarch or flour
1¼ to 1½ cups reserved pineapple juice
4 tablespoons vinegar (white or vinegar)
2 tablespoons sugar (granulated or light brown)
1 tablespoon soy sauce

In large skillet or saucepan, dissolve cornstarch in juice. Add remaining ingredients. Bring to boil, stirring constantly, until mixture becomes thick. Add meatballs, pineapple chunks, and green pepper. Heat throughly. (If sauce seens too thick, thin with juice and water).

CHIMTEK™

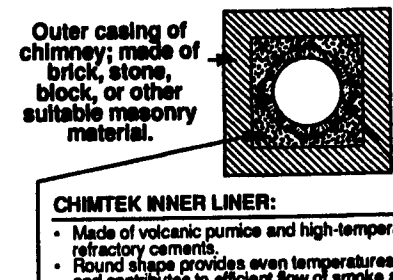
ADVANCED CHIMNEY TECHNOLOGY

A SURE SOLUTION TO MASONRY CHIMNEY PROBLEMS:

SAFER: CHIMTEK is designed to withstand severe chimney fires without breaking or transmitting high temperatures to adjoining combustible materials.

LESS CREOSOTE: Wood smoke contains moisture (H_2O). When the smoke comes into contact with a surface under approx. 250 degrees F the water will condense to a liquid. This liquid combined with other products in wood smoke will result in creosote. Creosote can be very dangerous when it ignites. The inside of a CHIMTEK chimney stays much warmer and greatly reduces the amount of creosote formation. In many cases CHIMTEK chimneys are completely clean after years of use.

IMPROVES STOVE PERFORMANCE: The draft produced by a chimney is what pulls oxygen into the fire for combustion. The three main factors affecting draft are the chimney's height, size and temperature. CHIMTEK contains a great amount of a very special insulating material that is not affected by moisture saturation and will not seattle or deteriorate. Poor draft will result in poor combusion. Poor combusion will create more smoke. Smoke is wasted fuel. Newere EPA certified stoves are especially dependent on proper draft to perform properly.



CHIMTEK INNER LINER:
- Made of volcanic pumice and high-temperature refractory cements.
- Round shape provides even temperatures inside flue, and contributes to efficient flow of smoke and flue gases.
- Highly resistant to thermal shock.
- Even if cracks should occur, the round shape and Chimtek Secondary Liner prevent pieces from falling into chimney.
- The volcanic pumice in Chimtek liners adds considerable insulating value.

CHIMTEK SECONDARY LINER:
- Provides exceptional insulation to make chimney more efficient and reduce heat transfer to combustible materials.
- Provides structural support for inner liner.
- Will not absorb moisture or creosote.

You can count on TOM RIDGE

OUR MAN FOR GOVERNOR

Want to know what kind of governor Tom Ridge will make? Just look at his record... from a blue collar kid in Erie, PA to six term congressman for rural northwest Pennsylvania.

Young Ridge proved he's no dummy by winning an academic scholarship to Harvard and graduating with honors.

Tom also proved he can be tough, serving as a non-com infantry "grunt" in the Vietnam War, and bringing home the Bronze Star.

Next came a law degree from Dickinson and a job as Erie County Assistant District Attorney. Both great training for government service.

Then, in 1982, Republican Ridge stunned political pundits by winning a seat in Congress despite a huge Democratic edge.

Farmers soon took notice.

Representative Ridge authored a wetlands bill that protected farmer rights, fought hard to reduce the capital gains tax, sought investment tax credits on new equipment, and worked closely with dairymen to assure fair market prices.

But farmers weren't the only Ridge boosters.

The national Watchdog of the Treasury group named Ridge a "Bulldog of the Treasury" for his conservative fiscal record.

National Federation of Business honored Ridge as a "Guardian of Small Business" for his stand against suffocating government regulations.

Is Tom Ridge ready for Harrisburg? You bet.

You can count on Governor Ridge to make DER "a partner of farmers rather than prosecutor." As promised.

You can count on Governor Ridge to cut state spending $2 billion. As promised.

And you also can count on less government mandates, regulations and red tape. As promised.

"What we basically need in state government," Ridge says, "is less government intrusion and more common sense."

Count on it.

"The state must do more to keep families together," says gubernatorial candidate Tom Ridge, who lives in Erie with daughter Lesley, left; wife Michele and son Tommy.

Good Sun Protection Means Sunglasses, Too

Marshfield, Wis. - Farmers often wear caps to protect themselves from the sun's harmful rays. If they are careful, they will put on sunscreen and wear cool, long-sleeve shirts. But there is one more step to good sun protection - wearing sunglasses.

"Sunglasses for eyes are like sunscreen for the skin - it protects you from burns," said Marshfield Clinic Ophthalmologist John Williams, M.D. "Just as you wear sunscreen when you're going to be out in the sun, you should wear sunglasses."

Ultravidlet rays, commonly called UVA and UVB, are emitted by the sun and located on the blue-violet end of the spectrum. Over time, UV damage can cause cataracts; the growth of scar tissue on the cornea, the clear protective covering of the eye; cancer of the eyelids and skin around the eyes; and possibly impaired eyesight from damage to the retina, called macular degeneration, Williams said.

More immediately, UV exposure can cause photokeratitis - sunburn of the eye. While brief and without lasting damage, photokeratitis is still very painful. The eye's top layer is burned and blistered with microscopic abrasions. The condition can be treated easily by your eye care specialist but may keep you out of the fields for a day or two. The best treatment is prevention - wear sunglasses.

Sunglasses don't have to be expensive to be effective. You can find shades that give you good protection for around $20-$25. Here are a few things you should keep in mind as you shop:

- UV protection. Look for a sticker on the lens that guarantees blockage of at least 99 percent UVB rays.
- Tint. Grays, browns and greens are the most common tints. Dr. Williams prefers gray, which distorts color the least. Blue and rose tints aren't recommended.
- Lense size. Tiny lenses may be fashionable, but they provide no protection for the sensitive skin around your eyes. Find glasses that cover your eyelids.
- Polarize. Polarized lenses block out light from certain angles. These glasses are especially handy for people active on the sand or water. They are especially popular with anglers.
- Photochromic lenses. A chemical pricess allows clear prescription glasses to darken as light exposure increases.
- Check with your optician. For those who need prescription sunglasses, the sky's the limit. Most designer sunglasses styles are available at optical shops.

When you're shopping for sunglasses, don't forget the kids. Before adolescence, children's eyes are less able to filter out harmful UV rays, Williams said.

For those involved frequently in such outdoor sports as baseball, tennis, racquetball, basketball and soccer, purchasing sports glasses with UV protectant is a good idea. The strong frames of sports glasses shield your eyes from flying objects and can withstand blows that might break normal sunglasses.

FFA HAPPENINGS

11 N.J. Members To Recieve Highest FFA Degree

The New Jersey FFA Association has nominated 11 members to receive the American FFA Degree at the 67th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., November 10-12.

The American FFA Degree is based on demonstrated leadership ability and outstanding achievements in agricultural business, production, processing or service programs. Of the 427,415 FFA members only 1,445 will receive the degree in 1994.

American FFA Degree recipients from New Jersey are David Bond, Theresa M. Cooper, Dawn N. Doidge, Travis M. Eachus, Ronald D. Emley, Jr., Walter P. Katona, Tiffany M. Roberson, Anthony Russo, George Stillwell, Jay E. Tilton, Nicole B. Wright.

To receive this degree, members must have earned $7,500 through a supervised agricultural experience program and must have productively invested those earnings back into their enterprises.

The New Jersey American FFA Degree recipients were nominated and approved by Nancy J. Trivette, New Jersey Department of Education, and the National FFA Board of Directors.

Each recipient receives a gold American FFA Degree key and a certificate.

More than 30,000 FFA members are expected to attend the 67th National FFA Convention, which is the largest annual youth convention in the nation.

U-TUBE LAMP & SUPPLIES

"...the biggest advantage of these lamps is the economic savings over the life of the bulb. Once the initial investment is paid back, which will be done in less than six months, the increased electrical economy make such bulbs the most logical way to light..." MICHAEL J Darro - PHD Animal Science University of Connecticut

PHILIPS ENERGY EFFICIENCY AND LONGER LIFE

EARTH LIGHT

Earth Light Collection lamps pay for themselves many times over by providing significant savings on energy, maintenance and replacement. Compared to ordinary incandescent lamps, Earth Light Collection lamps save up to 70 percent on energy. The $1.523, for example, will save $67* over the life of each lamp. What's more, these energy savings are compounded by savings on maintenance and replacement. With an average life of 10,000 hours, Earth Light Collection lamps last up to 13 times longer than ordinary incandescents.

Dauphin County Fall Field Day Set

DAUPHIN (Dauphin Co.) — On Tuesday, Sept. 27, agencies housed in the Dauphin County Agricultural and Natural Resource Center will hold a fall field day for the farmers of Dauphin and surrounding counties.

The Dauphin County Conservation District, Penn State Cooperative Extension, Soil Conservation Service (SCS), and the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service (ASCS) will be coordinating this event, from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Berrysburg Fire Company carnival grounds.

Emphasis for the event will be on both crop residue management and nutrient management.

Residue management is the topic of concern in conservation plan compliance. Nutrient management is a hot topic all by itself. Both residue management and nutrient management are important items for today's farmers. Both livestock and crop producers need to understand how these two items relate to their farming operation, regardless of its size. The fall field day is designed to answer questions on these topics and provide new ideas.

The agenda for the day will include short presentations, guest speakers, field demonstrations, and a credited weed control session. Guest speakers will be Douglas Beegle from Pennsylvania State University and Doug Goodlander from the Bureau of Land and Water Conservation. Douglas Beegle will be discussing sound nutrient management practices witih regards to commercial fertilizer and/or manure. Doug Goodlander will be speaking on the nutrient management act.

Field demonstrations will include use of cover crops, manure spreader calibrating, and conservation tillage. Primary emphasis for the demonstrations will be on use of existing equipment that most farmers have; however, farmers attending will have the opportunity to see some new equipment demonstrated.

Extension agent Paul Craig will offer a session on perennial weed control on reduced tillage practices. Farmers are reminded to bring their pesticide application license along with them if they wish to receive credit for this session.

Safety Expert To Edit Journal

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Dr. Dennis Murphy, professor of agricultural engineering in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences, has been named the editor of a new quarterly publication, the Journal of Agricultural Safety and Health.

Published by the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, the first issue will be available February 1995, with subsequent editions appearing in May, August, and November. It is being launched in response to a growing awareness of the unique safety and health concerns in agriculture and rural areas.

"The National Safety Council reports that agriculture is the nation's most hazardous industry, with a work-related death rate 22 percent higher than the second most hazardous industry, mining and quarrying," Murphy said.

"Farming is not keeping pace with other hazardous occupations in improving its safety record. This new journal will help scientists, engineers and others concerned about farm and rural safety keep in touch with new research, opinions and theories."

The Journal of Agricultural Safety and Health will address farm and rural safety and health issues confronting all parts of the world. The journal's interdisciplinary focus will include engineering, occupational safety, social psychology, public policy, education, industrial hygiene and public health.

"The journal will contain scholarly, peer-reviewed articles as well as abstracts of articles from other journals," Murphy said. "It also will feature listings of ASAE and National Institute for Farm Safety technical papers and a section detailing upcoming conferences, meetings, government agency activities and other announcements."

The journal welcomes articles on original research projects, evaluations of current intervention and demonstration projects, literature reviews, new or modified theories and models concerning agricultural safety and health problems, commentaries and editorials.

Before joining Penn State in 1976, Murphy was employed as a safety engineer by the Argonne National Laboratory and the Crum and Forester Insurance Company. He was the first recipient of the Packer Engineering Safety Award presented by ASAE and has served as president of the National Institute for Farm Safety. Murphy is the author of "Safety and Health for Production Agriculture," a textbook published by ASAE.

Ag Tech Field Day Sept. 15

GREENSBURG (Westmoreland Co.) — Livestock and dairy farmers should plan to attend the fall Ag-Tech day on Sept. 15 from 1 p.m.-4 p.m. at Westmoreland Fairgrounds.

Theme for the day is "Forage Management From Field To Bunk."

The day will include a demonstration of harvesting equipment and a discussion of winter forage options led by county agent and agronomist Ryan Hockensmith of Penn State Extension, Lawrence County. Ryan will discuss seed options, planting options, harvesting options, and anything else you want to talk about related to winter forage cover crops.

You will also be able to take an end of the season look at the weed control plots on corn. See what worked, what didn't, why, and what the costs were so you can do a better job of weed control next year.

Now is the time to notice and write down what your weed problems are this year so you can adjust your rotation and control programs to get those problem weeds under control next year.

Directions to Westmoreland Fairgrounds: From Greensburg take Rt. 30 East to Mt. Pleasant Exit (signs for Westmoreland Fairgrounds and Pitt-Greensburg). Take Mt. Pleasant Rd. south to "Y" at Pitt campus. Bear left (sign for fairgrounds) at "Y." Continue south about four miles to fairgrounds. Go past main fairgrounds entrance on your left (at top of hill) and continue to next left to south entrance. Field day at barn on right next to fairgrounds.

Farm Credit Declares Patronage Refund

LEWISBURG (Union Co.) — Northeastern Farm Credit, ACA distributed $2.42 million in patronage to its members on August 31, 1994.

A total of 3,392 borrowers of the cooperative received checks totaling $483,000 in cash dividends and the balance of the patronage in allocated equity. Patronage paid to borrowers was based on their 1993 lending activity. This is the third year Northeastern Farm Credit has paid patronage.

Directed by action of the Board of Directors, this patronage refund reflects the strong capital position and financial strength of the Association. To Farm Credit, it equates to a return of most of the ACA's earnings to its members. To the cooperative's member/customers, it represents a return of approximately 15 percent of the interest they paid.

Hang A Gate On A T-Post? Yes!

RIOI RICO, Ariz. — With Wedge-Loc's Gate Hinges, you can mount lightweight gates on steel T-posts. The hardware is quick and easy to install, looks great, and works.

Depending upon the type of bracing, you can hang up to a 10-foot lightweight panel or tubular gate. For instance, if you are putting the gate on a corner post (two diagonal braces to the post) so the gate swings into the next pasture, your gate can be up to 10 feet. A single diagonal brace to the T-post with your gate will easily handle a 4-foot gate.

Wedge-Loc Company continues to bring new ideas to complement their original Wedge-Loc bracing system for T-posts.

Saul Announces Retirement

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Charles F. Saul, president, chief executive officer and general manager of Agway Inc. since 1992, announced that he will retire on February 1, 1995.

In accepting Saul's notice of retirement, the Agway Inc. board of directors elected Donald P. Cardarelli to the position of executive vice president and chief operating officer with full responsibility for the management of the farm supply cooperative.

Cardarelli has served as Agway treasurer and a vice president for the past three years. Between now and the February 1995 retirement date, Saul will be continuing as president while representing Agway in a number of agricultural industry and ag-cooperative related projects.

A native of Utica, N.Y., Cardarelli holds a bachelor of science degree from Utica College of Syracuse University. He earned his MBA from Syracuse University. After holding management positions at Coopers & Lybrand in Syracuse and the Pneumo Corporation in Boston, he joined Agway in 1984 as corporate director of financial analysis. In 1986, he became vice president of finance and treasurer of the Agway Insurance Group. In 1988, he was appointed executive vice president of Agway Insurance where he provided the leadership for the turnaround of that business. He became treasurer of Agway Inc. in 1991 and was elected a vice president in May 1992. A certified public accountant, Cardarelli is active in a number of professional organizations.

Northrup King Celebrates 25 Years Of Soybean Breeding

GOLDEN VALLEY, Minn. — At recent field days, Northup King Co. celebrated the 25th anniversary of its soybean research program, one of the industry's most extensive soybean breeding efforts.

Launched in 1969 by Dr. John Thorne, Northup King director of self-pollinated crops, the company's soybean research program has produced more than 75 soybean varieties, including many identified as performance leaders in university and state trials, dealer evaluations, and Northup King Agronomic Check Plots. The Northup King soybean program is supported by a staff of 20 at four research locations around the Midwest.

Thorne notes that soybean breeding at Northup King has always been motivated by grower need.

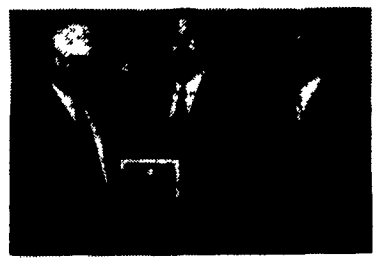
Two Receive Purina Mills Fellowships

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Purina Mills, Inc. has awarded research fellowships to Darin Bremmer and Stephen Banta, two graduate students studying dairy science. The company also recognized M. Douglas Kenealy, professor of animal science at Iowa State University, with its teaching award. The three were honored at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Science Associatiion.

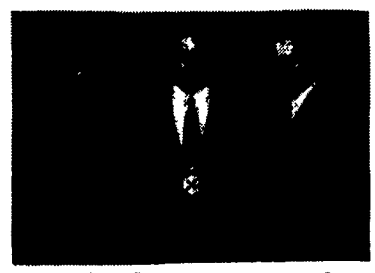
Bremmer is a master's degree candidate at the University of Illinois. He was recognized for his research on the energy content of feeds fed to high-producing dairy cows. Bremmer plans to continue his work in dairy cattle nutrition, eventually seeking a career as a nutrition consultant or continue work at the university level.

Banta is a master's candidate at the University of Arizona. He is studying the influence of roasted, steam-flaked, dry-rolled sorghum grain on lactation and digestion in high-producing dairy cows. After he receives his degree, Banta hopes to either pursue a doctoral degree or enter law school.

Kenealy was honored for being an exceptional teacher, adviser and educator in dairy science. In addition to his responsibilities as professor-in-charge of dairy science and section leader for animal science teaching, he has maintained a heavy teaching and advising schedule. He joined the faculty at Iowa State University in 1975 and was named professor-in-charge in 1989.



Dr. M. Douglas Kinealy, center, professor-in-charge of dairy science at Iowa State University, receives the Purina Mills, Inc. Teaching Award at the American Dairy Science Association annual meeting. Presenting the award are Dr. Nate Smith, left, Purina Mills director, dairy research, and Dr. Michael A. Barnes, Virginia Tech University.



Darin Bremmer, center, graduate dairy science student at the University of Illinois, receives a Purina Mills Research Fellowship from Dr. Barbara Barton, Purina Mills manager, dairy research, and Dr. Rex L. Ricketts, University of Missouri. The award was presented at the American Dairy Science Association annual meeting.

Steben Banta, center, graduate dairy science student at the University of Arizona, receives a Purina Mills Research Fellowship from Dr. Barbara Barton, Purina Mills manager, dairy research, and Dr. Rec L. Ricketts, University of Missouri. The award was presented at the American Dairy Science Association.

Cyanamid Helps Dealer Communicate Farming Facts

WAYNE, N.J. — Since June 4, passengers traveling through St. Louis's Lambert International Airport have been struck by the sight of a bright, four-paneled kiosk display with the heading, "Where Are America's Farmers?"

The presentation was developed by American Cyanamid Company at the request of the St. Clair Service Company, a St. Louis-area AgriCenter™ dealer.

The display contains four panels, each consisting of a full-color photograph of a farm scene or crop. The photographs are accompanied by a series of text boxes relaying facts about the farming industry. By reading the soil conservation tillage panel, even a casual observer would come away knowing that there is a method of farming which reduces tillage time and labor by 50-60 percent, while improving the productivity of farmland and conserving moisture.

The corn and soybean panel illustrates the variety of products other than food for which these staples may be used, particularly fuel. The final two sections of the display describe the prudence of crop protection chemical use, and give a series of statistics about the efficiency and productivity of the American farms and the American farmer.

"The people at Cyanamid were so enthusiastic about the project that it made everyone out here even more excited," said Francis Vahlkamp, assistant manager of the St. Clair Service Company.

"We are promoting agriculture," said Vahlkamp, "and promoting it from the farmer's standpoint. We wanted to emphasize clean air, soil conservation, and the fact that farmers provide food for 129 different people, without it turning into an advertisement. This is simply giving a boost to farming, making people realize that agriculture is important to the American people."

Northrup To Expand Seed System

GOLDEN VALLEY, Minn. — Northrup King Co. will expand availability of its new Load & Go ™ Seed Handling System to corn and soybean growers throughout the U.S. in 1995. The move follows a successful pilot program conducted with growers in the Midwest in 1994.

The Load & Go system features specially-engineered durable plastic boxes which make filling planter boxes easier and quicker, allowing coverage of more acres per day.

"This system enables growers to go straight from the dealer to the field, without taking the intermediate step of loading a poly bag into a gravity wagon," said Jack Bernens, Northrup King corn product manager. "No one has ever packaged seed like this before."

The centerpiece of the Load & Go Seed Handling System is the Q-Bit™ container, an injection-molded polyethylene bin manufactured in two sizes from durable, recyclable plastic. One Q-Bit container is the equivalent of 30 bags of seed corn or 40 bags of soybeans. When full, the Q-Bit container weighs about 2,000 pounds, and can be loaded between the wheel wells of a full-size pickup truck box. Seeds are discharged from the container using a simple hose connection or belt conveyors, specially designed augers or pneumatic air transfer systems to fill planters or drills.

Best Values in New Equipment

ANY FAMILY RESEMBLANCE IS PURELY INTENTIONAL.

The legacy of MAGNUM™ and MAXXUM® now enters the mid-range class.

Introducing the Case International 3200 and 4200 Series tractors. Five new tractors ranging from 42 to 85 PTO hp. Powered by tough Case IH diesel engines. And worthy of the reputation for reliability, durability and performance established by MAGNUM and MAXXUM.

These new tractors offer smooth, new synchronized speed and range transmissions with reduced shifting effort in all gears. Heavy-duty clutches, final drives and PTOs are strengthened for long life under the toughest conditions. And super-responsive hydraulics cycle quickly for precise loader control.

Sleek new styling increases visibility, a vital asset for loader work. Large front and side grilles add to engine cooling and performance. And on cab versions, plenty of glass area and a MAGNUM style right-hand console lift operator productivity to new heights.

To find out which 3200/4200 tractor best suits your needs, stop by one of these Case IH dealers. While you're there, ask about Total Product Support—our commitment to the service and parts that add life to your tractor.

The new Case International 3200 and 4200 Series tractors. Proof that good looks and great performance run in the family.

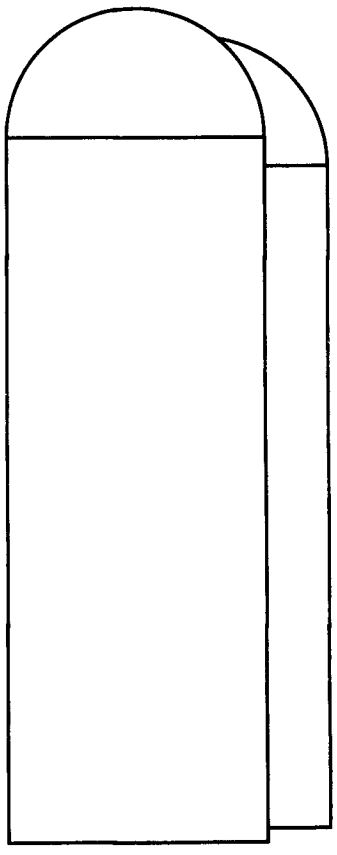
HIGH PROFIT STORAGE FOR HIGH ENERGY FEEDS



Preserving high energy corn silage is obtained only through efficient, effective storage. Storage that saves the most nutrients. Storage that delivers the highest overall long term benefits. Storage that offers better total performance than any other method of preserving valuable corn silage.

Tower silos control the fermentation process and retain the most feed. With tower silos you'll get better feed...more feed...with lower overall costs and less labor than any other storage method.

"When it comes to high profit storage for high energy feeds, other systems just don't measure up."

CONSIDER THE MANY CONCRETE ADVANTAGES!
"A GOOD JULY RAIN GROWS A LOT OF GRAIN!"
With The Prospect Of A Good Corn Crop, It's Time For Many Producers To Make Decisions Concerning Storage.

No Used Silos!
No Rebuilt Silos!
No Preowned Silos!!

In order to avoid hauling and drying costs, let us build a corn storage unit to preserve your valuable grain at 20%-30% moisture.

To keep your stored corn bright and yellow, you must protect it from oxygen and heat. Our 6" thick concrete walls reflect 38% of light beams, resulting in 780 times more heat-resisting ability than steel, and 25 times more insulating power than steel.

Our 6" thick walls have a very low leak potential compared to pre-fab silos of any kind, and a very low maintenance requirement.

BEFORE SPENDING A LOT OF MONEY FOR ENERGY TO DRY YOUR CORN, YOU WILL DO WELL TO CONSIDER THE MANY ADVANTAGES OF OUR POURED CONCRETE SILOS...

To unload your corn, we can install the simple auger system, the Laidig 43 unloader, or the Flying Dutchman. Let's discuss the options, and what is best for your situation.

The Best of the Best

The Wheeling 2 oz. Seal of Quality coating represents the best of the best in the Wheeling Corrugating line of premium galvanized roofing and siding. Every panel that carries the 2 ounce coating assures you are getting the toughest, the most durable, the most corrosion resistant galvanized sheet available in today's marketplace.

2oz. Seal of Quality Wheeling

Genuine Old-Time Quality
Every Wheeling 2 oz sheet is manufactured from heavy gauge steel, topped with an extra thick zinc coating, and formed into profiles that contribute strength and good looks Build with a Wheeling 2 oz sheet and you'll be working with the kind of durability and dependability that's been a standard in the industry for almost 100 years

The Proof is in the Process
The performance behind the Wheeling 2 oz Seal of Quality is possible because of Wheeling's patented Cook Norteman manufacturing process This technology allows a more consistent quality product and a more uniform coating with unsurpassed zinc adhesion The process takes more handling and more time, but the end result is a super premium panel that has its own limited 20 year performance warranty

Dimensions and Specifications
If your building plans call for roofing and siding materials with exceptional corrosion resistance minimum upkeep and old time toughness you ll want to check the specs of Wheeling 2 oz Seal of Quality galvanized

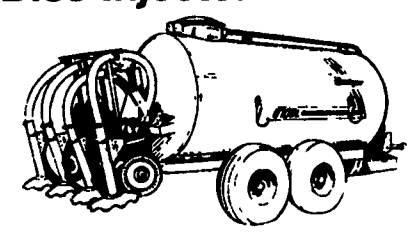
THIS WEEK'S SPECIAL

Disc-Injector



- Badger's exclusive patented design injects manure in a uniform 1/4" x 22" layer under each injector shank
- Places manure in the plant root growth zone maximizing nutrient use by the crop
- No surface manure exposure substantially reduces nutrient loss and odor problems
- Perfect for minimum till operations since the Sicinjector loosens and aerates soil
- Retrofits any Badger injector as well as most competitive units

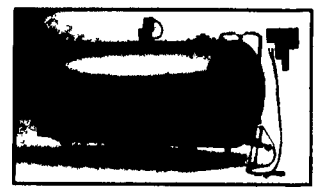
MUELLER DAIRY FARM EQUIPMENT

Offer

Scroll-Compressor Technology

New in 1994



You may pay less for some dairy farm equipment... but it can cost you more!

Equipment cost is not the only cost of cooling milk

In the long run, total operating costs of a Mueller milk-cooling system are generally substantially less than those of "bargain-brand" milk-cooling equipment.

Example	Mueller	Competition
Cost of equipment	$31,000	$28,000
Cost of electricity @ .08 kW for 12,000 lbs milk day for 10 years	$17,550	$22,850
Total operating cost for ten years	$48,550	$50,850
Savings	$ 2,300

Contact your Mueller distributor for further comparisons.

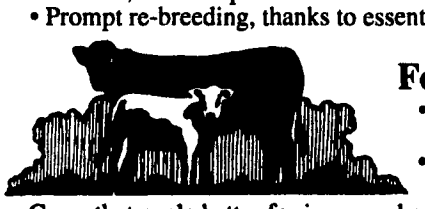
- Supplies much-needed vitamins and minerals that forage lacks to help your cattle perform to their genetic potential
- Supplies fat in most formulations to enhance energy intake

For Dairy

- Replacement heifers that grow out soundly and economically
- Body condition on dry cows so they can return to lactation, producing at the maximum potential
- Healthier herds, with essential trace minerals that help prevent metritis, retained placenta and other health problems
- Prompt re-breeding, thanks to essential nutrients



For Beef

- Stronger, healthier calves at birth
- Heavier Calves at weaning
- Cows that cycle better for improved conception rates
- Cows that milk better to raise a better calf

- AVAILABLE IN 200 LB. SIZE -

Registered Highland Cattle

- Discover the breed that still retains special traits acquired from its ancestors of Scotland.
- Great foragers, clearing most pest plants common to poor pastures
- Thrive in cold, damp climates
- Produce excellent lean beef in adverse conditions where other cattle would fail
- Docile and Hearty
- Calve easily due to small birth weights—something of interest to dairy people for servicing first-calf heifers
- Brucellosis, TB, BVD free herd and inoculated against rabies

LLAMAS

If you've been considering starting in llamas, or having a llama for a pet, why not stop in to see our herd.

Our young males start at $500, our weanling females at $2,500, our pregnant females at $3,500. A deposit will hold any of our crias (baby llamas) for you.

We prefer selling off the farm, rather than subjecting our animals to the stress of auctions.

All of our llamas are registered with the International Llama Registry. Some of the finest wool and blood lines can be found in our herd, including Otter Creek Harold.

All llamas can be halter led, and are gently trained by teenagers.

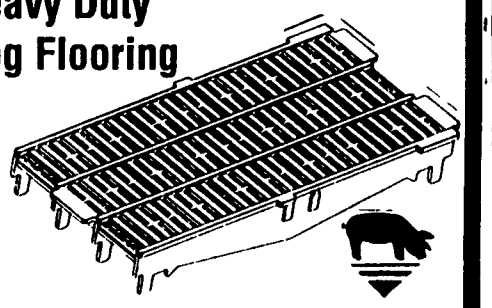
REPLACING HOG FLOORING? CONSIDERING NEW CONSTRUCTION? ☑ CHECK OUT Polygrate™

Heavy Duty Hog Flooring



Time Tested and Proven

This style of POLYGRATE was first introduced in 1981. Over the years Farocx has continued to refine this product. POLYGRATE is one of only a few "World Class" floors that has stood this test of time.

Outstanding Traction

POLYGRATE'S unique "high-low" finger design provides outstanding traction for pigs of all sizes, while enhancing safety and comfort.

- ◆ POLYGRATE'S rounded corners minimize injuries. The edges are beveled providing a smoother, safer surface that promotes comfort, too.

What Does This All Add Up To?

- ◆ More piglets survive until weaning
- ◆ Less splay/spraddle leg problems
- ◆ Heavier piglets at weaning
- ◆ Better conditioned sows at weaning

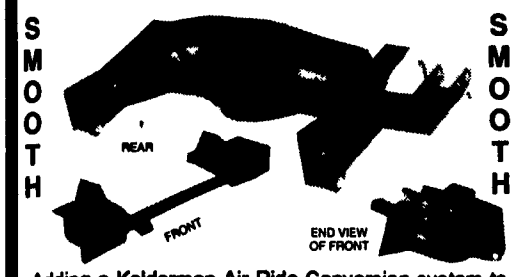
KELDERMAN AIR RIDE



Adding a Kelderman Air Ride Conversion system to your present suspension will result in a two stage suspension system. This is not to be confused with adding an Air bag mounted above the axle. Allows adding extra spring leafs to increase load rating and still maintain Air-Ride comfort.

The bolt on basic package utilizes an air stem mounted in a convenient location to add or remove air from the system.

Optional 12 volt compressor allows changing air pressure setting on the go.

Currently available for front and rear suspension in Dodge Series 250 & 350 trucks. Available soon for Dodge Dakota models.

Also available for some Ford, Chevy, and GMC truck models. Special orders available for most motor homes. This option will smooth out the ride on those rough-road fishing/camping trips.

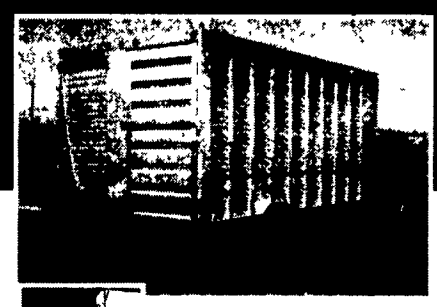
Agriculture Moves on EBY Bodies



M.H. Eby custom-builds aluminum truck bodies for the agri-transportation market. Nobody offers more sizes and options in:

- LIVESTOCK BODIES - Lengths to 32', choice of heights and widths.
- GRAIN BODIES - Lengths to 24'; landscape and general purpose dumps to 12'.
- FLATBED BODIES - Lengths to 32', choice of 5 widths.

For greater payload capacity, Eby's aluminum design is equal in strength to steel and up to 40% lighter. Our corrosion-resistant components never need painting. That means minimum maintenance, improved appearance and higher resale value.

Eby products have superior standard features. And we offer custom options for virtually any application. Agriculture is your business- building bodies to haul it is ours.

Let EBY custom build one for you.

Chore-Time's new and exciting auger system is so fast it fills all troughs in a 500-ft. house in only 5 minutes. Then all birds eat simultaneously. No pitching over of feed. It's the ultimate breeder feeder!
• Fast feed delivery—less competition, less stress, better performance, less shrinkage with all feed. • Easy to operate, no feed level adjustment in water needed. • Uniform ration throughout the house—uniform birds. • Available with hopper-only or "full-length" grill. • Use Chore-Time WEIGH-MATIC® bin to allocate daily ration before feeding.
Separate bin to feed a different feed to males if you choose
Feeder fully suspended so height is adjusted easily, raise all the way for easy cleaning.
Feed line for males (See back of sheet)
Weigh scale for male ration.
½ HP drive motor propels auger
Each day's ration of feed is weighed in weigh bin for next day's feeding.
Feed line hopper (2 per circuit) refills feeder until day's feed is gone. Each hopper puts out feed at 50 lbs./min

Shoot Will Benefit Hungry

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — Proceeds from the First Benefit Shoot for the Hungry, sponsored by Jefferson Sportsmen's Association of Codorus, will help put meat on tables of hungry families in central Pennsylvania.

The fundraiser, scheduled for September 18, will feature food, archery target shoots, trap shoots and novelty shoots and more. Activities will take place at the 120-acre Sportsmen's Club, south of Jefferson, on Sportsmen's Club Road.

Any profits realized from the shoot will be shared by the sponsors of two venison sharing projects: Hunters Harvestshare of Maryland and Pennsylvania's program, "Hunters Sharing the Harvest."

"With this extra support, we will be able to inform more hunters about the program and encourage them to share their venison," said Kenneth Brandt, executive president of Pennsylvanians for the Responsible Use of Animals (PRUA), the group which organized the Pennsylvania venison sharing project in 1990.

Last year, "Hunters Sharing the Harvest," with the assistance of meat processors and food banks, collected and distributed more than 70,000 pounds of deer meat to hungry Pennsylvanians. During hunting season, conservation groups, hunting clubs, and interested individuals are encouraged to give their extra deer meat to the needy through this service project.

Information about the Benefit Shoot for the Hungry or "Hunters Sharing the Harvest" is available by calling PRUA Executive Vice President Kenneth Brandt, P.O. Box 61, Elizabethtown, PA 17022, (717) 367-5223.

Wayne County Holds Beef Show

HONESDALE (Wayne Co.) — The 1994 Wayne County 4-H Beef Show was held recently at the fairgrounds in Honesdale. The judge for the evening was Dr. John Comerford, a professor of dairy and animal science at Penn State University and an extension beef specialist.

Melissa Nebzydoski's 1,180-pound Angus/Simmental steer was selected as the grand champion. The reserve champion steer was a Chi-angus weighing 1,290 pounds owned by Scott Lewis. Kendel Miller received champion home bred honors for her Angus steer.

In the breeding show, Charlie Megivern's 2-year-old heifer, "Samantha," was selected as the supreme champion. "DMK Katie," an Angus summer yearling owned by Kendel Miller, was named the reserve supreme champion.

All of the 4-H'ers were judged on showmanship, which is how well they control their animal and present it to the judge. Earl Marshall was chosen as the grand champion showman. The reserve champion showman was Melissa Nebzydoski.

Clinton County Fair Posts Livestock Results

LOCK HAVEN (Clinton Co.) — The 22nd Annual Clinton County Fair concluded with the 4-H Livestock Sale.

The buy-back packers were H.J. Bierly Livestock of Mill Hall and Walter M. Dunlap and Sons of Lancaster.

There are two firsts for this year. This year there were the dairy beef or tenderlean projects. Tenderlean are dairy breed animals that are fed a special diet and finish at 1,000 to 1,300 pounds at approximately 11 to 13 months of age.

Also, rabbits were a new addition to the livestock sale. They are sold by a pen of three meat rabbits not more than 5 pounds each and born after April 30. Two meat pens were exhibited and auctioned this year. The first place pen sold by Nicole Williams of Windy Acres 4-H Club brought $30 and was purchased by H.J. Bierly Livestock. The second place pen sold by Katie Michura of Beech Creek Trailblazers sold for $22.50 was purchased by Albright's Feed Mill of Mill Hall.

The 37 market lambs sold weighed from 81 to 153 pounds

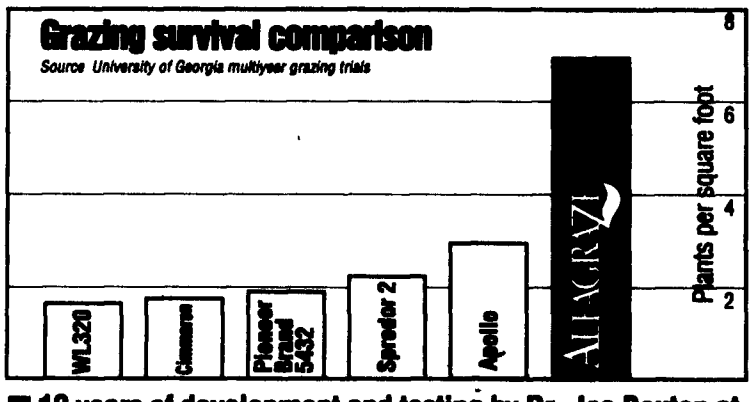
Discover AMERICA'S ALFAGRAZE Alfalfa

Hay it and graze it!



■ 12 years of development and testing by Dr. Joe Bouton at the University of Georgia prove Alfagraze survives grazing better than any alfalfa variety. And because Alfagraze features upright growth, you have the choice to cut it for hay or graze it.

■ Alfagraze lowers feed costs...
"While grazing our 120-cow dairy herd on Alfagraze, we reduced our daily feed costs from $3 a cow to $1.50. Over the next two years we plan to seed another 50 acres of Alfagraze."
— Dane Mercer, Dairyman, Sweetwater, TN

■ Alfagraze yields like conventional hay varieties.

■ Alfagraze has exceptional winterhardiness.

■ Alfagraze is very leafy with fine stems.

Special Children Benefit Auction Sept. 17

LEOLA (Lancaster Co.) — The 4th annual benefit auction to support the Clinic For Special Children is scheduled Saturday, Sept. 17 at 9 a.m. at the Leola Produce Auction here on Brethren Church Road.

All kinds of quilts, baked goods, and donated items will be for sale at the auction. Donated items include farm supplies, tools, and hardware, in addition to crafts, household and lawn furniture, trucks, and collectibles. Quilts will be sold starting about noon.

Baked goods, a chicken barbecue, subs, lunch stands, fresh strawberry pies, soft ice cream, soft pretzels, sticky buns made on site, and lots more will be at the auction.

The auction provides an opportunity to help support a vital service for many special needs children in the area. The clinic, located in Strasburg, is a nonprofit medical research and diagnostic service for Amish, Mennonite, and other children with inherited disorders.

For donors bringing items directly to the auction, the receiving hours are Friday, Sept. 16 starting at 2 p.m. and Saturday until sale time.

Terms are provided by the Clinic For Special Children and items will be auctioned by Paul W. Horst and local auctioneers.

If you have a donation that has to be picked up, call one of the following numbers: (717) 733-2645; (717) 626-4863; (717) 656-9694; or (717) 354-5415.

Mushroom Compost Used On Corn

FLEETWOOD (Berks Co.) — A field day demonstrating the use of spent mushroom compost as the sole nutrient amendment for growing corn will be held here at the farm of Kenneth Schlegel.

The economics, nitrogen content, and the soil improvement benefits of using spent mushroom compost will be discussed at the field day, scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 9:30 p.m.

Kenneth Schlegel's farm is one of three research sites in Berks County where the mushroom soil was applied. The purpose of these trials is to compare the economics of using spent mushroom compost as a nutrient source to farmers' standard fertilization practices for growing corn.

Spent mushroom compost has an nitrogen-phosphorous-potassium value of 2.75-1.5-1.5. Most of the nitrogen is in a stable organic form that is slowly released during the growing season, and thereby minimizes the potential for nitrogen loss due to leaching.

In addition to the nutrients, spent mushroom compost adds organic matter to the soil, which increases the water- and nutrient-holding capacity of soils. When added to tight clay soils, the additional organic matter can improve soil porosity and drainage.

Spent mushroom soil is a by-product of mushroom production. It is made from poultry manure, wheat straw, hay, corn cobs, cottonseed hulls, cottonseed meal, and gypsum. It is formulated and composted under controlled conditions.

The field day is sponsored by Giorgi Mushroom Company, Penn State Cooperative Extension, and the Rodale Institute Research Center. The Schlegel farm is located on Route 662 between Fleetwood and Route 222.

For more information, contact Phil Coles, Giorgi Mushroom Co. at (610) 929-8811, ext. 633 or Leon Weber, Rodale Institute, (610) 683-1401.

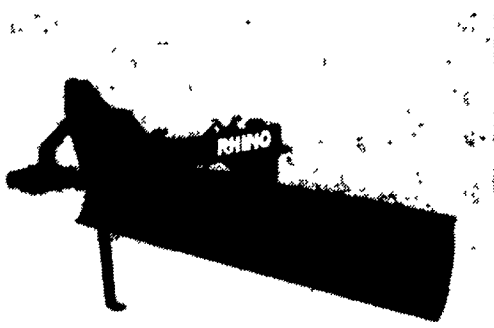
RHINO

If It's Snow Removal Or Heavy Duty Excavating, You Need A Rhino Blade From Binkley & Hurst Bros. Now!



A support stand is standard on the 800 Blade to provide safer storage and unit hook up The moldboard and replaceable cutting edge form a constant curvature to cut and roll the material being worked more efficiently Optional equipment includes quick tach end plates, skid shoes, and CAT II quick coupler bushings

The 800 Blade features mainframe swing moldboard pivot and moldboard tilt to fit a wide range of applications The blade can be offset a maximum of 30" from the center line of the tractor for working outside the tractor tire The moldboard can be pivoted a full 360 degrees for backfilling or working in hard to reach areas

Rhino disc mowers feature an easy access cutterbar The innovative design of the cutterbar allows access to the disc spindle shaft and gear module without disassembly of the entire cutterbar, reducing maintenance costs and downtime The hardened rock guards are designed to help protect the entire leading edge of the cutterbar from damage and along with the skid shoes are easily replaceable A heavy duty CAT I II & Cat II offset three-point hitch made of 4"x6" thick-wall tubing is standard to provide dependable service A safety breakaway system is built in to provide mainframe protection against sudden impacts when mowing With 5" of blade overlap and blade tip speed of 15,814 FPM Rhino disc mowers provide a clean smooth cut Rugged construction and high performance are two reasons Rhino disc mowers are the ideal choice for fast, efficent grass mowing

There's nothing more important to a crop than early even emergence. To get it, you need accurate, even seeding.

The 5300 has earned a reputation for its seeding precision, a funciton of its exclusive feed cup design and dependable disk openers. And, to improve placement of seed, the opener drawbars are heavier than on previous models. Press wheels and opener bearings are heavier for long life operation.

Along with accuracy, the 5300 gives you fast, high capacity seeding, so you spend less time refilling hoppers. Grass seeding attachment for 16x7.

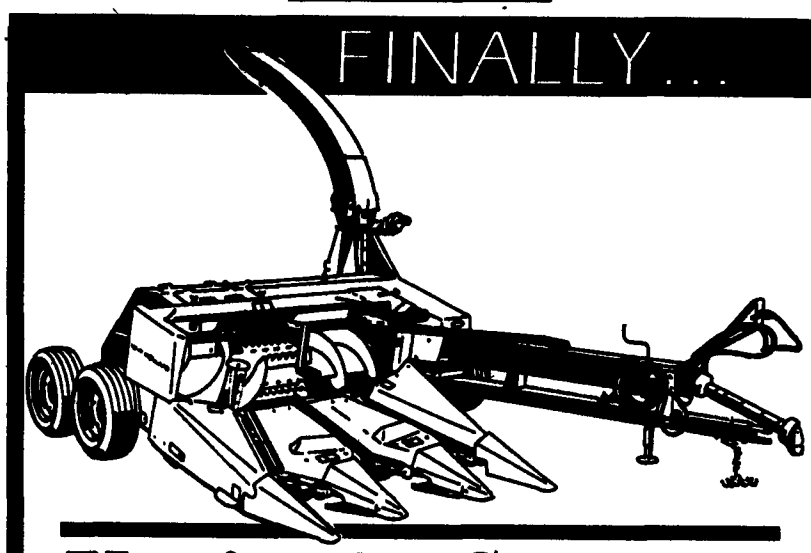
FINALLY...



YOU'RE IN CONTROL

The Model 900 forage harvester puts you in control of your harvest:

- Rugged 21-inch, 12-knife cutterhead for a uniform chop.
- Exclusive flip-up feedrolls provide convenient access to the shearbar and smooth roll scraper.
- Electromagnetic clutches provide instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Optional Metalert® 11 metal detector protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.

Let us show you how the Model 900 puts you in control.

NEW HOLLAND

WHIRL-A-FEED

SAVE TIME AT THE SILO

Increase your productivity with a Model 40 forage blower. The Whirl-A-Feed® table breaks up clumps and spins crop into the blower at high speed. This means less drag on the fan and more efficient use of your tractor's horsepower.

Stop by and learn more about the Model 40.

JOHN DEERE
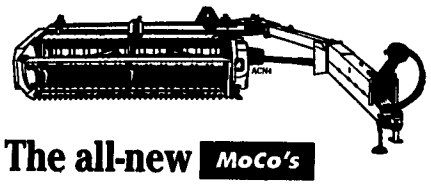
NOBODY DOES HAY BETTER



The all-new MoCo's

- An all-new three-point suspension system provides unmatched flotation
- Redesigned guards and a 5-bar reel help the all-new sickle bar machine cut better – and six inches wider – than anything in it's class.
- Two new rotary disk models feature the all-new, John Deere-built modular cutterbar. It's stronger than anything else on the market.
- An exclusive Power-Cushion helps prevent the driveline from bottoming out during tight turns.

TODAY'S MAHONING OUTDOOR FURNACE WILL HEAT YOUR HOME, BARN, POOL, BUSINESS, GREENHOUSE, & DOMESTIC DRINKING WATER TOO!
WE CAN CUSTOMIZE A UNIT TO FIT YOUR PERSONAL NEEDS!

Safe • Efficient • Durable

Look at what makes the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace a great purchase...
CLEAN. All dirt, dust, fuel and fire is outside. No chance of chimney fire or flue fire.
ELIMINATES AIR POLLUTION IN THE HOME. Smoke, fuel odors and other causes of allergies are outside the home.
SAFE FOR MOBILE HOMES. Eliminates danger that other furnaces contained in a mobile home can cause.
NO DANGER OR EXPLOSION. This is a zero pressure furnace.
ENCLOSED COMPONENTS. The circulation pumps and electrical connections are enclosed in an insulated cabinet on the back of the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace.
ADAPTABLE. Install our furnace in any forced air heating or hot water system.

All Mahoning Units Come Installed with Grates Including An External Shaker Handle

★ The only outdoor furnace made with a Catalytic Combustor. ★

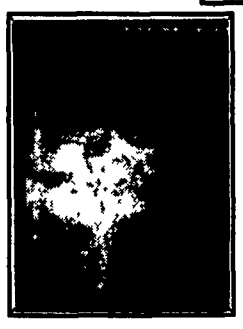
Mahoning Catalytic Combustor Will Help in the Following Ways:
1. Burn one cord of wood which equals 166 gallons of oil.
2. Your fuel source becomes enormous inexhaustible and poses few risks to public safety.
3. Over all efficiency of 85%, which means the heat no longer goes up the chimney!
4. You get more heat from a log compared to the non-cat furnace.
5. More burn time - less reloading time!
6. Zap 90% of pollutants, made from fire source.
7. Saves you a lot of money!
8. User friendly, emits no smoke!



All Mahoning Multi-Fuels Can Burn Coal, Wood, Oil, Propane, Natural Gas

Proudly Built in Clearfield County, Pennsylvania

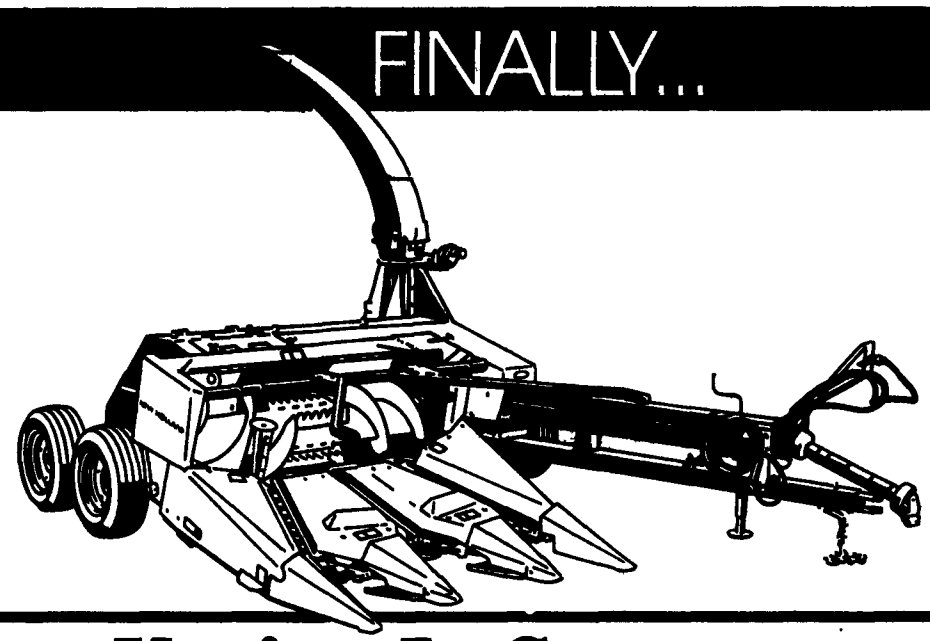
FINALLY...



YOU'RE IN CONTROL

The Model 900 forage harvester puts you in control of your harvest:

- Rugged 21-inch, 12-knife cutterhead for a uniform chop.
- Exclusive flip-up feedrolls provide convenient access to the shearbar and smooth roll scraper.
- Electromagnetic clutches provide instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Optional Metalert® II metal detector protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.

MORE VALUE, LESS HASSLE

Some oil products cost less upfront, but you pay more later in repairs and downtime. Ford New Holland oil provides long-term value. Our premium engine oil maintains its viscosity under heavy workloads. It protects against rust, corrosion, and carbon deposits, too.

Our superior hydraulic oil contains additives that extend the life of your hydraulic system. It prevents foaming, helps water absorption, and provides high performance at low temperatures. Visit us for more information. And, don't forget to ask about the "Hottest Name In Parts" promotion going on right now!

CLAAS HARVESTERS

The forage quality is a key factor for your customers. Precision chopping is essential, both in grass and corn. In corn, all the kernels have to be opened up. This precision enables the achievement of high silage density and top digestion by the livestock. The MEGA makes sure your customers will be satisfied.

HYDRA-SPREAD
HYDRAULIC PUSH-OFF MANURE SPREADER

Single or two beater designs. Aggressive, high-speed beaters - with up to 15 paddles per beater - deliver a fine uniform spread Replaceable bolted paddles on main beater

Snug-fitting end-gate controls sloppy or granular manure

Polyethylene sides and bottom containing 90% re-cycled material Guaranteed for the life of the spreader.

Simple and reliable single-stage push gate for dependable, trouble-free unloading. Centre-guided design eliminates jam-ups

Optional wood rails - increase capacity and protect the box.

Precision metering valve for infinitely variable unloading from 0 - 8 fpm

Fully shielded PTO with overload protection.

Clean design. No obstructions to hold manure.

Driveline and gearbox are safely contained within the frame - under the floor. Easily serviced and repaired

Hydraulic cylinders are installed above the floor Always accessible - always easy to clean and service.

Strong, all-welded frame with heavy structural tubes. All structural members are high-strength steel.

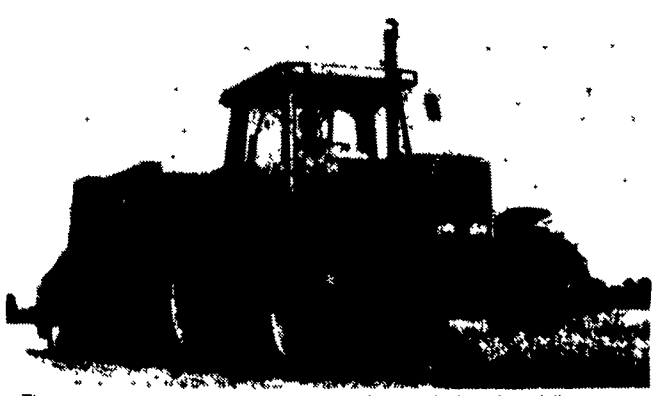
#1 Massey Ferguson and M.M. Weaver

For 30 consecutive years, more farmers world wide have purchased MF tractors than any other brand. And every year more people are coming to MM Weaver for their MF tractors. Here's why:

MASSEY FERGUSON



The new MF Dynashift powershift transmission, designed to deliver more useable power to the PTO and wheels, is now available for all Massey Ferguson tractors from 100 to 170 PTO horsepower. MF 3140 tractor (115 PTO hp) is shown.

- More than 6 million MF tractors have been purchased since 1917.
- MF traces its tradition for quality farm equipment back to 1847.
- MM Weaver has been selling and servicing MF tractors since 1936.
- MM Weaver provides complete MF parts and factory-trained service support.
- MM Weaver offers outstanding trade-in allowances and rock-bottom prices on new MF tractors and equipment.
- MM Weaver can arrange low-cost MF financing on MF tractors and equipment.

FIVE REASONS TO COVER YOUR FEED WITH

instead of black construction film...

FEATURE	BENEFIT
♦ DESIGN Bunker Cover: Application Specific - Designed exclusively for FEED STORAGE. Black Plastic: Designed for short-term use in CONSTRUCTION applications	• Increased Feed Quality Over Conventional Black Plastic Covering • Increased Profitability of Bunker Storage Over Conventional Black Plastic Covering
♦ MATERIAL CONSTRUCTION Bunker Cover: 2 outer white layers, 1 inner black layer bonded toogether. Black Plastic: Solid black layer, absorbs and transfers all heat into feed.	• Increased Strength • Increased Product Life • Less Labor Required to Install
♦ OUTER WHITE LAYERS Bunker Cover: Reflects harmful sunlight and heat from the feed being stored Black Plastic: NONE - Black outer layer absorbs and transfers heat to the feed.	• Reduced Nutritional Loss Due to Heating • More Efficiently Preserves Feed Quality • Reduced Feed Loss Related to Carmelization
♦ INNER BLACK LAYER Bunker Cover: Provides a natural barrier against sunlight penetration. Black Plastic: Provides barrier for sunlight penetration but not heat transfer responsible for feed loss due to carmelization.	• Prevents Nutritional Losses Due to Bleaching • Assists in Maintaining Feed Quality
♦ ULTRAVIOLET PROTECTION PACKAGE Bunker Cover: U.V protection from the sun to withstand exposure for 1 year. Black Plastic: Minimal protection to the plastic from harmful effect of sunlight.	• Increased Performance Life of Product • Provides Ultimate Protection for Valuable Feed.

Union County Holds Livestock Sale

LAURELTON (Union Co.) — The sixteenth annual Union County 4-H and FFA Junior Livestock Sale was held at the West End Fairgrounds in Laurelton on August 5.

This year's sale grossed $35,362, which topped the previous sale record set in 1990.

Forty-one Union County youth participated in this year's sale. A total of eight rabbit meat pens, 10 steers, 34 hogs, and 38 market lambs were sold by auctioneer Bryan D. Imes. Following the sale the buyers were treated to roast lamb sandwiches that were provided by Mountain View Farm with the aid of Dan Snyder Custom Butchering and the Scarlet-D Restaurant.

This year's grand champion market steer was purchased by Robert Hamm of the Country Cupboard Restaurant & Shops of Lewisburg for $3.75 a pound. The 1,225-pound Angus steer was purchased in October at the Harrisburg Beef Expo by 4-H member Adam Wolfe. Adam is the 10-year-old son of Dennis and Anna Wolfe of Lewisburg.

Champion Market steer, owner Adam Wolfe, buyer Robert Hamm for Country Cupboard, Lewisburg.

The reserve champion market steer was purchased by Steve Kreisher and Dennis Keefer for the West Milton State Bank at $3 a pound. The 1,045-pound steer was owned by Kelly Keefer of Mifflinburg. The Hereford/Limousin cross steer was bred by her parents Elnore and Van Keefer.

The grand champion market hog was owned by Timothy Shoemaker of Mifflinburg. Robert Valentine of the Mifflinburg Bank and Trust Company purchased the 228-pound champion for $4.75 a pound. The Berkshire crossbred hog was born on the farm of Tim's parents Mike and Janet Shoemaker. The reserve champion market hog was owned by FFA member Derrick Moyer of Mifflinburg. The 235-pound red crossbred hog was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Sea House of Duncansville. The Mifflinburg High School senior is the son of Neil and Cindy Moyer.

A 118-pound Hampshire crossbred lamb owned by Derek Rice was selected as the champion market lamb of the fair. It was purchased by the West Milton State Bank for $5 a pound. Derek is the son of Thomas and Evelyn Rice of Mifflinburg. The reserve champion lamb was purchased by the Mifflinburg Bank and Trust Company for $4.75 a pound. The 97-pound lamb was owned by 4-H member Shauna Wolfe of Mifflinburg. She is the daughter of William and Jean Wolfe.

The champion and reserve champion meat pen of rabbits was owned by Adam and Jason Wolfe. The two brothers raised New Zealand rabbits and are the sons of Dennis and Anna Wolfe of Lewisburg. The champion pen of three rabbits weighed 12 pounds and was purchased by Robert Hamm of the Country Cupboard Restaurant and Shops of Lewisburg for $40 a pound. The reserve pen weighed 11.5 pounds and was bought by the West Milton State Bank for $10 a pound.

Landscape IPM Course Set

WESTMINSTER, Md. — The Carroll County Extension Office will be holding a Landscape Integrated Pest Management (IPM) course for eight consecutive Tuesdays, September 27; October 4, 11, 18, 25; and November 1, 8, and 15.

This program will provide a comprehensive review of IPM techniques, basic biology and taxonomy of the major insect groups, types and formulation of pesticides and their mode of action, major pest problems affecting landscape ornamentals, and major problems which affect turfgrass in the Maryland area.

Classes will be held from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the Carroll County Extension Office, 700 Agriculture Center, Westminster, Md. There will be a $85 registration fee for the course.

If you are interested in attending, please call the extension office at (410) 848-4611 or (410) 875-2801.

Teachers Attend Biotech Workshop

Ronald Frederick, Twin Valley High School, Elverson, was one of 22 teachers who attended a two-day biotechology workshop sponsoreed by American Cyanamid.

PRINCETON, N.J. — Twenty-two high school agriculture and science teachers from across the U.S. recently attended a two-day biotechnology workshop sponsored by American Cyanamid Company's Agricultural Research Division in Princeton, N.J.

"The purpose of the workshop is to give teachers an opportunity to see, first-hand, how biotechnology currently affects and will continue to impact agricultural and science education," said Fred Stillwagen, educational consultant at Cyanamid and organizer of the event.

He said, "This workshop has continued to grow and expand into its present state because of the changing needs of education. More than ever, today's educators have to be prepared for the challenges of teaching students about an increasingly scientific world."

The teacher not only saw science in action, but were able to conduct their own hands-on experiments using protocols specifically written for high school agriculture and science programs. These same experiments are suited for informing high school students of today's exciting world of technology and will be used when the teachers return to their classrooms this fall. Besides plant tissue culture experiments, participants tried their hand at procedures in chromatography, electrophoresis, and transferring DNA.

Chromatography is a process that separates plant pigments and helps scientists determine their function in a leaf. Electrophoresis can be used to separate nucleic acids, DNA, and RNA on the basis of shape and size. It can be used to identify the structural forms of DNA and the size of DNA fragments, which is important in learning the function of a gene. Extracting and transferring DNA from a bacterium allows both the physical and biochemical features to be examined.

These experiments were simplified so that instructors could learn how to teach the lessons to high school classes.

Honey Harvest Fest Set

WESTMINSTER, Md. — The Hashawha Environmental Center, in cooperation with the Carroll County Beekeepers Association, is sponsoring the 8th Annual Honey Harvest Festival on Sunday, September 18, from noon to 5 p.m.

The festival, free of charge, features many exciting events, including hayrides for the kids, a chance to visit a real apiary, food concession, a beekeeper wearing a 'bee beard,' and numerous related country crafts.

Another highlight of the festival is the honey and honey cookery show competition with ribbons and cash prizes awarded to the winners.

Smokey The Bear and Buzzy Bee will greet visitors and pose with the kids for memorable pictures. The Bear Branch Nature Center will be open for the public with a glass honeybee hive and children's discovery room awaiting public exploration.

For more information, call Hashawha at (410) 848-9040.

The harder you have to work inside the tractor, the less work you're going to get done outside. That's why we designed more operator comfort and convenience than ever into the cabs of our new AGCO Allis 9600 Series powershift tractors. Start with the premium Grammer air-ride seat that adjusts to your weight and swivels to let you move freely. Easy to read gauges are where you need them. And our exclusive seat-mounted console turns with you to keep transmission and engine controls right at your fingertips. Check out the most comfortable cab in the field. In our four new models, from 133 to 191 PTO hp, at your AGCO Allis dealer today.

19 More Reasons

Why you should buy Big Dutchman from Hershey Equipment

NEW CONSTRUCTION OR REMODEL WORK

1. Big Dutchman and Hershey Equipment is #1 in owner loyalty. More people buy Big Dutchman when they remodel than any other system.
2. Our Profit-tier system adapts to your old building.
3. Re-use your old corners to save money.
4. Big Dutchman's superior suspension system keeps the cages from sagging between stands. Competitive systems sag.
5. Lower maintenance costs. Talk to our customers - Then talk to theirs!
6. Better Performance! This isn't just talk. Ask your feed company to show you records from a Big Dutchman system to compare to a competitive system.
7. Big Dutchman high lip feed trough is designed to reduce spillage into the walkways. Look at a competitors walkway and measure the thickness of wasted feed.
8. Your old hoppers aren't wore out. Save money and reuse them on your new system.
9. We have our own installation crews to be sure the equipment is properly installed. Competition hires outside crews.
10. Eggs move gently from the birds, to the belts and thru the collector unit. The eggs are not like balls in a bowling alley as in some competitive systems.
11. Incredible! New left hand drive allows feed chain to travel up to 120 F.P.M.
12. Your present gearboxes and motors can be re-used to save money.
13. The Big Dutchman chain feeder gives 2½ times more feeder space than the grind auger.
14. It's a proven fact. Chain feeder systems use less electricity.
15. Big Dutchman has a stronger cage top and front than competitive cages.
16. The sliding door on a Big Dutchman system is easy to open and close and it stays closed.
17. The Big Dutchman collector is the best there is. Don't accept an imitation.
18. Our cage design allows eggs to roll front and out of the cage, not get stepped on and cracked by birds as in competitive cages.
19. Big Dutchman systems provides a bigger percentage of larger eggs for a longer period of time.

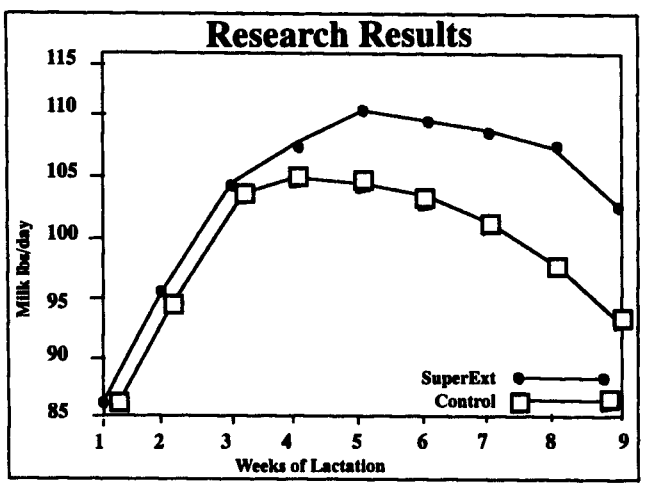
SUPER-EXT

A dairy feed that could make your cows more productive, while also improving their feed conversion and breeding efficiency.

SUPER-EXT is a blend of high fat nuggets and pellets specially designed and manufactured by Purina to deliver feed quality, nutrient density and super palatability. The nutrient-rich blend is placed with complete nutrition and is highly palatable.

In field trials, cows fed SUPER-EXT produced an average of 6.7 pounds more milk per cow per day, while improving or maintaining milk composition. And while porduction increased, the cows that were fed SUPER-EXT maintained or improved their body-condition scores after freshening and were more-feed efficient.



Research Results
	Milk	Milk lbs/day	Milk Protein lbs/day
Control Average Production	100	3.24	2.83
Super-Ext Average Production	107	3.47	2.86
Average Improvement Per Cow	+7	+.23	+.03

Consider All The Benefits Of SUPER-EXT

- Increased milk production
- Good milk composition
- Good body condition
- Improved feed efficiency
- Improved breeding efficiency
- More income opportunity!
